SECTION IV

This section is provided as an aid in describing the individual. Your description is not favorable or unfavorable in itself but acquires its meaning in relation to a particular job or assignment. The descriptive words are to be interpreted literally.

On the left hand side of the page below are a series of statements that apply in some degree to most people. On the right hand side of the page are four major categories of descriptions. The scale for each category is divided into three small blocks; this is to allow you to make finer distinctions if you so desire. Look at the statement on the left - then check the category on the right which best tells how much the statement applies to the person you are rating. Placing an "X" in the "Not Observed" column means you have no opinion on whether a phrase applies to an individual. Placing an "X" in the "Does Not Apply" column means that you have the definite opinion that the description is not at all suited to the individual.

SECTION IV

This section is provided as an aid in describing the individual. Your description is not favorable or unfavorable in itself but acquires its meaning in relation to a particular job or assignment. The descriptive words are to be interpreted literally.

On the left hand side of the page below are a series of statements that apply in some degree to most people. On the right hand side of the page are four major categories of descriptions. The scale within each category is divided into three small blocks; this is to allow you to make finer distinctions if you so desire. Look at the statement on the left - then check the category on the right which best tells how much the statement applies to the person you are rating. Placing an "X" in the "Not Observed" column means you have no opinion on whether a phrase applies to an individual. Placing an "X" in the "Does Not Apply" column means that you have a definite opinion that the description is not at all suited to the individual.

INSTRUCTIONS

GENERAL

1. A STATUS AND EFFICIENCY REPORT COVERING EACH CIVILIAN EMPLOYEE IN THE FIELD WILL BE RENDERED BY SUCH EMPLOYEE AND HIS OR HER IMMEDIATE SUPERVISOR ON 1 JUNE OF EACH YEAR ON THIS FORM. EACH EMPLOYEE WILL EXECUTE ITEMS 1 TO 6 INCLUSIVE OF THE FORM AND DELIVER SAME TO HIS REPORTING OFFICER FOR COMPLETION OF THE EFFICIENCY RATING AND FORWARDING TO WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS NOT LESS THAN 10 DAYS AFTER CLOSE OF REPORTING PERIOD.

A. THE REPORTING OFFICER IS DEFINED AS THE EMPLOYEE'S IMMEDIATE SUPERVISOR. IN OTHER WORDS THE PERSON WHO IS PRESUMABLY BEST ACQUAINTED WITH THE EMPLOYEE'S WORKING EFFICIENCY. HOWEVER, DEPENDING UPON CIRCUMSTANCES, THE CHIEF OF STATION MAY NOT WISH TO ENTRUST THE IMMEDIATE SUPERVISOR WITH THIS RESPONSIBILITY. IN ANY CASE, THE CHIEF OF STATION WILL CHANGE OR MODIFY THE RATING OF THE REPORTING OFFICER WHEN SUCH CHANGES OR MODIFICATIONS ARE CALLED FOR. THE CHIEF OF STATION IS ULTIMATELY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ACCURACY OF FACTS AND STATEMENTS WHICH APPEAR ON THE STATUS AND EFFICIENCY REPORT. IN MANY CASES, ESPECIALLY IN A SMALL UNIT, THE CHIEF OF STATION MAY WISH TO FILL OUT ALL THE REPORTS HIMSELF.

2. IN ADDITION TO THE ANNUAL REPORT, THE FOLLOWING SPECIAL REPORTS, UTILIZING THE SAME FORM, WILL BE RENDERED:

A. UPON COMPLETION OF FIRST NINETY (90) DAYS OF SERVICE AT A STATION.

B. UPON RELIEF OR REASSIGNMENT OF REPORTING SENIOR.

C. UPON DETERMINATION OR RECOMMENDATION THAT AN EMPLOYEE IN A FIELD STATION SHOULD BE REASSIGNED TO ANOTHER STATION OR RETURNED TO U.S. FOR REASSIGNMENT OR OTHER DISPOSITION. SUCH REPORT WILL BE FORWARDED SO AS TO REACH THE WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE DATE AFTER SUCH REASSIGNMENT DETERMINATION IS MADE. IF POSSIBLE, THE REPORT SHOULD BE SENT IN AT LEAST THREE MONTHS PRIOR TO PROPOSED REASSIGNMENT IN ORDER THAT ALL TIME POSSIBLE MAY BE DEVOTED TO APPRAISAL AND EVALUATION. IF CONSIDERATION OF REASSIGNMENT IS BEING GIVEN WITHOUT EMPLOYEE'S KNOWLEDGE, ITEMS 1 TO 6 WILL BE FILLED IN AS FAR AS POSSIBLE BY THE RATING OFFICER WITHOUT REFERRAL TO EMPLOYEE.

3. IN FAIRNESS TO THE INDIVIDUAL BEING RATED AND IN THE INTEREST OF THE GOVERNMENT, THE IMPORTANCE OF CAREFULLY PREPARED AND ACCURATE EFFICIENCY REPORTS CANNOT BE OVERSTRESSED. THE FOLLOWING BASIC PRINCIPLES OF RATING SHOULD ALWAYS BE KEPT IN MIND:

A. ALWAYS BASE YOUR JUDGMENT ON:

(1) WHAT YOU HAVE OBSERVED THE INDIVIDUAL DO OR FAIL TO DO.

(2) TYPICAL PERFORMANCE, NOT ON AN ISOLATED STRIKING INCIDENT.

(3) EXAMPLES RELEVANT TO THE CHARACTERISTIC UNDER CONSIDERATION.

(A) THE EFFICIENCY REPORT IS TO BE USED TO RATE ALL CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES. BUT REPORTING OFFICERS SHOULD BEAR IN MIND THAT DIFFERENT STANDARDS PREVAIL IN DIFFERENT ASSIGNMENTS WHEREAS IT IS NECESSARY, FOR EXAMPLE, THAT AN INTELLIGENCE OFFICER POSSESS INITIATIVE, THIS SAME TRAIT IS NOT ALWAYS DESIRABLE, EXCEPT IN A MINOR WAY, FOR A TYPIST. THE RATINGS AND EVALUATIONS SHOULD BE IN REFERENCE TO THE JOB - THE ACTUAL WORK ASSIGNMENT FOR WHICH THE PARTICULAR EMPLOYEE IS BEING PAID. EVERY EFFORT SHOULD BE MADE TO ARRIVE AT A JUST ESTIMATE OF THE QUALITIES OF THE PERSON REPORTED ON FOR THE PERIOD COVERED BY THE REPORT. AVOID EXAGGERATIONS AND SUPERLATIVES. THEY DETRACT FROM THE VALUE OF A REPORT AND ARE UNFAIR TO OTHERS.

B. BIASED OPINIONS BASED ON PERSONAL LIKES AND DISLIKES MUST BE SCRUPULOUSLY AVOIDED. IT SHOULD BE BORNE IN MIND THAT THE PREPARATION OF EFFICIENCY REPORTS IS AN IMPORTANT FUNCTION OF ALL SUPERVISORS OF EMPLOYEES, AND THE ACCURATE AND TRUE EVALUATIONS EXPRESSED THEREIN ARE A DIRECT REFLECTION UPON HIS OWN ABILITY AND QUALIFICATION FOR THE POSITION HE HOLDS.

C. NO REPORTS WILL BE RENDERED COVERING PERIODS OF LESS THAN 60 DAYS OBSERVED SERVICE.

4. REPORTS WILL NORMALLY BE CLASSIFIED CONFIDENTIAL; HOWEVER, THE CLASSIFICATION MAY BE RAISED IF DEEMED ADVISABLE BY RATING OFFICER.

5. REPORTS WILL NEVER BE SHOWN TO THE EMPLOYEE REPORTED ON.

DISPOSITION OF REPORTS

1. REPORTS WILL BE FORWARDED TO THE APPROPRIATE BRANCH CHIEF IN WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS WITHIN TEN (10) DAYS AFTER THE CLOSE OF THE REPORTING PERIOD.

2. IF THE REPORTING OFFICER IS THE CHIEF OF STATION, REPORTS WILL BE FORWARDED BY HIM TO THE APPROPRIATE BRANCH CHIEF IN WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS.

3. IF THE REPORTING OFFICER IS NOT THE CHIEF OF STATION, THE REPORT WILL BE REFERRED TO THE NEXT IN COMMAND FOR REVIEW AND FINALLY TO THE CHIEF OF STATION FOR FORWARDING TO WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS.

4. UPON RECEIPT OF REPORT IN WASHINGTON HEADQUARTERS, THEY WILL BE REVIEWED BY THE BRANCH CHIEFS PROMPTLY AND THEN REFERRED TO THE ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE FOR PERSONNEL FOR RETENSION IN THE PERSONNEL FILE OF THE EMPLOYEE.

A. IF A CHANGE OF PERSONAL STATUS IS REPORTED UNDER SECTION 6, ONE COPY OF SUCH REPORT WILL BE DETACHED AND SENT TO THE SECURITY OFFICE.

NOTICE OF OFFICIAL EFFICIENCY RATING

REGULAR (X) SPECIAL ( )
PROBATIONAL ( )

As of 3 October 1949 based on performance during period from 3 April '49 to 3 October '49

BROE, William V.
(Name of employee)

Operations Officer (Intelligence Officer) GS-12
(Title of position, service, and grade)

OSO, COPS, FDE, SEA, Division 4
(Organization—Indicate bureau, division, section, unit, and station)

Efficiency rating: "EXCELLENT"

(Signature)

(Date of notification)

Chief, Employees Division
(Title)

Interpretation of Efficiency Rating

Your efficiency rating is an official record of the way you are doing the work of your job.

Excellent (E) means that performance in every important phase of the work was outstanding and there was no weakness in performance in any respect.

Very Good (VG) means that performance in at least half of the important phases of the work was outstanding and there was no weakness in performance in any respect.

Good (G) means that performance met requirements from an over-all point of view.

Fair (F) means that performance did not quite measure up to requirements from an over-all point of view.

Unsatisfactory (U) means that performance in a majority of important phases of the work did not meet job requirements.

Inspection

You are entitled to inspect your efficiency rating sheet (Standard Form 51), or a copy of it, upon request to your supervisor or personnel officer. You are also entitled to inspect the final ratings (not the rating forms) of all employees in your office or station.

Significance of Efficiency Ratings

An efficiency rating of "Good," "Very Good," or "Excellent" is necessary in order to receive a periodic within-grade salary advancement.

An efficiency rating of "Fair" requires a one-step salary reduction if an employee's pay rate is above the middle rate for his grade (the fourth step in six-rate grades).

An efficiency rating of "Unsatisfactory" requires that the employee be dismissed or reassigned to other work in which he could be reasonably expected to render satisfactory service.

Efficiency ratings are a factor in determining the order in which employees are affected by reduction in force.

Appeals

If you believe your rating is wrong, you should first discuss it with your supervisor or personnel officer. You have the right, if your position is subject to the Classification Act, to appeal your rating within certain time limits to a board of review established for your agency. Appeals or requests for additional information concerning appeals should be addressed to the Chairman, Board of Review, care of Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Recommendation for Honor or Merit Award
William V. Broe, Distinguished Intelligence Medal

After an active and successful career as a Special Agent in the FBI, Mr. Broe entered the Agency in June 1948 and was assigned as the Southeast Asia Branch Chief in the Far East Division. His ability to make decisions, work effectively with both supervisors and subordinates, plus his dependability, initiative and attention to the broader aspects of his work were soon noted and have continued to characterize his long and productive career in the CIA.

In recognition of his long range potential, Mr. Broe was assigned to Manila in 1951 as the Chief of Station. In 1953 he was transferred to the important post of Deputy Chief of the China Mission in Japan. Here his leadership qualities were fully demonstrated. His skill in directing an imaginative, aggressive, operational program, while at the same time tempering his actions with mature judgment and smooth management talent, marked him as an officer who could assume even greater responsibilities. At this time his outstanding strength of dealing with people became clearly evident. Mr. Broe was assigned to the Chief of the China Branch in FE Headquarters in 1955. He successfully managed the large, complex branch with a high degree of skill. His enthusiasm for his work was an example for his subordinates.

His superior performance of duty was recognized with his being named the Deputy Chief of the FE Division in 1958. The late Desmond FitzGerald in evaluating Mr. Broe's performance of duty in this position, made the following comments which subsequent supervisors continued to agree with:

> "Mr. Broe is an unusually strong supervisor. His flair for warm but impartial relationships with subordinates has enabled him to develop a first hand understanding of the capabilities, shortcomings and problems of a very large proportion of all FE Division personnel. His direction does not lack firmness but is expressed in such a way that feelings are considered and best results are achieved."

Mr. Broe then was assigned in successive and successful tours of duty as Chief of Station, Tokyo, Chief of the Western Hemisphere Division and finally as the Inspector General of CIA.

In those diverse assignments, Mr. Broe proved to be a valuable advisor and consultant to top policy makers of the United States Government as well as colleague of foreign governments, including Japanese, British and important Latin American government leaders. His handling of one crisis situation after another whether it was in the Far East, Latin America or in Washington, won Mr. Broe the fullest respect for his wise judgment and effective solutions which resulted for the overall benefit of the US Government. During this time, Mr. Broe continued to display his superior understanding of human relations for those working for him, resulting in a high morale for those associated with him and his missions.

In January 1972, Mr. Broe was promoted to the position of Inspector General, a post which recognized and made the fullest use of his wise and enlightened knowledge of the human side of this organization's affairs.

Based on his 26 years of a professional life which has made singular contributions to the national security and on his unique leadership, it is only fitting that upon his retirement Mr. Broe be recognized with the award of the Distinguished Intelligence Medal.

IN TURN

1. I wish to commend and make a matter of record the outstanding support and guidance rendered to this organization by Mr. William V. Broe, Special Assistant to the Ambassador, Tokyo, Japan, from the period of July 1963 to date.

2. Mr. Broe's efforts in support of this organization were exemplary. He gave freely of himself and of the resources at his disposal. In those instances where we were contemplating a new approach to obtaining aerospace data of priority national interest Mr. Broe provided for briefings by his specialists in the denied areas under consideration. His every approach was intended to intelligently present the information available concerning the difficulties to be encountered and rewards to be expected. He always left the United States Air Force personnel concerned secure in the knowledge that he fully supported any promising attempt to acquire data of national interest and that he did all in his power to expedite the acquisition of these data. This resulted in a most favorable operating milieu.

3. In all of our dealings with Mr. Broe, we found him to be friendly, highly objective, unswerving in his demands for professionalism, and a person of honor and integrity. We liked, trusted and respected him. Mr. Broe's demonstrated professionalism and ability to advise, stimulate and coordinate the efforts of the many diverse elements engaged in collection of information reflected favorably upon him and the Intelligence Community of the United States.

Supplement to Staff Employee Personnel

Action for Integration of William V. Broe

Effective 27 April 1961

The purpose of this memorandum is to call your attention to existing policies which are particularly material to you while you are integrated and to set forth certain rights and obligations which are incident to your status as an appointed employee. It is hereby agreed and understood that:

1. As an employee of this organization, at the present grade and salary of GS-16 $15,515 per annum, you will accept cover employment with another instrumentality of the Government (hereinafter referred to as "your cover facility") effective as of 27 April 1961. You will, insofar as consistent with your basic responsibility to this organization, abide by all the rules, regulations, practices and policies of your cover facility, in order to appear as a conventional member of that establishment. Your appointment to your cover facility is being effected at FSR-2 and salary of $15,255 per annum. You are prohibited, except as specifically authorized herein, from retaining emoluments paid by your cover facility.

2. It is understood and agreed that the minimum period of your overseas tour of duty is governed by and coincident with the prescribed tour of duty of your cover organization. Currently, your prescribed tour consists of a period of twenty four months from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty. Your assignment may be terminated earlier for the convenience of this organization and the length of your tour of duty, as currently specified, may be unilaterally changed by this organization in order to conform with subsequent changes in the prescribed tour of your cover facility. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by this organization to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause under the regulations of this organization before you have completed the minimum period of service prescribed above from the date of arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will not be entitled to return travel or transportation for yourself or your dependents to the United States at Government expense. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by this organization to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause under the regulations of this organization before you have completed one (1) year of service from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will be required to reimburse the Government for all of its expenses for your travel and transportation, and that of your dependents, from the continental United States to such overseas post of duty.

Form 1535 Obsolete Previous Edition

3. Travel to your post of duty overseas and your return travel to the United States, as well as travel performed overseas which is consistent with your cover designation, will normally be at the direction of your cover facility. Such travel will be accomplished in conformance with applicable regulations of your cover facility except when you are directed for operational reasons to perform travel in accordance with the regulations of this organization.

4. Salary and (except as provided in paragraph three (3) above) allowances paid by your cover facility shall be retained by you to the extent that they are less than or equal to the salary and allowance payments due on the basis of your grade level with this organization. If such cover payments are less than the amount due, the difference will be credited to your payroll account with this organization. If such cover payments exceed the amount due, the overage will be remitted to this organization at designated intervals, presently _________________________. Computations hereunder will be made on the basis of the aggregate gross due and received provided, however, that in computing remittances for overage Federal and, if applicable, District of Columbia income taxes withheld by your cover facility against the overage may be deducted. To assure timely accuracy in your payroll account with this organization you are expected to immediately report cover facility payroll changes.

5. Your status as an employee of this organization will continue in full force and effect during your period of duty with your cover facility and you will continue to be entitled to all rights, benefits and emoluments of such status. Certain variations in procedure will be required, however, to preserve the security of your cover position.

a. Upon integration into your cover facility, you will continue to be covered by the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, as amended, and at your personal expense you will be subject to payroll deductions for retirement purposes (now six and one-half per cent) on the basis of your cover salary or your salary from this organization, whichever is the greater.

b. If you receive taxable income from both your cover facility and this organization, necessary adjustments for Federal, and if applicable, District of Columbia income tax purposes will be made in conformance with instructions received from this organization.

c. Consistent with your cover activity, you will continue to be responsible for compliance with the rules and regulations of this organization.

d. You are not assured upon the completion of your period of duty with your cover facility of any status with your cover based on your services performed with that organization at the request of this organization.

SECRET

5. A portion of your annual leave and all the sick leave which has accrued to your credit at the time of your integration shall be transferred to your cover facility. The remainder of your leave will be held by this organization in escrow pending the completion of your integration. If the sum of your accumulated annual leave with your cover facility and this organization exceeds the maximum accumulation entitlement afforded you under the regulations of this organization, the excess will be forfeited. If possible, such forfeiture will be accomplished by reducing the leave credit in your escrow account with this organization. While integrated, you will be permitted annual leave, sick leave, home leave, and leave without pay in accordance with the regulations of your cover facility in lieu of the leave benefits of this organization. Upon completion of your integration, your accrued annual and sick leave will be transferred to your credit with this organization. If security conditions require that your cover facility make a lumpsum payment for accrued annual leave, you will be required to pay the gross amount thereof to this organization including income taxes withheld by your cover facility.

6. You will be required to keep forever secret this agreement and all other information which you may obtain by reason hereof, unless you are released in writing by this organization from this obligation. Violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Laws, dated 25 June 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations. The termination of your employment with this organization will not release you from the obligation of any security oath you may be required to take.

AGREEMENT

AGREEMENT made this 20th day of February, 1951, effective the 21st day of February, 1951, by and between the United States of America (hereinafter referred to as the Government), as represented by the Central Intelligence Agency, and William Vincent Broe (hereinafter referred to as the Employee).

RECITALS

A. The Government desires the services of the Employee for CIA under circumstances requiring the Employee to receive a Foreign Service Staff Corps designation from the Department of State and proposes to send the Employee overseas to Manila, Republic of the Philippines for operations in the general area of ____________.

B. The Employee desires as an employee of the Government to serve CIA abroad under the supervision and control of the Assistant Director for Special Operations, CIA, (ADSO) and is willing to accept a designation in the Foreign Service Staff Corps with the obligations thereof.

In consideration of the premises, the mutual covenants and promises herein contained, and for other good and valuable considerations, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I. Relationship of Employee to the Department of State. The Employee, in so far as possible, shall abide by all the rules, regulations, and customs of the Foreign Service of the United States which affect personnel of the Foreign Service Staff Corps in order to appear as a normal member of the Foreign Service establishment.

1. The Employee shall rigidly comply with the provisions of Title X, Part A of the Foreign Service Act of 1946, prohibiting officers and employees of the Foreign Service from:

(a) Wearing uniforms;
(b) Accepting presents from foreign governments;
(c) Engaging in business abroad;
(d) Correspondence on affairs of foreign governments;
(e) Political, racial, religious, or color discrimination.

2. The Chief of the Foreign Service establishment and certain other key members of his staff will know about the Employee's status and relationship under the terms of the TOP SECRET agreement between the Department of State and CIA. Other personnel may discover that there are certain irregularities in travel orders, position numbers, pay accounts, and other internal administrative procedures of the Foreign Service. Nevertheless, the Employee shall not divulge his relationship to CIA except with the expressed approval of the ADSO. While serving abroad, he shall for normal administration be under the control of the Chief of the Foreign Service establishment to which he is attached, but for operations, including travel as specified below, he shall be under the control of CIA.

3. The travel of the Employee shall be governed as follows:

(a) For temporary duty outside the continental limits of the United States within or beyond the Employee's stipulated area, he shall perform CIA operational travel as directed by the ADSO or his designee with the consent of the Chiefs of the Foreign Service establishment involved. TD travel customary and necessary in the performance of routine Foreign Service Staff functions may be performed without clearance from the ADSO.

(b) For any travel to the United States, either temporary duty or permanent change of station, the Employee shall travel only at the direction of the ADSO after clearance has been arranged through the State Department in Washington.

(c) All travel will be directed and performed in accordance with Foreign Service rules and regulations.

4. Although the Employee's Foreign Service Staff Corps title, location, appointment, Foreign Service class, and other pertinent information may be published in the Foreign Service list and other publications of the Department of State, such listings shall not affect his employment and the obligations and duties stipulated in this contract.

5. All payments to be made under this contract, including reimbursement for travel expenses, shall be made to the Employee by the Department of State except payments referred to in ARTICLE II, Section 4.

ARTICLE II. Relationship of Employee to CIA. Although for all intents and purposes it will appear as though the Employee is employed by the Department of State as indicated in ARTICLE I above, he shall in fact be employed by and under the operational control of CIA. In so far as possible, he will be expected to abide by the rules, regulations, customary practices, and courtesies of the Foreign Service, but his ultimate responsibility will be to CIA. In the event of any conflict of authority in the field between the Department of State and CIA, the matter shall be referred to the ADSO for resolution.

1. The line of authority for the Employee shall be as follows:

(a) Senior Representative of OSO at Foreign Service establishment.
(b) OSO Foreign Branch Chief in Washington.
(c) Chief of Operations, OSO.
(d) ADSO
(e) Director of CIA.

2. All travel shall be directed by the ADSO in accordance with ARTICLE I, Section 3. The Employee shall request appropriate Foreign Service clearance for travel through the Senior OSO Representative at the Foreign Service establishment, who shall be responsible for arranging such clearance.

3. It is understood and agreed that the Employee's overseas assignment is to be for a minimum period of two years from the date of his arrival at his overseas post of duty, unless terminated by the Government for its convenience. If the assignment is terminated in less than twenty-four months at the Employee's request, the following shall prevail:

(a) If the Employee resigns in less than twelve months from the date of his arrival at his overseas post of duty, he shall reimburse CIA for all travel expenses involved in the transportation of himself, his immediate family, household goods, and personal effects to the foreign station, and pay all such expenses for return to the United States. Such expenses for return to the United States and amounts expended by the Government on account of such travel and transportation shall be considered a debt due by the Employee to the United States.

(b) If the Employee desires to terminate between the twelfth and twenty-fourth month from the date of his arrival at his overseas post of duty, he shall pay all expenses for the travel and transportation of himself, his immediate family, household goods, and personal effects to the United States.

4. If deemed necessary by CIA, the Employee may be reimbursed or advanced funds for operational expenses. Such amounts must be advanced or reimbursement made in accordance with CIA regulations, which require a full accounting of the amounts expended by the Employee. Therefore, the Employee will be required to account fully for any such funds advanced or reimbursed in accordance with CIA regulations.

ARTICLE III. Overseas Allowances and Transportation Expenses. When specifically authorized by the ADSO, the expenses of travel and transportation of the Employee, his immediate family, household goods and effects, including personally owned automobile and other allowances, will be paid the Employee in accordance with the Foreign Service Act of 1946 and regulations issued thereunder by the Department of State. When authorized by the ADSO, the Employee shall be paid a quarters allowance, cost of living allowance, or special foreign living allowance in accordance with the Foreign Service Act of 1946 and regulations issued thereunder. The amount of quarters and cost of living allowances and the special foreign living allowance is set forth in Bureau of the Budget Circular A-8, which is amended periodically to reflect adjustments in [illegible]

ARTICLE IV. Annual and Sick Leave. The Employee shall be permitted annual leave, sick leave, and leave of absence in accordance with Title IX, Part D of the Foreign Service Act of 1946. Under such Act, the Employee may be granted not to exceed sixty calendar days annual leave of absence with pay in each year. Annual leave which the Employee may receive and which is not used in any one year shall be accumulated for succeeding years until it totals 180 days. Sick leave with pay may be granted to the Employee at the rate of fifteen calendar days each calendar year and may be accumulated for succeeding years until it totals 1[illegible] days.

1. If the Employee is transferred from another Government agency to this position, any annual or sick leave standing to his credit in such Agency, may be transferred, if appropriate, in accordance with E. O. [illegible], 27 March 1947 issued pursuant to Section 9[illegible] of the Foreign Service Act of 1946.

ARTICLE VI. Retirement. The Employee occupies a position within the purview of the Civil Service Retirement Act. ARTICLE VII. Medical Care and Hospitalization. In the event of illness or injury to the Employee requiring hospitalization not the result of vicious habit, intemperance, or misconduct on his part, and incurred in the line of duty while assigned abroad, the expenses of treatment of such illness or injury at a suitable hospital or clinic, and transportation expenses to such hospital or clinic may be paid by the Government in accordance with Title IX, Part E of the Foreign Service Act of 1946. Under appropriate regulations, a physical examination of the Employee will be made, together with necessary inoculations, or vaccinations, or the expense thereof will be paid to the Employee.

1. In the event of the death or disability of the Employee, the Employee or his dependents shall be afforded the benefits of the United States Employees' Compensation Act of 7 September 1916, as amended ARTICLE VIII. Equipment. The Employee may be furnished technical equipment and supplies to assist in the rendition of services hereunder, including an automobile where necessary. ARTICLE IX. Salary. The Employee shall receive a basic salary of $7,710.00 FSS-3 per year in accordance with Section 415 of the Foreign Service Act of 1946. In-class promotions shall be granted to the Employee in accordance with regulations established by the Department of State pursuant to Title VI, Part [illegible], Section [illegible] of the Foreign Service Act of 1946. ARTICLE X. Continuance of Pay and Allowances. If the Employee is determined by CIA to be absent in a status of "Missing", "Missing in Action", "Interned in a Neutral Country", "Captured by an Enemy", "Beleaguered", or "Besieged" he shall for the period he is determined to be in any such status be entitled to receive or to have credited to his account the same pay and allowances to which he was entitled at the beginning of such period of absence. In general, his relations with private organizations shall be governed by applicable Foreign Service Regulations.

2. Neither the Employee nor the members of his family shall act as correspondents for American or foreign newspapers, press syndicates, or associations unless special authorization has been obtained in advance from the ADSO. 5. Before contracting marriage with a person of foreign nationality, the Employee shall request and obtain permission from the appropriate officials in both the Department of State and CIA. Any such marriage with an alien without obtaining advance permission shall be deemed a breach of this contract and shall result in termination of service with the Government.

6. In the event the Employee desires to resign from the service overseas, he shall submit a written resignation addressed to the ADSO, who will take appropriate steps to clear the matter with the Department of State.

ARTICLE XII. Security. This contract contains information affecting the national defense of the United States within the meaning of the Espionage Act (50 U.S.C. 31 and 32, as amended). Its transmission or the revelation of its contents in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law. Violation of this ARTICLE or any security agreement signed by the Employee with the Government shall result in immediate disciplinary action, which may include suspension, separation from Government service, and may subject the Employee to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Act.

1. The termination of this contract will not release the Employee from the provisions of any security oaths which he may be required to take by CIA.

2. The Employee shall not publish, transmit, or divulge in any manner, information received by him as the result of his employment by the Government under this contract without specific written authority from the Director, CIA.

No promises or commitments to the Employee of any nature whatsoever, beyond and in addition to the terms hereof, shall be binding on the Government unless and until such promise or commitment is reduced to writing and approved by an authorized official of CIA, and such writing placed with this contract thereby becoming an amendment hereto.

ARTICLE XIV. Amendments. The Government may at any time amend this contract and may terminate this contract upon thirty day prior notice to the Employee. If the Government proposes to amend this contract by reducing the salary provided for in ARTICLE IX (including class promotions, or other authorized increases, if any) and such reduction is unacceptable to the Employee, resignation by the Employee for such reason shall be considered as a termination of this contract for the convenience of the Government. Where the Employee is directed to proceed to a new post on a permanent change of station by the ATSO, this contract will be deemed to have been amended to the extent of such change.

SECRET

ARTICLE XV. Special Provisions. The following special provisions shall apply to the Employee under this contract:

5. Status. You are not an employee of the United States Government under this agreement and are not entitled to any benefits normally incident to an employee status.

6. Secrecy. You will be required to keep forever secret this contract and all information which you may obtain by reason hereof (unless released in writing by the Government from such obligation), with full knowledge that violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Laws, dated 25 June 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations.

7. Instructions. Instructions received by you from the Government in briefing or otherwise are a part of this contract and are incorporated herein, provided that such instructions are not inconsistent with the terms hereof.

8. Unauthorized Commitments. No promises or commitments pertaining to rights, privileges or benefits other than those expressly stipulated in writing in this agreement or any amendment thereto shall be binding on the Government.

9. Term. This contract is effective as of 5 June 1959, and shall continue thereafter for a period of one (1) year unless sooner terminated either:

(a) By thirty (30) days' actual notice by either party hereto, or

MEMORANDUM FOR: Office of Training Registrar

THROUGH : TO/ORD

SUBJECT : Evaluation of Contract Management Institute Course

1. I attended the Contract Management Institute on 28 to 31 March 1967. Immediately after that course I submitted extensive comments to Mr. Arthur Leach, DD/S&T coordinator for the course, and I understand that those comments were included in the overall recommendations for future changes.

2. Since three and one-half months have transpired since completion of that course, details such as the names of speakers and subject material are a bit hazy but I will repeat my overall reaction to it for whatever benefit it might afford. The course material was good although it could have been oriented much more toward technical project managers rather than administrative officers, to the ultimate benefit of DD/S&T. Two of the speakers were excellent; however, the third, who also was apparently Director of the Institute was very poor both with respect to his understanding of the material and his presentation. Dr. Kennedy of Notre Dame and the lawyer, whose name I do not recall, were excellent.

3. This was primarily a sales pitch for CPIF contracts. My personal impression was that U.S. Government contracting agencies have just about completed the circle of a great procurement fiasco. In departing from fixed-price and CPFF contracts to CPIF's with various award arrangements, the contract negotiators were unable to really ever define cost and ended up invariably in giving away additional fees to the contractors for nothing received. Definitive costs were always a function of experienced and sound technical investigation and management of a contract and whenever costs followed a nonlinear curve, most estimates became almost completely unpredictable. NASA and the DoD generally have, therefore, gone from CPIF types to CPAF-type contracts; the CPAF type ends up being simply another CPFF but with the contractor having the advantage in the establishment of an award fee and with the Government having no recourse to redetermination. My reaction was simply that the DoD experience simply reaffirms my own -- that for R&D there appears to be no good substitute for a well-managed CPFF-type arrangement.

MEMORANDUM FOR: David L. Christ

VIA : Chief, TSS

1. The problem of effective management of the operational records of the Clandestine Services is one of our most important responsibilities. In this connection, you have been selected by your Division, and authorized by the Clandestine Services Records Committee, to act as Records Officer for your component. Your selection is based on your professional qualifications to carry out an assignment requiring experience, judgment, and a knowledge of the objectives of the Clandestine Services. A copy of this memorandum will be placed in your official personnel folder to record your appointment as Records Officer.

2. You are to act on behalf of your Division or Staff element in authorizing the destruction of material of no value to the Clandestine Services in accordance with criteria established for this purpose. You are empowered to authorize the destruction of documents and index cards recommended for destruction by other members of your Branch, and to desensitize KAPOK and RYBAT material which is no longer sensitive or which has been restricted in error. Your signature will be recognized by RID as that of an officially appointed Records Officer.

3. At the meeting of 26 August 1958 , you were briefed on the details of your duties as Records Officer. It is now considered that you will be able fully to execute your duties as Records Officer and thus make a real contribution to the CS Records Management Program.

Mr. Christ continues to lead the Applied Physics Division in a progressive, responsive and aggressive manner. Some turbulence is occasionally generated by this vigorous leadership; however, the record of solid and potential accomplishments by his group continues to be impressive. On balance, his creative, forward-looking leadership ~~continues to~~ be a talent suited for the goals and missions of this Office.

The technological innovations established in his Division are continuing to lead to a variety of items of great potential value to the Intelligence Community. His aggressive search for and application of other-agency funds has directly saved this Agency many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

Mr. Christ will be retiring 30 November 1970. Prior to 1970 he has generally been considered a capable officer and the list of his accomplishments during his Agency career is not unimpressive. Christ's performance, particularly in the last six months, however, has revealed critical weakness in judgment, discretion and self-evaluation. These flaws have been called to Christ's attention by me personally, and I deem them sufficiently serious that were it not for his proposed retirement I would be constrained to seek other means to separate him from Agency employment.

Mr. Christ continues to lead the Applied Physics Division in a progressive, responsive, and aggressive manner. The record of solid accomplishments by the group of which he is the leader continues to be impressive and his creative, forward-looking leadership is a talent well suited for the goals and missions of this Office.

The technological base established in his Division through many of its prior projects is expected to lead to a variety of items of great value to the Intelligence Community and the Nation. His aggressive search for and application of other-agency funds has directly saved this Agency many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

If extra space is needed to complete Section C, attach a separate sheet of paper.

During the past year Mr. Christ has attempted to consolidate the large areas of responsibility in his Applied Physics Division which now encompasses effort in positive audio surveillance, countermeasures, micropower and micro-technology, and emplacement. He continues to be conscientious, responsive, and aggressive in the management and development of these technical programs. Further, during the past year giant strides have been taken in the coordination of many of these efforts with their eventual consumers. This coordination has been above and beyond that required by existing Agency regulations.

His managerial talents encompass a wide range of activities and it must be acknowledged that they are responsible in large measure for many of the forward-looking, highly productive programs under his direction. On occasion his enthusiasm for some of the Division efforts tends to lead to over-acceleration in some cases where perhaps careful reassessment would be in order. However, his generally cooperative and thoughtful exercise of initiative has resulted in truly large steps forward in technical areas where the cost effectiveness cannot yet be determined. His judicious application of other-agency funds has directly saved this Agency many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Christ received a QSI for his efforts during this reporting period.

During the past year, Mr. Christ has expanded his responsibilities for his Applied Physics Division, which now encompasses effort in positive audiosurveillance, countermeasures, micropower-microtechnology, and emplacement problems. He continues to be conscientious, responsive, and aggressive in the management and development of the technical programs under his direction and supervision.

His managerial talents encompass a wide range of activities, and it must be acknowledged that they are responsible, in large measure, for the forward-looking, highly productive programs under his direction.

His cost consciousness is best exemplified by his detailed planning and charting of cost, time, and technical details in a variety of complex areas. He has taken the lead in solving many involved, detailed and intricate interface and coordination problems with virtually all other technical groups within the Agency.

I expect a high degree of intelligence pay-off as a result of programs under his supervision.

OFFICE OF PERSONNEL

Mr. Christ has been under my direct supervision for 2-1/2 years during the continuing period of growth and expansion in the Office of Research and Development, in which he played a major role. During the past year, Mr. Christ has given up his responsibilities in the Radio-Physics area and has devoted himself to expansion and growth problems of the Audio-Physics Division, which encompasses effort in positive audiosurveillance, countermeasures, and emplacement problems.

Mr. Christ continues to be conscientious, responsive, and alert to the needs of the Agency in terms of the substantive content of technical programs under his direction and supervision. He couples this with a vigorous managerial attitude that encompasses the recruiting, programming, coordination, and other factors necessary to implement these programs in an effective manner. His cost-consciousness is a continuing effort throughout the year and is best exemplified by his careful over-all planning and charting of total program efforts in order that projects lead directly to productive intelligence efforts.

Mr. Christ has had an unusually difficult position in one respect, in that his technical surveillance effort was a major interface area with the DD/P in a realm where political and bureaucratic considerations could have deleteriously affected the content of his programs. He handled these problems in a manner that was favorable for the over-all good of the Agency in terms of technical progress in numerous areas and which far exceeded what might be called "par" for the course.

Mr. Christ has been under my direct supervision for about eighteen months, during a continuing period of growth and expansion in the Office of Research and Development. During most of the past year Mr. Christ has doubled as group leader of the Radio-Physics area and has had responsibility for the tremendous growth of a separate Audio-Physics group, both of which continue to comprise about 40% of the effort of the Physical Sciences portion of the Office. Mr. Christ has performed these duties in a mangerial capacity in an extremely effective manner, so that both groups are well developed and capable of continuing growth on a self-sustaining basis.

Mr. Christ is extremely conscientious, receptive, and alert to the needs of the Agency in terms of the substantive content of technical programs under his direction and supervision. His cost consciousness is a continuing effort throughout the year, and is best demonstrated by the manner in which he has reprogrammed funds internally and reduced the costs of a number of contracts. Also, he is not one to "rubber-stamp" approval of contractor efforts, and has called several of them to task this year for what he considered efforts below what he felt their capabilities should be.

Mr. Christ has been under my direct supervision for about six months, during a difficult period of growth, expansion, and change in the Office of Research and Development. During the process of reorganization of the Office, Mr. Christ has emerged as acting group leader of both the Radio-Physics and Audio-Physics areas of effort, which comprise about 40% of the effort in the Physical Sciences portion of the Office.

Considering his geographical location for the previous three years, Mr. Christ has done a remarkable job in organizing the Radio-Physics effort and in developing a new effort in Audio-Physics which promises to be one of the major programs in the Office. All of this required that he exercise considerable initiative and judgment in the delegation of responsibility for existing projects and in the formulation and organization of new projects with an extremely under-manned staff.

Mr. Christ was extremely imaginative, vigorous, enthusiastic, and responsive in the performance of these difficult assignments, and demonstrated very clear ability to manage programs and develop teamwork against these continuing and new objectives. In the development of the organizations necessary to implement these programs, Mr. Christ has demonstrated a high degree of cost consciousness by organizing personnel of the two groups so that with a limited staff they could operate in both programs, and by vigorously combing the country to locate the best contractors to implement the program and to seek advice as to appropriate sources for such procurement.

Amplify or explain, if appropriate, ratings given in SECTIONS B, C, and D to provide the best basis for determining future personnel actions.

Sep 16

Subject is a technical man who combines a taste for action with professional competence, producing excellent leadership for the specialized branch he heads. His treatment of personnel is direct, frank, unusually honest and just. He helps the men and their families in times of trouble and personal difficulties and has earned their respect for his technical competence. He is imaginative and bold in his approach to the responsibilities of his branch and is a fertile source of ideas. He has driven hard towards raising professional standards.

Although he is a good innovator, he sometimes pushes harder on new approaches than on completion of programs in being, and on occasion his devotion to a program leads him to heavy emphasis on it and too little on other aspects equally as important. However, this was in the earlier part of the rated period rather than recently. I believe he will continue to grow with his job and that he can undertake more responsible and broader assignments.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

Christ contributed very substantially to the conception and establishment of EARWORT, the program under which TSD procures and supplies audio equipment for field use. He is learning how to convert the intense enthusiasm which he has at the start of a project to the steady continuous push required to carry the work through to completion.

Describe, if appropriate, his potential for development and for assuming greater responsibilities. Amplify or explain, if appropriate, ratings given in SECTIONS B, C, and D to provide the best basis for determining future personnel actions.

Mr. Christ is an excellent Chief of our Audio Support Division. He is a leader of men, is loyal to his superiors, and is technically professional in his work.

Mr. Christ has one short coming, which is not of his own making--he lacks field experience--only because his superiors have felt his services were more needed at Headquarters. It is some times hard for him to understand the operational aspects of things as outlined by his assistants. To his credit it must be said he realizes this lack of field experience and uses the advice of his men to best advantage.

As soon as feasable he should be assigned to a responsible position at one of our overseas bases.

This section is provided as an aid in describing the individual. Your description is not favorable or unfavorable in itself but acquires its meaning in relation to a particular job or assignment. The descriptive words are to be interpreted literally.

On the left hand side of the page below are a series of statements that apply in some degree to most people. On the right hand side of the page are four major categories of descriptions. Each category is divided into three small blocks; this is to allow you to make finer distinctions if you so desire. Look at the statement on the left - then check the category on the right which best tells how much the statement applies to the person you are rating. Placing an "X" in the "Not Observed" column means you have no opinion on whether a phrase applies to an individual. Placing an "X" in the "Does Not Apply" column means that you have the definite opinion that the description is not at all suited to the individual.

SECTION IV

This section is provided as an aid in describing the individual. Your description is not favorable or unfavorable in itself but acquires its meaning in relation to a particular job or assignment. The descriptive words are to be interpreted literally.

On the left hand side of the page below are a series of statements that apply in some degree to most people. On the right hand side of the page are four major categories of descriptions. The scale within each category is divided into three small blocks; this is to allow you to make finer distinctions if you so desire. Look at the statement on the left - then check the category on the right which best tells how much the statement applies to the person you are rating. Placing an "X" in the "Not Observed" column means you have no opinion on whether a phrase applies to an individual. Placing an "X" in the "Does Not Apply" column means that you have the definite opinion that the description is not at all suited to the individual.

SECTION V

A. WHAT ARE HIS OUTSTANDING STRENGTHS?

Mr. Christ is particularily cooperative and dependable. He can accurately report events observed or reproduce, in writing, the facts associated with monitored contracts, Agency briefings, general liaison, etc. He has been very helpful in organizing the administrative procedures, the files and the engineering project procedures for the division.

B. WHAT ARE HIS OUTSTANDING WEAKNESSES?

Mr. Christ's outstanding weakness results from his limited formal technical training which in several cases is not as extensive as is the training of men that he is supervising. He has off-set this short-coming to some extent by experience, good judgement, and his interest in and his response to the opinions of others.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Personnel

THROUGH: Deputy Director for Science and Technology

SUBJECT: Recommendation for Quality Step Increase - David L. Christ

1. It is recommended that Mr. David L. Christ, Chief of the Applied Physics Division, Office of Research and Development, be granted a Quality Step Increase from GS-16, step 6, to GS-16, step 7.

2. Mr. Christ entered on duty with the Agency on 16 November 1950. He transferred to ORD from the DD/P as a GS-16 in September, 1963. During the past four and one-half years he has assumed increasing responsibilities and has expertly implemented and fulfilled the objectives for which his Division was formed in the early growth period of the Office. Although he has performed equally as well, and perhaps better than, many of his equivalent Division chiefs within the Office, the supergrade T.O. limitation within the Office has prevented a raise other than the Legislative pay raises.

3. Mr. Christ is considered to be a key individual in ORD. His energy, initiative, and enthusiasm in developing concepts and applying managerial talents make his services to this Office invaluable. In particular, his development of audio surveillance, micropowermicrotechnology, audio countermeasures, and emanations intelligence areas of effort within his Division make this Quality Step Increase long overdue, in my opinion.

Form 61 constitutes an affidavit for both purposes and is acceptable proof of citizenship status in the absence of conflicting evidence. In doubtful cases the appointment should not be consummated until clearance has been secured from the certifying office of the Civil Service Commission.

(4) Members of Family.—Section 9 of the Civil Service Act provides that whenever there are already two or more members of a family serving under probational or permanent appointment in the competitive service, no other member of such family is eligible for probational or permanent appointment in the competitive service. The appointments of persons entitled to veteran preference are not subject to this requirement. The members-of-family provision does not apply to temporary appointments. Doubtful cases may be referred to the appropriate office of the Civil Service Commission for decision.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Operations

SUBJECT: Recommendation for Promotion to Grade GS-15
Thomas J. Keenan

1. WH Division recommends that Mr. Thomas J. Keenan be promoted to GS-15.

2. Mr. Keenan has been serving as COS, Kingston since October 1973. He was selected for this important position as a result of the high level of performance turned in by him in his previous field tour as Deputy Chief of Station, Lima. In Kingston he has inherited a Station in which, because of circumstances beyond control of Agency personnel, the incumbent faces enormous operational and circumstantial difficulties. The Ambassador was declared persona-non-grata last summer and concomitantly both the attitude of the local security services with which we conduct liaison and the attitude of Jamaican personalities of import has become increasingly hostile. Mr. Keenan thus faces a great challenge in rebuilding operational activities practically from scratch. In spite of the short time in which he has been in place he is off to a promising start and has already demonstrated the qualities of leadership and imagination which we expected of him. He has shown soundness in directing his two subordinate officers and in counseling them on how to achieve desired objectives in specific operational situations. He has likewise maintained excellent relations with the acting principal officer who in turn has shown himself to be a strong supporter of the Station's efforts.

3. It is noteworthy that Mr. Keenan has been able to maintain the Station's morale at an acceptable level in the face of the extremely difficult law and order situation in Kingston where personnel must live in constant daily fear for the well-being of their dependents.

MEMORANDUM FOR JIM LUDLUM

SUBJECT: COURTESIES EXTENDED BY CIA PERSONNEL DURING MY RECENT TRIP TO LATIN AMERICA

I want to thank you most sincerely for the courtesies extended by your Station Chiefs and other personnel during my recent visit to Latin America.

Without exception, your people were most gracious and helpful.

They were also forthright with respect to both their activities and their problems in dealing with the narcotics target.

It was quite apparent that you and Ted Shackley have succeeded in conveying to the field the message about what the Agency is supposed to be doing in the drug field.

If the appropriate occasion should arise, I would appreciate your conveying my appreciation to Messrs. Horton, Kiyonaga, Reife, Keenan, Thayer, Dickens and Millian.

Supplement to Staff Employee Personnel

Action for Integration of Mr. Thomas J. Keenan

Effective May 3, 1967

The purpose of this memorandum is to call your attention to existing policies which are particularly material to you while you are integrated and to set forth certain rights and obligations which are incident to your status as an appointed employee. It is hereby agreed and understood that:

1. As an employee of this organization, at the present grade and salary of GS-12 & $11,685 , per annum, you will accept cover employment with another instrumentality of the Government (hereinafter referred to as "your cover facility") effective as of MAY 3, 1967. You will, insofar as consistent with your basic responsibility to this organization, abide by all the rules, regulations, practices and policies of your cover facility, in order to appear as a conventional member of that establishment. Your appointment to your cover facility is being effected at FSR-6 and salary of $11,358 per annum. You are prohibited, except as specifically authorized herein, from retaining emoluments paid by your cover facility.

2. It is understood and agreed that the minimum period of your overseas tour of duty is governed by and coincident with the prescribed tour of duty of your cover organization. Currently, your prescribed tour consists of a period of two years from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty. Your assignment may be terminated earlier for the convenience of this organization and the length of your tour of duty, as currently specified, may be unilaterally changed by this organization in order to conform with subsequent changes in the prescribed tour of your cover facility. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by this organization to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause under the regulations of this organization before you have completed the minimum period of service prescribed above from the date of arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will not be entitled to return travel or transportation for yourself or your dependents to the United States at Government expense. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by this organization to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause under the regulations of this organization before you have completed one (1) year of service from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will be required to reimburse the Government for all of its expenses for your travel and transportation, and that of your dependents, from the continental United States to such overseas post of duty.

3. Travel to your post of duty overseas and your return travel to the United States, as well as travel performed overseas which is consistent with your cover designation, will normally be at the direction of your cover facility. Such travel will be accomplished in conformance with applicable regulations of your cover facility except when you are directed for operational reasons to perform travel in accordance with the regulations of this organization.

4. Salary and (except as provided in paragraph three (3) above) allowances paid by your cover facility shall be retained by you to the extent that they are less than or equal to the salary and allowance payments due on the basis of your grade level with this organization. If such cover payments are less than the amount due, the difference will be credited to your payroll account with this organization. If such cover payments exceed the amount due, the overage will be remitted to this organization at designated intervals, presently ______________________. Computations hereunder will be made on the basis of the aggregate gross due and received provided, however, that in computing remittances for overage Federal and, if applicable, District of Columbia income taxes withheld by your cover facility against the overage may be deducted. To assure timely accuracy in your payroll account with this organization you are expected to immediately report cover facility payroll changes.

5. Your status as an employee of this organization will continue in full force and effect during your period of duty with your cover facility and you will continue to be entitled to all rights, benefits and emoluments of such status. Certain variations in procedure will be required, however, to preserve the security of your cover position.

a. Upon integration into your cover facility, you will continue to be covered by the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, as amended, and at your personal expense you will be subject to payroll deductions for retirement purposes (now six and one-half per cent) on the basis of your cover salary or your salary from this organization, whichever is the greater.

b. If you receive taxable income from both your cover facility and this organization, necessary adjustments for Federal, and if applicable, District of Columbia income tax purposes will be made in conformance with instructions received from this organization.

c. Consistent with your cover activity, you will continue to be responsible for compliance with the rules and regulations of this organization.

d. You are not assured upon the completion of your period of duty with your cover facility of any status with your cover based on your services performed with that organization at the request of this organization.

5. All annual and sick leave which is accrued to your credit at the time of integration will be transferred to your cover facility. While integrated you will be permitted annual leave, sick leave, home leave, and leave without pay in accordance with the regulations of your cover facility in lieu of the leave benefits of this organization. Upon completion of your integration your accrued annual and sick leave will be transferred to your credit with this organization. If security conditions require that your cover facility make a lump-sum payment for accrued annual leave, you will be required to pay the gross amount thereof to this organization including any income taxes withheld by your cover facility.

6. You will be required to keep forever secret this agreement and all other information which you may obtain by reason hereof, unless you are released in writing by this organization from this obligation. Violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Laws, dated 25 June 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations. The termination of your employment with this organization will not release you from the obligation of any security oath you may be required to take.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Secretary, CSCS Panel, Section A

SUBJECT : Recommendation for Promotion:
Thomas J. Keenan

1. The promotion of Mr. Thomas J. Keenan to GS-13 is strongly recommended. Mr. Keenan embodies the principal qualities of the all-around operations officer. He is intelligent, perceptive and analytical. He quickly grasps the essentials of a problem. He is aggressive, very industrious, and always works effectively. His field experience consists of two tours of duty in Mexico where he began as a junior case officer and developed rapidly to the point where he was handling an extremely heavy load of important and complex cases. He operated against Soviet Bloc and related targets, ran support projects, surveillance teams, and technical operations. The experience he gained was broad in nature. Also involved was the supervision of up to 30 people, including other officers and indigenous personnel and agents. Mr. Keenan himself responds extremely well to enlightened supervision and is quick to profit from the guidance of his supervisors.

2. For the past two years Mr. Keenan has worked on the FI Staff of the WH Division providing supervision and guidance for FI/CI activities of the Division. He has been most effective in this role which requires dealing on a day-to-day basis with officers, many of whom are senior to him.

3. He participated as the Number 2 man on a Headquarters Task Force supporting the President's visit to Mexico last year. His work was highly effective. Mr. Keenan demonstrated a thorough knowledge of Headquarters' procedures and an ability to get things done. Mr. Keenan will shortly be assigned as Operations Officer to Bogota, Colombia where there are targets of an increasingly serious nature requiring highly professional operational approaches.

4. Based on his experience and proven ability demonstrated by sound accomplishments as a case officer and as a Headquarters staff assistant, Mr. Keenan is regarded as having superior potential. It is recommended that he be promoted to GS-13.

SUBJECT: TDY in the Dominican Republic

Most of you who went down to the Dominican Republic departed with so much speed and so little ceremony that there was no time to explain the importance and urgency of your assignments. Now that you have served there during the crisis, the importance of the task needs no embellishment from us, but you should know that the contribution of the augmented Station was decisive in shaping the policies and actions of the government and in avoiding several major mistakes. For weeks after the April revolution, our Station reporting was literally the only source of information that the United States had on the role of Communism among the rebel forces and on conditions outside the capital.

Many fine things were done in the Station and in the hinterland by all of you. Manning the check-points under fire, flying to remote and hostile villages, moving tons of supplies through the gauntlet of the communications line, toiling over midnight reports, and keeping open our country's only commo link -- all these things were commonplace. The dedication, discipline, and routine of our personnel placed them in a class apart.

To the sense of pride and accomplishment you must already feel, I want to add the gratitude and admiration of the DDP and of the Agency.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Secretary, CSCS Panel (Section B)

SUBJECT : Recommendation for Promotion to Grade GS-12
Mr. Thomas J. Keenan

1. It is recommended that Thomas J. Keenan be promoted to GS-12.

2. Mr. Keenan is thirty-four years old and has been with the Agency since 1957. While in grade as GS-11 only for the past year or so, he has been performing at a level even higher than the proposed GS-12 for more than three years, supervising the activities of up to twenty-five agents including a GS-13 contract agent.

3. The following quotation from the latest annual fitness report represents the best justification for this request:

> "Subject's duties and responsibilities involve management and supervision of some of this Station's most successful and most sensitive operations. The fact that Subject has responsibilities comparable to any officer up to four grades higher than his speaks for the trust COS has in him and for his continued exceptionally proficient performance."

MEMORANDUM FOR: Secretary, CS/CS Panel (Section C)

SUBJECT : Recommendation for Promotion to Grade GS-10
Mr. Thomas J. Keenan

1. Thomas J. Keenan entered on duty with CIA on 20 May 1957 as a Junior Officer Trainee. He was assigned to WH Division for a one year tour effective 6 January 1958 and was changed to staff employee on 25 January 1959. He served ably as operations officer on the Nicaraguan and Costa Rican desk. Since 3 February 1960 he has been an Operations Officer at the Mexico City Station.

2. Keenan is equipped intellectually and emotionally to do fine work, and his potential for a good career is high. He is alert and conscientious. He takes on new tasks readily and accomplishes his objectives with thoroughness and dispatch. He is enthusiastic and imaginative. He gets on well with his co-workers and is highly motivated. Keenan always makes a good impression and works diligently. He is a very pleasant individual, interested and cooperative, and gives promise of being a sound intelligence officer.

3. The above recommendation has been submitted previously under the dates of 12 August 1959, 5 January 1960 and 30 June 1960. An efficiency report from the Mexico City Station dated 12 December 1960 states that Mr. Keenan is an unusually effective case officer and is making an outstanding contribution to CIA operations in that area. This report further indicates that Keenan has been assigned duties which would normally be performed by a much senior officer and has carried them out in a most commendable manner.

4. On the basis of his qualifications and past performance, it is recommended that Mr. Keenan be promoted to Grade GS-10.

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP IN THE CAREER STAFF

To the Chief, KUBARK

Sir:

I submit herewith my application for membership in the Career Staff defined below:

> "The Career Staff is a group of carefully selected and trained individuals who accept an obligation to devote themselves to the needs of the Organization, and who intend to make a career with the Organization."

In accordance with this definition, I desire to devote myself to the faithful performance of duty in the Organization, and I accept the obligations and conditions of that service which are determined to be essential to the furtherance of its mission.

I am aware of the many restrictions necessarily placed upon me by virtue of the security requirements inherent in my employment by the Organization. I am also aware that as a member of the Career Staff, it will be my obligation to serve anywhere and at any time and for any kind of duty as determined by the needs of the Organization and I have been assured that in order to carry out this policy, full consideration will be given to my particular capabilities, interests, and personal circumstances. By virtue of this application for membership and upon my acceptance in the Career Staff, I am assured that, with continuing satisfactory work performance and conduct on my part, just and equitable attention will be accorded my personal progress during my tenure in the Career Staff. I am also assured that, on my satisfactory completion of any assignments, I will be offered reassignments which are compatible insofar as possible with my abilities and career interests, and that I shall be entitled to the benefits now available or to be made available in the future to members of the Career Staff of the Organization.

NARRATIVE STATEMENT FOR THE PROMOTION OF THOMAS J. KEENAN

1. After attending IOC and IT, in which he made excellent grades, Keenan was placed on an interim basis with WE/Spain for four weeks. He then entered TS3 Training, where he again did excellent work. He then was placed for three months with the CI/ICD -- he had evinced interest in CE work -- before he was assigned for on-the-desk training with WH/3. On 3 March he entered OC and will return to WH/3 upon the completion of this course. Interim evaluation from OC shows that Keenan has four satisfactory grades. Throughout his training, formal and on-the-desk, Keenan has been commended: "alert with definite potential for CE work - thorough and industrious - on the Mexican desk performance was excellent - gets along extremely well with associates - attitude toward Agency excellent - should rapidly develop into a valuable employee with high potential - a very pleasant young man, interested and cooperative - gives promise of being a sound intelligence officer."

2. There is one other JOT under the supervisor. He is GS-9 and replaced subject, doing the same work, when subject left for OC. Subject's Spanish is not so well developed as that of the GS-9 JOT; otherwise there is little difference in their production.

3. On the CI Staff subject's performance was equal to that of other JOT's under the supervisor. During his time on the desk with WH/3, Keenan's performance was at a level comparable to that of one other JOT of higher grade.

4. Keenan came to the JOTP with a good college record and excellent experience as officer-in-charge of sixty officers and enlisted men in a Navy communications center. His rank was Lt(jg). He has a fair working knowledge of Spanish. To date he has shown high motivation, adaptability, and an intelligent approach to his job.

5. Keenan has had no opportunity to demonstrate supervisory ability.

6. WH concurs in this promotion.

7. It is recommended that Keenan be promoted from GS-7 to GS-9.

C/Junior Officer Training Program/TR

Attachment of Junior Officer Trainee THOMAS J. KEENAN

1. As agreed by Mr. Brady of your Division and Mr. O'Gara of the JOT Program, JOT Thomas J. Keenan is attached to WH/1 for a one-year tour effective 6 January 1958. Administrative instructions are attached. At the conclusion of this tour, we will decide mutually whether or not to continue this attachment.

2. The purpose of this on-the-job tour is to train Keenan in Headquarters procedures and the duties of a Headquarters case officer, the ultimate objective being to prepare him for an overseas assignment.

3. It is understood that after a JOT has been attached to the desk for six months as a trainee, the supervisor will provide C/JOTP with a critical evaluation of the subject's performance in those elements listed in paragraph 2.

4. Keenan has attended IOC and ETC. It is understood that he will attend the Operations Course beginning 3 March. The JOTP will consider supporting any additional training necessary for Keenan's anticipated assignment.

5. Please send to the C/JOTP as quickly as convenient an outline of the activities the JOT will pursue as suggested by the appended sample. It is understood that the program for the JOT is flexible and may be altered from time to time to meet your operating needs, after consultation with the JOT Program.

Dear Mr. Keenan:

This will confirm your entrance-on-duty date of 20 May 1957 with this Agency at Grade GS-7, salary $4525.00 per annum.

Your permanent employment will depend upon the completion of the following processing at the time of entering on duty: taking the oath of office, signing a loyalty affidavit, participating in a final security interview and completing a medical examination which will include determination of physical health and emotional stability. Should anything of an unfavorable nature arise during this period, your employment will not result in a permanent appointment.

Please report to the Receptionist at Curie Hall at 8:15 a.m. and ask for Mrs. Anna L. Phillips on 20 May 1957. Curie Hall is located at the intersection of 23rd Street, Independence Avenue, and Ohio Drive, S. W., with entrance on Ohio Drive.

Under existing Agency regulations we are not authorized to bear the expense of moving yourself, your dependents or your household goods from your present address to Washington, D. C.

The gross salary quoted will be subject to deductions for Federal income tax and 6½ percent for the United States Civil Service Retirement Fund. In addition, the benefits of low-cost group life insurance are available to Federal civilian employees. The enclosed pamphlet outlines the features of the program and lists the amount which will be deducted from your salary each pay period for this term insurance. This insurance is not obligatory. However, if you do not wish coverage, which is automatic, you should sign a Waiver of Life Insurance Coverage form at the time you enter on duty.

You will not receive a pay check for approximately four weeks after your entrance on duty. However, arrangements may be made for a temporary loan with a financial institution if necessary.

Very truly yours,

G. M. Stewart

Keenan is a really impressive fellow in all respects. His appearance is immaculate, there is a youthful charm about him, his discourse is articulate and nicely paced, and he has a very congenial disposition. He has reached a satisfactory level of maturity and discretion, I have no doubt. He has humility and poise. He is now at a critical juncture in his life--just out of service, with an optimistic outlook on life, and anxious to enter into career employment. His attitude toward govt. and CIA in particular is entirely favorable. After our initial interview he wanted some time to think it over, and to have other interviews. He called me within a matter of days, saying he was ready to make formal application. Both he and his wife are enthusiastic over the JOT program. She is an attractive young lass who has lived most of her life in S.
America where her father is an engineer for GMC. She is bi-lingual.
Keenan asked searching but discreet questions about conditions of employment, career development, and the like. He is familiar with the security environment, and anticipates no difficulty adapting himself to our requirements. Note his steady progress in the Navy
He appears to be a natural for career training. He is a likeable fellow, full of curiosity and ambition, and I believe he has a good mind. Participation in the mission of the agency appeals to him very strongly. Presently not employed, he is prepared to seek temporary work if available, or simply to wait out the processing period. His interest is centered wholly in this application. In fairness to him an early decision on eligibility is advised.
I regard him as a wholesome, disciplined, energetic fellow, with real potential for us.

Self-administered tests will be forwarded soon.

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

Applicant Information
Sheet No. 1

To all persons applying for employment with the Central Intelligence Agency:

This paper is the first step in applying for employment or consultant status with the Central Intelligence Agency. No application may proceed beyond this first step if the applicant is not in agreement with the conditions stated below:

General Considerations:

1. The National Security Act of 26 July 1947 (Public Law 253, 80th Congress) which created the Central Intelligence Agency places upon the Agency the responsibility:

a. "to advise the National Security Council in matters concerning such intelligence activities of the Government departments and agencies as relate to the national security;

b. "to make recommendations to the National Security Council for the coordination of such intelligence activities of the departments and agencies of the Government as relate to the national security;

c. "to correlate and evaluate intelligence relating to the national security, and provide for the appropriate dissemination of such intelligence within the Government . . . ;

d. "to perform, for the benefit of the existing intelligence agencies, such additional services of common concern as the National Security Council determines can be more efficiently accomplished centrally;

e. "to perform such other functions and duties related to intelligence affecting the national security as the National Security Council may from time to time direct."

The special character of this national responsibility requires the Agency to maintain correspondingly special employment criteria which may be different from the routine or normal employment standards of other Government departments and agencies which do not have the highly sensitive responsibility borne by the Central Intelligence Agency. It follows that the investigation of applicants prerequisite to their acceptance is a time-consuming process which, in addition to loyalty and security checks, includes evaluation of competence, physical and emotional fitness, and availability of a suitable position at such time as employment may be offered. This is called "clearance" of an applicant.

2. Investigation of an applicant may reveal something which prevents his clearance - perhaps something of which the applicant is genuinely unaware, perhaps something which only the special employment criteria of the Agency make unacceptable. In any event, adverse findings by the Agency are conclusive and final so far as the Agency is concerned, and no statement of specific reasons is made to the applicant.

3. Employment by the Central Intelligence Agency is not a right upon which an applicant can insist. Offer of employment which is subject to full clearance does not constitute a commitment on the Agency's part giving an unsuccessful applicant grounds for any claim against the Agency. Acceptance of employment upon the condition of clearance is at the applicant's risk, taken with the knowledge that a very substantial percentage of applicants are not cleared.

Statement of Understanding and Agreement

I have read, understand, and agree to the foregoing General Considerations. If not accepted for employment by the Central Intelligence Agency, I will make no claim or demand in conflict with those considerations.

I have also seen and read Applicant Information Sheet No. 2.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

Subject is an especially able staff officer, one of the best around. Intelligent, possessing a quick retentive mind, excellent with detail, able to rapidly identify problem areas, a quick, accurate and clear drafter, having a mind of his own and willing and able to express his opinions firmly and articulately, but always pleasant, conservative by nature, he thinks his problems through but gets things done accurately and quickly. Whenever I had a staff problem, I knew I could count on Mr. Keenan to get the necessary done.

MEMORANDUM IN LIEU OF FITNESS REPORT

SUBJECT: Thomas J. Keenan

1. During the first six weeks of the reviewing period, Mr. Keenan continued as Chief of the Mexico and Central America Branch, the Division's most demanding geographic unit. His performance during this period continued at the same Strong level detailed in the last Fitness Report.

2. During February, as part of a determined effort to strengthen the Division's Operations Staff, Mr. Keenan was moved up to fill one of the two Deputy Chief slots in that unit. As of 1 July, he was the sole Deputy of the Staff. As set up in Latin America Division, the Operations Staff had both staff and line functions. It had broad coordinating responsibilities with all elements outside the Division, served as the focal point for all senior staff requests for studies and reports, stimulated and coordinated Division operational activities and reviewed the effectiveness of Division programs. All Division operational traffic flowed through the Ops Staff where better than 80 per cent of the traffic was released.

3. Mr. Keenan was assigned primary responsibility for close review and staff action relating to the northern area (Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean plus Guyana and Surinam in South America). In addition, he served as the staff referent for narcotics operations throughout the Division and for Cuba operations worldwide.

4. I consider myself singularly fortunate to have had Mr. Keenan as my Deputy. I assumed the Chief/Ops responsibility in April 1977 and immediately discovered that ground rules were different, legal strictures impinged on many operational decisions, and the almost constant senior staff requests affected one's ability to concentrate on operations. Mr. Keenan was extremely helpful in providing substantive briefings, guiding me through the legal and policy complications and pointing out the shoals. He made many valuable suggestions on how to handle the work load without drowning in paper.

5. Mr. Keenan has an agile and retentive mind. He is quick at distinguishing the wheat from the chaff. He does his homework and I have never known him to go off half cocked. In making operational judgments, his initiative is tempered by a healthy dose of prudence. Mr. Keenan's writing is first rate; his prose is lean, often elegant, and always precise. I have admired his talents as a briefer. His presentations are balanced and detailed, often spiced with his engaging humor.

6. Mr. Keenan's tenure with the Ops Staff was a very intensive period. He normally worked an eleven-hour day and Saturdays as well. I take some pride in the fact that there never developed an antagonist relationship between the operating branches and the Ops Staff. Mr. Keenan deserves much of the credit for this. While often taking issue with branch positions and written work, he was unfailingly courteous, good humored, and helpful. His counsel was often sought on difficult problems.

7. A significant and time-consuming aspect of the Ops Staff's work concerned screening operational traffic for compliance with E.O. 11905 and ensuring that U.S. person strictures were scrupulously observed. I found Mr. Keenan's general knowledge in these areas unmatched among the non-lawyers of the Agency.

8. Mr. Keenan shared with me the responsibility for supervising the work of two operations officers and one secretary. He is an excellent supervisor who manages (despite the belief of some that it is not possible) to be both exigent and pleasant. He cares about people, and as noted in the previous Fitness Report, takes special interest in developing younger officers.

9. In addition to his Operations Staff responsibilities, Mr. Keenan served as the Division EEO Officer. He also served for nine months on a time-consuming DDO task force concerned with a threat against President Carter's life. He performed these responsibilities with the same thoughtfulness and effectiveness he applies to everything else.

10. The Operations Staff was disbanded in early November as part of the Latin America Division reorganization. In recognition of his splendid performance on the Ops Staff, Mr. Keenan was made Chief of a combined Coordination/Plans Staff with a T/O of six. This staff will retain most of the coordination functions of the Ops Staff but not the line functions.

11. This is a splendid officer, certainly one of the most promising GS-15's in the Division. He clearly earned an Outstanding rating for the period under review.

While I personally handled the first week or so of the myriad problems associated with a wide-spread investigation of an alleged plot against President Carter, I subsequently turned the responsibility for it over to Mr. Keenan and he represented the Division with the DDO, CI Staff and Secret Service on this important and seemingly never ending problem area. This involved a lot of extra hours work and had to be handled meticulously. He performed these responsibilities impeccably.

During the past year he made many contributions to the smooth functioning of the division. Not least among them was the fact that having fully familiarized himself with US laws, Executive Orders, regulations, notices, etc., which have increasingly affected our operations programs, he ensured that our operational business was always in meticulous compliance with the spirit as well as the letter of these seemingly myriad "don'ts." Similarly, we had to produce staff papers in a hurry, often synthesizing a great deal of detail or alternatively presenting a great deal of detail. Mr. Keenan saw that the job was accomplished on time and with good style.

Although he was the junior member of the three-man Operations Staff, on occasion he served as the Acting Chief. He handled the COPS function with his usual dedication and good judgment.

As the rating officer has mentioned, when the division was reorganized in November, we decided to combine the Operations Staff's staff, but not command, functions with those of the Plans Staff. Mr. Keenan was the obvious choice for this important and challenging assignment which will tax his abilities and broaden his experience. He is one of our best GS-15 officers and has additional growth potential in the Clandestine Service. He is a good operations officer as well as a good staff officer and is qualified to manage one of our medium-size Latin America Division Stations.

Branch Chief's attention, the other Stations, particularly Costa Rica, which has an active operational program, and the Guatemala Station, which also covers El Salvador, required regular attention and the lesser posts could not be neglected. The Branch performed well in these regards too. In short, I was pleased by the rapidity with which Mr. Keenan got on top of his responsibilities and by the intelligence, thoughtfulness, energy and professional skills he displayed in carrying them out.

Mr. Keenan is an intense, thorough, common sense, sound officer who while quick witted, thinks problems through, sees the holes and takes steps to fill them. He does his home work and doesn't go off half-cocked; yet he gets the job done quickly. He tends toward the conservative side in making judgments. While he has a pleasant way with people, he has firm convictions, and he is articulate, very forthright but not offensive in expressing what is on his mind. A strong supervisor, he is on top of the activities of his unit, demands results, isn't afraid to be firm with his subordinates but is thoughtful and concerned about their welfare. He cares a lot about people and is interested in developing younger officers assigned to him. Because of these qualities, he was selected to be the Division's EEO officer when we needed a new one a few months ago. He has performed this role in his usual thoughtful and efficient fashion. He writes quickly and well. No one is more conscientious than he. He really cares about his job and tries to produce the best possible product. All in all, he was one of our best Branch Chiefs and deserves a solid "Strong" for his efforts.

In February 1977, one of the Deputy Chiefs of Operations jobs in the Division came open. Because of his demonstrated all around ability, personal qualifications and potential, he was selected from among the Branch Chiefs in the Division to fill that position. The job will broaden him and equip him for even more responsible posts in the field as either a Station Chief or for more senior positions at Headquarters. He is clearly one of our promising GS-15 officers.

MEMORANDUM IN LIEU OF FITNESS REPORT

SUBJECT: Thomas J. Keenan
1 January - 31 December 1975

From January to July of this reporting period Mr. Keenan finished his tour as Chief of Station, Kingston. In addition to himself there were two other case officers at the Station. Its total complement was 7 persons. Mr. Keenan entered the Army War College in July 1975.

During the last six months of his tour, the Station had three things going for it; a good access agent operation against the PRC target, a one-on-one relationship between a Station officer and a Cuban Embassy officer, and further development and exploitation of a member of the ruling political party. Of these the latter turned out to be the most worthwhile. This agent provided useful information on key political developments in the Jamaican government and the government party relating to its growing relationship with the Cuban government. The relationship with the Cuban officer turned out badly since the Cuban pitched the Station officer rather than vice versa. During this period the PRC access agent was most promising and was the best operation of its kind against the PRC that the Division had.

Mr. Keenan's relations with the Embassy during this period were good. No problems of any kind were noted. The operational environment continued bad due to the high incidence of crime.

Mr. Keenan is an able, experienced officer with good personal presence. He is measured in his operational approach and in his management style. He is a man of good judgment, has an agreeable personality and inspires confidence; he can be counted on to do a creditable job without a lot of fanfare.

In the last six months of his tour as Chief of Station, Kingston, I would rate his overall performance as "Strong."

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

Mr. Keenan ~~had~~ departed Station Kingston/~~by the time~~ shortly after I assumed charge of Latin America Division in May 1975. Therefore, I am not able to comment on his performance as Chief of Station, Kingston during the first five months of 1975. I would like to note, however, that Mr. Keenan served under me when I was Chief of Station, Bogota from 1965-1968 and I am acquainted with his personality and operational proficiency. On this basis, while I did not observe his performance as Chief of Station first hand, I generally concur with the Rating Officer's comments and overall performance evaluation of "Strong."

As a person, Mr. Keenan is a mature, dedicated officer with a pleasing personality. He gets along well with his peers and subordinates and is respected by them. I have selected him to be Chief of the Mexican and Central American Branch which is one indicator of the confidence I have in his ability. This will be an excellent test of Mr. Keenan's administrative and managerial ability since this branch is one of our largest in Latin America Division.

MEMORANDUM IN LIEU OF FITNESS REPORT

SUBJECT: Thomas J. Keenan
1 July 1974 - 31 December 1974

Mr. Keenan took over as COS Kingston in September 1974. This is his first COS assignment. The Kingston Station is composed of 6 staff employees (including 2 communicators) and 1 contract employee for a total complement of 7.

As one of the principal Caribbean sources of bauxite, Jamaica is of importance to the U.S. The arbitrary taxes levied on the U.S. bauxite company in Jamaica has been a source of conflict between the two governments. There is a Cuban and Chinese presence in Jamaica. Perhaps the single most important factor affecting the environment and personal lives of our Station members is the very high level of crime in Kingston, especially rape.

In reviewing the past fitness reports none has yet been written specifically commenting on his performance as COS in Kingston. I will attempt to fill that gap with this one.

The Station has been changed from basically a liaison Station to a unilateral Station. Liaison has never been overly cooperative, but the present COS has continued to develop the liaison, and at the same time has moved out unilaterally. During the past year two access agents to the Chinese target have been recruited (one being among the best in the Division) and two access agents to the Cuban target. It has also acquired a penetration of the local service who is especially useful against the Chinese target. In addition, a surveillance team which was recruited in 1973 was developed and used to the extent possible. The Station has become more active than perhaps ever before in its history, with emphasis on the PRC and Cuban targets.

From the past we know that Mr. Keenan is an excellent officer with good operational instincts. After a year in Kingston as COS we now also see that he can perform as a manager. Upon his return from Kingston this year Mr. Keenan will attend the Army War College to continue his career development. I rate his overall performance as COS in Kingston as "Strong."

COMMENTS BY REVIEWING OFFICIAL:

I concur in the evaluation of strong. It should be pointed out that Mr. Keenan has been operating under very difficult circumstances for which I am responsible. It was on my recommendation that he was pulled out of Lima for Kingston. I remembered this as a Caribbean paradise, but later found out that it was a most difficult situation--especially for someone like Mr. Keenan with a large family of small girls. Given this personal problem, it is understandable that Mr. Keenan did not perform in a more dramatic manner. He did quite well and will, I think, benefit from his upcoming war college stint.

This report is occasioned by Subject's early departure from Lima, before end of tour, to assume the duties of COS in Kingston, Jamaica. That fact alone attests the esteem in which he has been held by Hqs and, when the proposal for that assignment was made, also expressed once again by the rater.

Subject had not yet completed his first two years as a DCOS and this was his first crack at that level of responsibility. So his rise of late has been rapid, although of course it is based on abilities and experience developed and polished in the course of a number of tours overseas prior to his coming to Lima. These have all been spent in the Latin environment so the Caribbean will be for him a completely new world. This will be a healthy change for him and is managerially sound as well for the Station to which he is going.

As DCOS in Lima, Subject has shown a high order of operational soundness, administrative good sense, and a conscientiousness about his work that permitted COS to delegate without hesitation both specific problems in any area or even whole sections of Station activity (e.g. narcotics) for him to carry out or to supervise. Subject is a prudent man who thinks things through before acting. He weighs the pros and cons carefully, is quite CI-minded (an indispensible attribute in this semi-hostile climate), and then acts promptly. His judgment, while it tends to come down on the conservative side, is invariably soundly based. His periods of serving as Acting COS have been competently handled as well, always within his understanding of what the COS would want done if he were here.

As a supervisor, Subject has the right combination of patience and firmness when dealing with younger case officers who want to be off and running. He encourages their

There is little more that can be added to this eloquent report. Mr. Keenan's exceptional characteristics and abilities and his fine performance as DCOS, Lima, an unusually active, busy station, have led to his present assignment as COS, Kingston. The rating officer has stated that Mr. Keenan's rise of late has been rapid and this is true. However, all that he has achieved he has worked very hard for and certainly earned; and despite the fact he has a youthful face and a somewhat boyish manner, he is not all that young in years, so the present grade and position are hardly inconsistent with his age. Viewing the record and this man's potential, there is every reason to expect that he will continue to progress up the managerial ladder at essentially the same pace we have seen in the last three or four years.

aggressiveness but at the same time enlightens them on the virtue of looking over their shoulder at who may be after them as well as on the advantages of doing their homework first. Usually the upshot has proved him right.

In running his own cases, Subject is meticulous and very thorough, preparing himself for eventualities as well as maximum disseminable information. He has personally handled two difficult cases while here and has gotten what there was to be had out of both. Each also had serious flap potential but there has been not a whiff of suspicion or of leakage.

Subject, as noted before, has a cherry exterior that covers a deeply serious person within. His easy and forthright manner has earned him friends in the official Embassy community and in the larger society as well. All respect his judgment, his seriousness about his work and the issues of our time, and his eminently decent family life. All of these qualities should go far to make his upcoming tour as a COS a success. We wish him well and expect in future to hear only good about him and his work.

This fine officer has been DCOS in Lima for nearly a year now, his first crack at this level of responsibility. And for nearly two months of that he was Acting COS during an interregnum which was made easier for Hqs to accept at the time because of Subject's already acknowledged ability and operational judgment.

This officer has many laudable qualities. He was an established, painstaking professional with solid operational background. He has now demonstrated that he is also good at management, at keeping things moving, and at finding time for the little details that so often make the difference. He has a healthy respect for the opposition services (international and local) and weighs his operational decisions carefully in the light of their capabilities. In his present DCOS (and ACOS) responsibilities, he also shows excellent political judgment, knowing what will wash and what probably won't, what is acceptable risk (all things considered) and what is probably asking for trouble. A prudent officer, he looks before he leaps—or asks officers to.

This officer also has an amiable personality, warm and forthcoming with all the people he deals with - and deals with the more effectively as a result. This amiability (and the obvious decency and quiet integrity of the man) does not for a minute, however, get in the way of a good mind getting quickly to the bottom of whatever subject or problem may be before him. He is especially effective working with junior officers and subordinates, explaining the background /CONTINUED/of his decisions or analysis of the problem succinctly and tactfully.

Subject deserves the highest marks for his handling of several of the Station's problem cases, one a high level Government penetration considerably nervous about being an agent at all, another a foot-dragging egotist. Both of these important cases require quick thinking, gentle persuasion, and an adroit persistence in pushing BKCROWN's interests (offensive and defensive) in the midst of a welter of competing factors. Where a light but firm touch is needed, this officer cannot have many equals.

Subject is, as would be expected, held in high regard by his LNFALL colleagues and also by his Peruvian acquaintances. He is also (if the above does not say it) held in very high regard by the rater, who finds his advice on operational and political issues sound and finds him a person to whom any problem can be delegated in full confidence it will be handled fast and well. It is a pleasure to work with him.

The narrative statement in the last Fitness Report on Subject (HPLT-6074, 10 Jan 72) is still largely valid. This individual has in all ways proven himself as a keen, mature operations officer, supervisor and Deputy Chief of Station. Upon my departure (18 May 1972) he will be in charge for approximately six weeks until the new COS arrives. I have every reason to believe that during this period his actions and decisions will reflect credit on the Station and the organization in general. He enjoys the complete confidence and support of all Station personnel and is well-prepared to successfully meet the challenges which lie ahead.

It has been a special pleasure knowing and serving with such an officer.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

The above represents the COS' end-of-tour rating of Mr. Keenan, and following fairly close on the heels of the previous fitness report, it adds little to the previous narrative.

Since the COS in Lima is physically located outside the Station area, Mr. Keenan's normal function is to serve as de facto chief of operations and office manager. With the COS' departure in May, Mr. Keenan was serving as Acting Chief of Station. He maintained the tempo of Station operations and activity under what have been for some time a rather hostile operational climate in Peru.

In the brief three months Subject has been at the Station, he has moved rapidly not only to thoroughly acquaint himself with his specific responsibilities but also with all aspects of the Station's activities. His equable nature, ability to deal successfully with people of all descriptions and dispositions and solid operational background make him a most welcome member of the Station staff. As COS, I am particularly grateful for his services.

Among his duties is that of supervising closely the activities of two junior officers - which he does extremely well. Being one who readily commands respect, they readily seek him out for advise and consultation and are learning much under his masterly tutelage.

Subject is also coordinating Station efforts to penetrate the military and is already achieving some positive results. A recent military recruitment was made by another officer closely assisted and encouraged by Subject. The latter is now handling this new source, which could well become one of the Station's most productive.

Subject has clearly demonstrated his managerial talent and acuity in the handling of funds and other resources. I would predict a most successful tour of duty for this fine officer in Lima and foresee marked progress toward Station operational objectives as a result of his presence.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

I concur in the above ratings and comments. While it is indeed a little early to make truly valid and perceptive remarks, we have also noticed from our vantage point back here the steadying influence Mr. Keenan has exerted on two highly imaginative and active but relatively inexperienced Station members to which the COS alludes in his commentary. We too foresee a very successful tour for this talented officer and agree that the Station is indeed fortunate to have him present at this important time when operational prospects in Peru are so rapidly improving.

Comments in his previous fitness report continue to apply. He has received slightly lower ratings for some specific duties in Section B only because he received a well-deserved promotion last year and now must be evaluated in comparison with other GS-14's. As can be seen from the rating, even at this new level we feel he is giving a fine performance in comparison with his new peers.

Although the Station cannot claim any breakthrough in the REDTOP field during the rating period, this officer's work continued high in quality and quantity. He added three new members to our stable of REDTOP access agents, developed an intensive target analysis program and improved our REDTOP reporting in general to the point where it has been commended by Headquartets. The most recent Hdqs evaluation stated: "The efforts against PTL Soviets show imagination and sound analysis, and reporting has improved greatly. The changes in the PTL are reasonable and the Station's support operations are well-tailored to provide information of use in programming human access to the Soviets on the PTL. Lastly, plans fr the next half-year are realistic. We are encouraged by the Station's unmistakable positive attitude about the prospects of the effort against this difficult target." COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL I concur with the rating officer's evaluation and comment and would like to stress that the only reason his letter rating has dropped from outstanding to a solid strong is that he is now being rated as a GS-14 and not as a GS-13. A comment is also in order in regard to his possible cautiousness which is mentioned in the narrative portion of the report. Subject is a truly professional officer and especially adept at CI/FI. He is therefore able to quickly spot some weaknesses in proposed operations and quite properly and always accurately, points these out. On the other hand, in the Latin American environment some risks are acceptable which would not be tolerable in a situation where a higher degree of professionalism is mandatory. At times I have been in the anomalous position of approving an operation which Subject, perceptibly (cont) enthusiasm, imagination and drive. He has built good photo and audio programs and a support mechanism which give us excellent coverage of the target. He has then gone further into analyses of individual targets. The groundwork has been laid methodically; what we lack is luck to recruit that most elusive of sources--a Soviet.

I have no doubt this officer has additional growth potential. He has unusual drive and motivation; he shows imagination with good judgment. He combines this with a broad background of experience in FI, CI and operational support work and excellent tradecraft. He should guard against a tendency to be over-cautious, but is intelligent, ambitious, perceptive, and has all the attributes necessary to do a good job in his next assignment as DCOS at a moderate-sized station. This will give him an opportunity to show adaptability in a major supervisory position.

This officer has high personal standards. One of his strongest characteristics is his decisiveness and ability to organize his time, recognizing priorities and accomplishing his work quickly. He never misses a deadline. His work is thorough but cuts through verbiage to the essentials. He accepts responsibility well and once an assignment is made can be depended upon to take care of it without further follow-up by the supervisor. He is mature in his attitude toward JKLANCE and both he and his family observe the highest standards of personal conduct. His wife, who is bi-lingual, adds considerably to his contact work. They are popular in the community. In sum, this employee is a proven case officer who is about to take on managerial responsibility; he has every qualification to do equally well in this field.

and correctly, has indicated as having some rather strong weaknesses. However, this comment should not be construed as indicating lack of aggressiveness in Subject. He is, in fact, very aggressive in developing operational contacts and in making recruitments. In sum, Subject is one of our best all-around officers with a great breadth of experience, a fine potential for growth, and a sharp intelligence coupled with unusual discipline. We shall miss him and his wife and are certain he will do well in his new post.

This officer continues to make an outstanding contribution to the Station. The narrative comments of the previous fitness report continue to apply to this employee who, despite the well-known frustrations of work in the REDTOP field, has maintained his drive and enthusiasm and made considerable progress in developing our REDTOP program to the point where we are promptly aware of the movements and activities of MHHARSH personnel and now have a stable of access agents who are contributing regularly to our files of personality and vulnerability data on selected MHHARSH targets. The files which he has set up are a model of organization and thoroughness. He has drawn on all aspects of the Station's work and potential to build his program.

During the year this officer has either personally, or through his agents, recruited five new access agents. He located, staffed and organized a new observation post. He completed work on a complicated prospective audio installation which finally aborted, due to uncontrollable factors. Meanwhile he continued to improve the production of his existing agents and the organization and smooth operation of his small section. He has done a good job of guiding another officer in his first attempts at FI work. His reporting is exceptional, always timely and complete.

Of special note was the officer's progress in entertaining and developing a wide range of contacts in both the Colombian (continued)

I fully concur with the rater's evaluation. Subject is the strongest officer at this Station and is one of the best operations officers I have encountered in my 19 years with the organization. We call your attention to HLBT-4028, dated 25 February 1969, in which we strongly recommended that he be promoted promptly to GS-14. We reiterate this recommendation with some urgency. He will now be 40 years old in June and if we expect to keep officers of this caliber we must move them along. I am not aware that we are so rich in talent that we can afford the luxury of slighting officers who have the potential of Subject.

It is a pleasure to write a Fitness Report on this officer. Always a strong performer, Subject has continued to mature and improve during the reporting period. Early in the year he took over the Station's operational support team for several months, handling them extremely well, while developing a new team on the outside. In July he assumed primary responsibility for the Station's new REDTOP program and has done an outstanding job, of keeping abreast of REDTOP activities here and exploiting those opportunities which have occurred, despite a seriously understaffed section. At the same time he is continuing to direct one outside contract agent, service an audio operation and still found time to develop another particularly important new audio operation up to its final stages of implementation. These tasks reflect the Station's confidence in and reliance on Subject who is giving an overall outstanding performance.

Subject's greatest strengths are good judgement, enthusiasm, dynamism and an ability to grasp the major elements of any task and handle them quickly and intelligently. He is personable and mixes well. During the year he has made excellent progress in expanding his contacts throughout the Colombian community and selecting and developing those that can be ofuse to the Station. He is aided in this by his wife who is attractive, has excellent Spanish and is a great addition to his work.

COS fully concurs with above appraisal. Subject definitely falls into the category of potential Chief of Station material. He has uncommon operational judgment, broad professional experience, a keen sense of priorities, handles people well and combines the unusual traits of being well liked yet firm. Devoted to his job he works long hours without diminishing his efficiency. Although respectful to his superiors he is decisive. An excellent family man he has no bad habits. His wife is of great assistance to him in his work. COS intends to recommend subject for promotion to GS-14 in the next cycle in the belief that men of subject's ability and potential should be brought along rapidly. He will be 39 years old next June and it is essential that he be made to feel that Subject accepts new responsibilities readily; he shows initiative and has imagination; he displays reasonable cost-consciousness, and reacts well to supervision. Above all, Subject is energetic, recognizes priorities, and gets things done.

This man is an outstanding officer who is enthusiastic concerning WOFIRM work, and should continue to be given additional responsibilities and the grades and titles that go with such responsibilities. Director of the REDTOP program in Bogota is a major step forward, but we have just completed the preparation stage. With the success we expect him to have during the remainder of his tour, Subject should be ready to assume a position as deputy chief of an equivalant Station. At this time there are no apparent limitations to Subject's prospects. In recognition of his outstanding performance and solid potential subject is strongly recommended for early promotion from GS-13 to GS-14.

This employee has been at this station since June MAY 1967 and has been assigned the following operational duties: he has started from scratch the organization of a second, unilateral surveillance team consisting of one principal agent and three foot surveillants and investigators; he is giving guidance and direction to one WOLADY contract agent who, in turn, handles Station's WOLIME programs in the press and student fields; he also gives guidance and additional on-the-job training to a contract agent of Venezuelan nationality who is used in recruitment approaches, the handling of out-of-town penetrations of subversive groups, and in a support capacity.

This employee carries out the above cited tasks with initiative, alacrity and with common sense. He requires the absolute minimum of supervision. His extensive experience in his previous assignment abroad has helped greatly in getting the new surveillance and investigative team organized quickly. The direction he has given in the WOLIME field, where a reorganization was called for and is being carried out under his supervision and guidance, has been excellent, especially considering the fact that this is his first experience in the WOLIME field. The Venezuelan contract agent has carried out a number of recruitment pitches (including false flag ones) under the close supervision of this employee, who demonstrated a fine knowledge of technique and a good sense of counter intelligence procedures.

This employee is an extremely hard worker, writes well and has a well organized mind. His operational reporting is extensive and invariably on time.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

I concur with the narrative comments and numerical ratings given by the Rating Officer. I have found this employee to be a particularly mature case officer who possesses an excellent knowledge of tradecraft and requires little or no supervision to carry out his assignments. His work is of an excellent quality and he has proved to be a definite asset to this station. His only area of weakness is that he must be more assertive and aggressive in developing operational contacts of use to the Station. This has been discussed with him and he is planning to devote more effort in the future to correct this weakness.

He has demonstrated an excellent sense of cost consciousness.

This employee has a cheerful disposition and gets along well with his colleagues. His willingness to help out others certainly contributes to the smooth functioning and pleasant atmosphere at the Station. The only criticism, and a minor one indeed, is that this employee, with the many positive assets he has (including his wife who speaks fluent Spanish), could be more forceful in the field of developing new assets of operational interest to the Station.

This officer's duties remained the same as during the previous rating period and he has continued to discharge with the same high degree of effectiveness, industriousness and cheerfulness. Now that he has been under my supervision for 16 months, I find my first impressions - reflected in last year's fitness report - confirmed to the effect that subject is a strong officer possessing all the necessary qualifications for exceptional growth potential.

In dealing with Branch personnel, who often are senior to him in grade, age and experience, subject conducted himself with great tact and discretion, yet with sufficient firmness to achieve the desired results. In reviewing the FI projects of the Division he has demonstrated that he has a good sense for values, an appreciation of counter-intelligence and security factors and a proper degree of cost consciousness.

Subject did an excellent job at the staff level and has kept well on top of a very heavy paper flow. He is well-disciplined in his personal and working habits without losing his sense of humor, inquisitiveness and enthusiasm. All in all, a very fine fellow to have next to you.

While Subject has been under my supervision only for the past three months, the following comments reflect also the opinion of the previous supervisor.

Mr. Keenan is an exceptionally strong officer. Following a successful tour in Mexico, he was assigned to the WH Division Staff in a capacity which required not only intelligence and a knowledge of operational procedures, but also a good measure of tact and perception in dealing with Branch personnel senior to him in rank and experience. Mr. Keenan adapted himself to the requirements of this assignment to our complete satisfaction.

Subject is industrious, fast in his work, and enthusiastic. Despite the inevitable demands of a large, young family, he has not permitted his domestic responsibilities to interfere with his official duties. His performance on temporary duty in the Dominican Republic merits special recognition.

The nature of a Headquarters staff assignment precludes spectacular achievements. The excitement and glamor which make field assignments challenging and rewarding are absent here. Instead, there is a routine and sometimes almost overwhelming flow of paper which has to be massaged and managed, dull as it may be. Many a young officer's motivation did not measure up to this test. Those officers who work on a desk or a staff as effectively and cheerfully as they do in the field are the ones who are likely to possess and develop the qualities needed for senior positions. Mr. Keenan is in this category. He has considerable growth potential.

Manner of performance of managerial or supervisory duties must be described, if applicable.

Mr. Keenan has been only a month on the job but has pitched in so vigorously that he has made a more definite impression than would ordinarily be given one in a month's time. The work here and the cases he has been dealing with are unfamiliar to him but I have found him very quick to absorb a briefing, able to ask the right and most searching questions, and fast at absorbing the key elements of a case and defining the "problem" from reading of a case file.

He is in the process of learning his present job but he is learning quickly and I have developed a feeling of confidence in passing things to him to "look at" or to do. I have not seen enough of his writing to ~~make a~~ judgment of his analytical ability or of the clarity with which he can put ideas forward.

He has a good manner, is energetic, responsive, and bright, and his attitude is thoughtful and perceptive. I would assume that he would be a year or so in his present position and his assignment after that should be tied to his next overseas post. I feel he shows the qualities and interest (and has the experience from his time in Mexico) to work against our hard and serious targets: the Soviet and their collaborators of the bloc, and I suggest his future be pointed in that direction. He can learn a great deal about work against these targets in his current position.

Amplify or explain ratings given in Section B to provide best basis for determining future personnel action. Manner of performance of managerial or supervisory duties must be described, if applicable.

Subject's duties and responsibilities as an Operations Officer are characterized by managerial and supervisory responsibility for several important operations. Although subject's grade (GS-10) is considerably below that of all other Station Operations Officers, it is noted that his duties, responsibilities and authority are comparable to those possessed by officers with two to four grades higher rank.

Subject is a mature, competent, conscientious and thoroughly dependable officer who always performs his assignments in an excellent manner and willingly assumes responsibilities which are usually associated with officers of higher rank.

Subject does not have any significant weaknesses. His command of the Spanish language is entirely adequate for most operational needs and is continually improving.

Based on subject's personal qualifications, his past performance and his very weighty and important operational responsibilities, it is strongly and urgently recommended that subject be promoted to at least GS-11 and that serious consideration be given to a double promotion to GS-12.

Subject, a Case Officer at this Station since 3 February 1960, continues his outstanding performance in assignments normally handled by a Case Officer of a considerably higher grade.

Subject carries out his assignments with a minimum of supervision and is very willing to accept responsibilities of any type assignment to him.

Subject is rated very highly in Section B of this Fitness Report and this has been done because Subject has earned these ratings in his own right and in comparison with the work done by other Case Officers at this Station.

It is strongly recommended that Subject be given special consideration for promotion. It would be unfortunate for KUBARK to lose a man of this calibre through neglect of his career promotions. In addition to this superior work, Subject is the head of a family of six (6). As a result of his low salary, he is relegated to an inferior standing in the local society, based upon what a man can acquire through his earnings. Subject's contacts and currently high standard operations require that he spend and appear to be making considerably more than he is currently paid by KUBARK. It would seem unreasonable for KUBARK to expect a man of this calibre to make high level contacts and yet not be able to represent himself as a man in the economic level which his responsibilities represent.

Describe, if appropriate, his potential for development and for assuming greater responsibilities. Amplify or explain, if appropriate, ratings given in SECTIONS B, C, and D to provide the best basis for determining future personnel actions.

Subject is a young, aggressive Case Officer assigned to this Station since 3 February 1960. Prior to his assignment to this post, he was a JOT. Subject's greatest strength lies in the fact that he is extremely willing to undertake any task assigned to him regardless of its desireability, difficulty or the project;s time consuming properties. Once given an assignment, Subject requires a minimum of supervision. Subject is especially suited to new assignments because of his adaptability to new circumstances. Subject's worst handicap is his youth coupled with his low grade in respect to the supervisory responsibilities assigned him. It is believed this person is a good candidate for advancement in view of his outstanding performance at this Station.

It will be noted that Subject is rated very highly in Sections B, C and D. These ratings are well earned by Subject in his own right and are even more pronounced when considered in respect to the performance of other more senior officers at this Station.

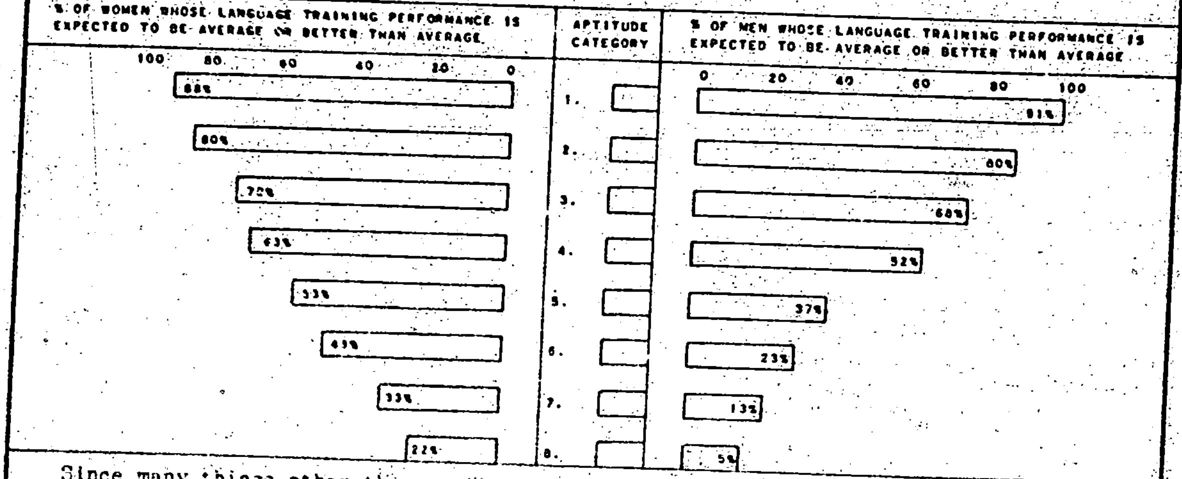
The category checked below is an interpretation of the scores made by the person named above on a battery of foreign language aptitude tests. The relationships between test performance and subsequent training performance of trainees in Agency language training courses are indicated by the graphs next to the aptitude categories. The graphs to the left are for women and the graphs to the right are for men. From these graphs you can read for each aptitude category the probability that a person in that category will perform in an Agency foreign language training course at an average or better-than-average level. For example, 22 percent of the women who obtain an aptitude rating of "8" can be expected to be average or better in course performance, while 5 percent of the men with ratings of "8" can be expected to be average or better in course performance. A man needs an aptitude rating of "6" to have about the same expectation of success in language training as a woman with a rating of "8." At the other end of the scale, 80 percent of either men or women who obtain aptitude ratings of "2" can be expected to do average or better-than-average work in training. The differences in relationship are due to differences between men and women in both training performance, and test scores. On the average women are somewhat higher on both.



Since many things other than aptitudes enter into the determination of training course performance, in any class of students there will usually be some whose performance will be better than would be expected from their test scores, just as there will likely be some whose performance is poorer than expected. STRENGTH OF MOTIVATION, PRIOR EXPERIENCE WITH A FOREIGN LANGUAGE, and other factors should be considered in selecting people for language training and in interpreting language training results. For example, the number of languages previously studied or learned and the amount of academic and nonacademic language-learning experience are factors not measured by the tests but are indicative of probable success in learning a foreign language. Whether such experience was in the same language as the one to be studied or in a different one is, of course, an additional relevant factor.

STANDARD FORM NO. 64

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Director of Personnel

DATE: 3 MAR 1959

FROM : Director of Training

SUBJECT: Summary of JOT Career of Thomas J. Keenan

1. Statement of Transfer

Junior Officer Trainee Thomas J. Keenan has been reassigned from the T/O of the JOT Program to the T/O of WH Division effective 25 January 1959. Following is a summary of the accomplishments of Mr. Keenan while he was a Junior Officer Trainee.

2. Basis for Selection by JOTP

Keenan came to the Agency on the JOT Program at GS-7 on 20 May 1957. He received his B.A. in History from Marquette in 1953. He spent four years in the Navy as a Lieutenant. He was a Commo officer, having supervision of thirty men. His high motivation - he turned down an 18 month training program with IBM - coupled with his fine personal attributes, made him appear to be a good JOT candidate.

3. Formal Training

After EOD Keenan attended IOC from 27 May to 21 June 1957, receiving two Excellent evaluations. From 24 to 28 June he was on interim assignment in FBID. He attended ITC from 1 to 28 July where he earned three Excellent grades. From 28 July to 23 August he was assigned on an interim basis to WE/Spain. From 26 August to 27 September he was registered in a special TSS course. He gained good ratings. After an interim assignment to the CI Staff for one month Keenan was attached for on-the-desk training to WH/1 on 8 January 1958. In March he entered the Operations Course, where he continued until 7 June. In this course he received four high satisfactory and two medium satisfactory grades.

4. On-the-Desk Training

On-the-desk training for Keenan in WH/1 was largely as assistant to the desk CS and FI Officer. In January 1959 he took over as Chief of the Costa Rican desk.

5. Evaluation of the Subject's Training

Keenan's evaluations in formal training have been uniformly commendatory. The ITC instructors found that "although he was a bit slow in adjusting to the requirements of the course, during the last two weeks he showed definite progress...his final briefing was excellent...pleasant young man, interested and cooperative...gives promise of being a sound intelligence officer". In the OC his work was good - "performance was highly satisfactory...in face-to-face practical exercises he was effective...acquired a highly satisfactory understanding of the various kinds of Agency operations, revealing a particularly thorough knowledge of CI concepts and methods".

On the desk he proved to be "intelligent, alert, conscientious...enthusiastic and imaginative...gets on well with his co-workers and takes a healthy point of view toward his assignments. His motivation is high".

6. JOTP Opinion of the subject.

Keenan has always made a good impression. He has worked diligently, has made for the smooth operation of the Program, and has received commendation from his supervisors on the desk. It will be very surprising if Keenan does not prove to be a solid, effective officer who will make good progress in the Clandestine Services.

IN REPLY REFER TO:

Mr. George Bush
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, DC 20505

Dear Mr. Bush:

I am pleased to report that Mr. Keenan, Central Intelligence Agency Civilian, was among those who successfully completed the course of instruction at the US Army War College during Academic Year 1976 and was awarded a diploma.

This report is my evaluation of Mr. Thomas J. Keenan during his attendance at the US Army War College from 4 August 1975 to 7 June 1976. Attendance at the US Army War College is based on a highly selective process, and only a very small percentage of all those eligible is chosen. The evaluations herein are made in relation to this outstanding group of individuals. No attempt is made to distinguish between graduates on a rank order basis.

Mr. Keenan was one of eight civilians (three from the foreign affairs community) in a class of 227. This total includes 187 Army, 16 Air Force, ten Navy, and six Marine officers of colonel or lieutenant colonel or equivalent Navy rank.

In a class structure such as that outlined above, the task of the civilian student at the USAWC is an especially challenging one. Working in an area outside his normal milieu, his was a dual responsibility. On the one hand, he had to acquaint himself in considerable detail with the military aspects of national security with which, in most instances, he has had relatively little, if any, previous experience. To accomplish this requirement, he did extensive background research in the areas of military policy, military strategy, and defense management to keep abreast of his professional military colleagues. On the other hand, his foreign policy expertise was in heavy demand by his military colleagues. In consequence, his contribution to various international relations aspects of seminar group efforts tended to be disproportionately large. Moreover, as the sole civilian voice in a seminar group of fourteen highly experienced military officers, he also ensured that adequate weight was given to civilian viewpoints in the group's discussions. Much, therefore, depended on his ability to develop rapport with his military colleagues and on his intelligence, knowledge, skill and persuasiveness. In a very real sense he was a teacher as well as a student.

Among the objectives of the curriculum is enhancing the competence of selected officers to assume command and leadership responsibilities and to function in key staff assignments in major Army, joint, and combined headquarters and in planning and policymaking positions at the seat of government. To achieve this and related objectives, the curriculum consists of three major segments: The Common Overview, the Electives Phase, and the Military Studies Program. The Common Overview segment includes four courses: The United States and the World Environment, Command and Management, Strategic Military Studies, and the Military Strategy Seminar. In the Elective Phase, students take at least four elective courses out of an offering of 54 courses. The large number of selections provides an opportunity for students to tailor the curriculum to meet professional needs. Participation in the Military Studies Program is optional and can be substituted for one or more electives, depending on the scope of the research subject selected. In addition, the ten-month curriculum includes voluntary programs and field trips.

Mr. Keenan acted as assistant seminar group chairman in the core curriculum course entitled, "The United States and the World Environment." He and one other student edited the final seminar report, and he wrote that part of the report dealing with US policies in the Western Hemisphere, including an excellent treatment of the Panama Canal negotiations. Mr. Keenan was also assistant seminar group chairman during the "Strategic Military Studies" course, and again his facile pen was put to good use on the editorial subgroup. His calm, steadying approach to issues won the respect of his military colleagues, and his extensive knowledge of Latin America was particularly valuable to the group's deliberations. In the "Military Strategy Seminar," Mr. Keenan proved himself an excellent student of strategy and an articulate, well-prepared debater in the seminar discussions.

In the electives phase Mr. Keenan took four courses (the required number): "The Power Potential of Developing Nations," "Contemporary Issues in US Foreign Policy," "Strategic Issues of World War II," and "Third World: Dynamics of Social Change"; he audited "Latin America: Power Structures and the Current Scene." Mr. Keenan prepared carefully for his elective courses and contributed his views in a concise, orderly manner.

Since the vast majority of the Army War College student body live together on the post, a very important part of the overall War College experience is the social and extracurricular interaction which takes place outside the lecture hall and the seminar rooms. Some civilian students at the Army War College need considerable time to adjust to the military subculture, but Mr. Keenan enjoyed a relaxed camaraderie with his military colleagues from the beginning. Somewhat quiet and reticent by nature, Mr. Keenan nonetheless was enthusiastic about the College's many offerings in his own low-keyed way. This soft-spoken demeanor masked a tough competitor, whether it was in seminar discussions or on the tennis courts, where he was a member of the Army War College team. Clearly, he was popular with his classmates and respected by them for his professional attainments and his personal qualities.

In the Army War College classes with which I have been personally familiar, Mr. Keenan is the first of his agency's representatives who had regional, as contrasted with functional, expertise. Mr. Keenan's thorough knowledge of Latin America made him a valued member of the class and a distinct contributor.

Mr. Keenan's demonstrated capacity to work effectively and cooperatively with officers of the military services and other civilian agencies would, I hope, be factored into the consideration of his onward assignments.

A statement specifically regarding estimated "general officer or equivalent civilian supergrade" potential has been intentionally omitted from this and all AY 76 reports. The evaluation system for USAWC students is designed principally to portray the student's aptitudes, capabilities, accomplishments, and progress within an academic environment. This does not provide an adequate basis for rendering a finite evaluation on general officer or equivalent potential, although it does not preclude making tentative judgments as to the abilities of the "whole man."

Dear Mr. Bush:

I am pleased to report that Mr. Keenan, Central Intelligence Agency Civilian, was among those who successfully completed the course of instruction at the US Army War College during Academic Year 1976 and was awarded a diploma.

This report is my evaluation of Mr. Thomas J. Keenan during his attendance at the US Army War College from 4 August 1975 to 7 June 1976. Attendance at the US Army War College is based on a highly selective process, and only a very small percentage of all those eligible is chosen. The evaluations herein are made in relation to this outstanding group of individuals. No attempt is made to distinguish between graduates on a rank order basis.

Mr. Keenan was one of eight civilians (three from the foreign affairs community) in a class of 227. This total includes 187 Army, 16 Air Force, ten Navy, and six Marine officers of colonel or lieutenant colonel or equivalent Navy rank.

In a class structure such as that outlined above, the task of the civilian student at the USAWC is an especially challenging one. Working in an area outside his normal milieu, his was a dual responsibility. On the one hand, he had to acquaint himself in considerable detail with the military aspects of national security with which, in most instances, he has had relatively little, if any, previous experience. To accomplish this requirement, he did extensive background research in the areas of military policy, military strategy, and defense management to keep abreast of his professional military colleagues. On the other hand, his foreign policy expertise was in heavy demand by his military colleagues. In consequence, his contribution to various international relations aspects of seminar group efforts tended to be disproportionately large. Moreover, as the sole civilian voice in a seminar group of fourteen highly experienced military officers, he also ensured that adequate weight was given to civilian viewpoints in the group's discussions. Much, therefore, depended on his ability to develop rapport with his military colleagues and on his intelligence, knowledge, skill and persuasiveness. In a very real sense he was a teacher as well as a student.

Among the objectives of the curriculum is enhancing the competence of selected officers to assume command and leadership responsibilities and to function in key staff assignments in major Army, joint, and combined headquarters and in planning and policymaking positions at the seat of government. NARRATIVE COMMENTS

(Attach additional sheets, if necessary for this section or for reviewing officer's comments.)

III. The incumbent is a quiet, low-key, but highly energetic and competent professional officer in his chosen field. He has discharged the responsibilities of his first more or less independent command in an outstanding way. His manner is always crisp and efficient, and as nearly as I can determine, he runs a tight ship while at the same time commanding both the affection and respect of his staff. His manner towards me has invariably been responsive and supportive. Given the inherent difficulties of the relationship, I have deliberately put pressure on him from time to time to determine his reactions. As a result, I am confident he has been fully candid with me and has shared any information which might be relative to my concerns and activities. We have been passing through a particularly difficult phase in Jamaican-US relations, in which the slightest misstep by any US Government agency, but particularly by the incumbent and his people, could have been seized upon to possibly embarrass this mission and the US Government. The incumbent has been sensitive to these dangers, has consulted with me at every turn and has taken whatever steps are possible to reduce the risk while still meeting basic requirements.

Beyond his professional specialty, the incumbent has been an important part of our Embassy family. As a member of the Country Team, he has always offered his views when asked if he felt he had a contribution to make, and I have often found them to be most helpful. He has also served as the mission's representative on the Board of the Priory School which most mission children attend. As such, he has made an important contribution to the morale and well-being of the Embassy family and American community. Both he and his family have invariably been forthcoming with regard to community projects, and they will be sorely missed.

I expect that the incumbent will benefit from his year at the Army War College, and anticipate that he will be ready for assignments of substantially greater responsibility thereafter. I would hope he would be given serious consideration for promotion to the next higher grade as an early opportunity, and I have little doubt that he will eventually rise to the highest professional levels of his agency. It would give me pleasure to work with him again.

Action for Integration of Thomas J. Keenan
Effective 6 January 1960

The purpose of this memorandum is to call your attention to existing policies which are particularly material to you while you are integrated and to set forth certain rights and obligations which are incident to your status as an appointed employee. It is hereby agreed and understood that:

1. As an employee of this organization, at the present grade and salary of GS-9- $6135 per annum, you will accept cover employment with another instrumentality of the Government (hereinafter referred to as "your cover facility") effective as of 6 January 1960. You will, insofar as consistent with your basic responsibility to this organization, abide by all the rules, regulations, practices and policies of your cover facility, in order to appear as a conventional member of that establishment. Your appointment to your cover facility is being effected at FSS-10 and salary of $5540 per annum. You are prohibited, except as specifically authorized herein, from retaining emoluments paid by your cover facility.

2. It is understood and agreed that the minimum period of your overseas tour of duty is governed by and coincident with the prescribed tour of duty of your cover organization. Currently, your prescribed tour consists of a period of two (2) years from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty. Your assignment may be terminated earlier for the convenience of this organization and the length of your tour of duty, as currently specified, may be unilaterally changed by this organization in order to conform with subsequent changes in the prescribed tour of your cover facility. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by this organization to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause under the regulations of this organization before you have completed the minimum period of service prescribed above from the date of arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will not be entitled to return travel or transportation for yourself or your dependents to the United States at Government expense. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by this organization to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause under the regulations of this organization before you have completed one (1) year of service from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will be required to reimburse the Government for all of its expenses for your travel and transportation, and that of your dependents, from the continental United States to such overseas post of duty.

3. Travel to your post of duty overseas and your return travel to the United States, as well as travel performed overseas which is consistent with your cover designation, will normally be at the direction of your cover facility. Such travel will be accomplished in conformance with applicable regulations of your cover facility except when you are directed for operational reasons to perform travel in accordance with the regulations of this organization.

4. Salary and (except as provided in paragraph three (3) above) allowances paid by your cover facility shall be retained by you to the extent that they are less than or equal to the salary and allowance payments due on the basis of your grade level with this organization. If such cover payments are less than the amount due, the difference will be credited to your payroll account with this organization. If such cover payments exceed the amount due, the overage will be remitted to this organization at designated intervals, presently____________________. Computations hereunder will be made on the basis of the aggregate gross due and received provided, however, that in computing remittances for overage Federal and, if applicable, District of Columbia income taxes withheld by your cover facility against the overage may be deducted. To assure timely accuracy in your payroll account with this organization you are expected to immediately report cover facility payroll changes.

5. Your status as an employee of this organization will continue in full force and effect during your period of duty with your cover facility and you will continue to be entitled to all rights, benefits and emoluments of such status. Certain variations in procedure will be required, however, to preserve the security of your cover position.

a. Upon integration into your cover facility, you will continue to be covered by the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, as amended, and at your personal expense you will be subject to payroll deductions for retirement purposes (now six and one-half percent) on the basis of your cover salary or your salary from this organization, whichever is the greater.

b. If you receive taxable income from both your cover facility and this organization, necessary adjustments for Federal, and if applicable, District of Columbia income tax purposes will be made in conformance with instructions received from this organization.

c. Consistent with your cover activity, you will continue to be responsible for compliance with the rules and regulations of this organization.

d. You are not assured upon the completion of your period of duty with your cover facility of any status with your cover based on your services performed with that organization at the request of this organization.

e. A portion of your annual and all of your sick leave which has accrued to your credit at the time of your integration shall be transferred to your cover facility. The remainder of your annual leave will be held by this organization in escrow pending the completion of your integration. If the sum of your accumulated annual leave with your cover facility and this organization exceeds the maximum accumulation entitlement afforded you under the regulations of this organization, the excess will be forfeited. If possible, such forfeiture will be accomplished by reducing the leave credit in your escrow account with this organization. While integrated, you will be permitted annual leave, sick leave, home leave, and leave without pay in accordance with the regulations of your cover facility in lieu of the leave benefits of this organization. Upon completion of your integration, your accrued annual and sick leave will be transferred to your credit with this organization. If security conditions require that your cover facility make a lump-sum payment for accrued annual leave, you will be required to pay the gross amount thereof to this organization including income taxes withheld by your cover facility.

6. You will be required to keep forever secret this agreement and all other information which you may obtain by reason hereof, unless you are released in writing by this organization from this obligation. Violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Laws, dated 25 June 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations. The termination of your employment with this organization will not release you from the obligation of any security oath you may be required to take.

Operations Course No. 6

I. IDENTIFYING INFORMATION:

Name: KE[illegible], Thomas John		Sex M	Dates of Course: 3 Mar. - 27 June 58	No. of Students 27
Date of Birth: 24 June 1930	EOD Date: 20 May 1957		Grade or Rank: GS-7	Office: OTR/JOTP
Projected or Present Position (from Request for Training dated 16/10/57 Junior Officer Trainee

II. DESCRIPTION OF COURSE:

The Operations Course runs for sixteen weeks and is designed as an introduction to the basic fundamentals of clandestine operations in the field. The course objective is to help the student learn and apply the principles and skills demanded of the field case officer. Emphasis is, therefore, placed on a practical work approach to clandestine tradecraft, agent handling, reporting and project management. The course also provides the student familiarity with the operational programs; i.e., FI, CI and PP, as well as with organizational support services.

III. PERFORMANCE RECORD:

The student's evaluation in the Operations Course is based on his understanding of clandestine operations as well as on his ability to perform field case officer tasks as observed by the staff over a period of sixteen weeks.

The standards set by the Staff for Satisfactory performance are high. Moreover, each Operations Course class is a carefully selected group of mature, intelligent, and able persons. Thus, it should be recognized that a grade of Satisfactory indicates that in the training situation the student understood or applied that subject of instruction in a competent manner.

The preponderance of grades fall within the Satisfactory range.

The performance of this student in each category of grading is indicated on the following page by the stamped X's.

Mr. Keenan's performance in the course was highly satisfactory. His performance in Clandestine Communications, Project Management and Clandestine Services Operations were just short of excellent. In face-to-face practical exercises he was effective, and was one of the best students of the class in a ZOMBIE agent-recruitment exercise. In simpler, controlled interviewing and debriefing sessions he was more effective than in exercises requiring more subtle directing and control of the agent. He developed a good understanding of field procedures, more particularly of project management, where he ranked in the upper one-third of the class. His operational reporting was better than his information reporting which was acceptable, but he made little improvement in it during the course. Mr. Keenan acquired a highly satisfactory understanding of the various kinds of Agency operations, revealing a particularly thorough knowledge of CI concepts and methods. He tied with one other student for the top grade on the CI examination.

SUBJECT Basic Secret Writing

DATES TRAINED 26 - 30 August 1957

In this course an effort was made to acquaint the student with all aspects of the subject, stressing the managerial point of view, and, at the same time, to have the student acquire an operational degree of proficiency in the three basic techniques of secret writing - liquid writing, carbon-sheet writing and stain development.

The broad coverage given in this course allowed little time for systematic and comprehensive evaluation of the performance of each student. For this reason evaluations have been made only in terms of SATISFACTORY and UNSATISFACTORY.

The performance of Mr. Keenan was SATISFACTORY.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Information Services Staff

FROM : Charles A. Briggs
DDO Information Review Officer

SUBJECT : Appreciation

13.11.

1. As you know well, on September 19th, I turn over responsibility for release or denial of DDO documents under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts. The experience has been both frustrating and challenging, epitomizing the issues in transition from a totally classified past to a new intelligence environment yet to be defined. The tension in law between protection of sources and methods and more open government was apparent, daily, to those involved; good case law was made as we sought to adhere to both principles and to regain, through this process, some credibility for the Agency.

2. I've tried in the past to convey my appreciation for the truly magnificent support I got from what is now the Privacy and Information Action Group, through recommendations for the Unit Citation subsequently awarded by the DCI, through QSI's and promotions, and through personal comment. All have worked long hard hours and all, those now in PIAG and those who have left, deserve credit for their professional efforts in this arena; I want to express my thanks to you for the assistance your people gave to me as the DDO Information Review Officer.

3. At the risk of being unfair to some who are more recent arrivals, I want to express particular and very personal thanks to Win Brown, Cis Cass, Lou Dube, Mary Felton, Doris LeBaron, Fred McCann, Karen Rice, Helen Stilson, Jon Wolfe and Mack Wood.

4. My debt to Fred Randall and Andy Addona has been made a matter of record on several occasions. Let me just note here that any supervisor who has had the kind of qualitative backing that those two gentlemen gave me is fortunate indeed.

For OPF, Randall, Frederick

5. In addition to the PIAG crowd, Paul Haefner's people have had the endless and repetitive job of searching the CHAOS files and helping me deal with that most sensitive aspect of past history. Please express my thanks to them and, most particularly, to Paul himself.

6. Finally, let me make special note of the contributions from Joe Gigliotti and the retired officers handling the OSS records requests. Their particular expertise was a welcome addition to the staff support received.

7. I'm sure all will give Bob Owen, in his new role, the same high quality support that they gave to me. To state the obvious, although the win record is quite good, the race is still on.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chairman, DDO Evaluation Board

THROUGH: C/CMG

SUBJECT: Promotion Recommendation - Frederick C. Randall to GS-15

1. This memorandum constitutes a formal recommendation that Fred Randall, GS-14/8, now Chief of the DDO Privacy Information (DDO/PIC) unit in Services Staff, be promoted to GS-15. The position calls for that grade.

2. Mr. Randall is 49 years of age; entered on duty in CIA in September 1951 as a GS-7 assigned to OSO/FDZ. He is married; has four children, served briefly in the Air Force (1945-46); has an AB in Government, an AM in Foreign Affairs, and was a PhD candidate in International Relations. His Agency service was in FE from 1953 to 1965, including overseas tours in Djakarta and Tokyo; in DOD/FRD from 1965 to March 1975, including 2 years in the DC field office; his current assignment dates from 16 March 75. His date of grade is June 1967.

3. The specifics of Mr. Randall's current assignment and all the superlatives about it I have just recounted in a fitness report which I prepared today, as well as in a QSI recommendation (approved) of October 1975 and an out-of-cycle promotion recommendation dated 8 August 1975. I rate his performance Outstanding and refer the reader(s) to the reports cited for details. I would note here that Mr. Randall changed his home base and functional category in November of 1975 and was rated number 1 of 4 Category C nominees from this Staff by all four members of the SS Panel. I would note further that when I submitted my August 75 out-of-cycle promotion recommendation, Mr. Randall's career designation was B/OG; given his personal circumstances the DDO suggested that Randall change his career designation to become more competitive "and have an excellent chance on the next go round." The QSI suggestion then resulted.

4. As the individual responsible for releasing or denying thousands of DDO documents in response to FOIA requests, and subsequently answering for DDO decisions in affidavits and court depositions, I know how well Fred does his work and how richly he deserves this promotion to GS-15.

SPEED LETTER	REPLY REQUESTED ☐ YES ☐ NO	DATE 15 September 1975 LETTER NO.
TO : DDO ATTN:	FROM: Chief, Services Staff

SUBJECT: One-Time Reclama - Requested Randall Promotion

As you know, OB is not reticent about expressing his views, and in the informal career development world, Fred had had it in FRD. I've known OB fairly well and respect his candor and professionalism; we just worked very well together on the GS-16/17 Panel, with an interestingly identical philosophy. Fred's performance did not satisfy OB, and his Fitness Reports reflect that fact. It does not surprise me, since Fred had been in FR from 1970-1975, that his Fitness Reports for the past years would put him in a neutral middle, or even low middle, ranking among B/OS officers. But that's yesterday.

Today, as I tried to say strongly in my 8 August memo, my view of his work is that it is Outstanding--and I don't so rate many officers. I would hope his present work could stand on its own merit, and project forward, expecting FOIA to be a way of life in the DDO with all the management challenge, and headache, that poses. His present and future peer competition should be with the A/C crowd, not the B/OS group--if that hurdle is determining.

At the risk of being irritating, I feel bound to state his case in what I consider the appropriate competitive environment, to avoid an out-of-cycle suggestion doing mischief to the system. Any hope?

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Operations

SUBJECT: Out-of-Sequence Promotion Recommendation: Fred Randall

1. We've spoken of the need to look further at both Agency and DDO implications of the Freedom of Information Act and, now, the Privacy Act, including the increased number of appeals and litigation cases, and of the logic of collecting a coterie of deponents or affiants to take some of the load off of both you and me. The grade level of the appeals officers and the deponents must include 14's and 15's, to incorporate the necessary clout with the divisions and judgment vis-a-vis release of information to the outside world.

2. Fred is a GS-14/7. He had just come to me at the time of the last GS-15 panel exercise and had not been recommended for promotion by FRD. I consider his performance over the past 6 months to have been Outstanding. He is head and shoulders above the other directorates' FIOs; I have considerable laudatory testimony from OGC, OLC, O/DDA and within the DDO as to his professionalism, tact, persuasiveness, analytic skills and realistic, while tough-minded, protection of DDO sources and methods. This includes occasional arm-wrestling with DDO branch/division/staff chiefs, OGC and OLC lawyers, FBI contacts and others above his current grade level.

3. I have discussed this proposed out-of-cycle promotion recommendation to GS-15 with Ev, who, in turn, has mentioned it to Gordon. The return signals I got sounded positive.

4. I do, therefore, recommend that you approve Fred's promotion to GS-15, effective as soon as the action can be cut.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chairman, Clandestine Services
Career Service, Section A

SUBJECT : Frederick C. RANDALL, Recommendation for Promotion to GS-14

1. It is recommended that Frederick C. Randall be promoted from GS-13 to GS-14. Subject is 40 years old and began his Agency career in 1951. He has been a GS-13 since 1958. He entered on duty at the Washington Base (then Washington Station) in August 1965.

2. Subject is responsible for Washington Base operational activity directed against FE Division targets. He replaced one GS-14 officer and one GS-13 officer who shared this responsibility before Subject's arrival. Since Subject's EOD at the Base, the tempo and quality of operations against FE targets has increased greatly. During the period before Sukarno's overthrow in October 1966, positive intelligence reporting from two agents handled by Subject (WUSHARK and WUFLY) made significant contributions to WOFACT assessments of Indonesian events. Reporting in recent months continues to be useful to Djakarta and, in the case of WUSHARK, Subject has brought an agent to the point of being willing to request posting to Peking to cover FE targets there. Subject has an encyclopedic knowledge of Asian history and current events, and his handling of Asian agents has shown excellent sophistication, perception and maturity. He has been systematic in his exploitation of the total capabilities of his agents and contacts and has not been content to limit himself to procurement of positive or operational intelligence from their own embassies or countries. At the request of the local FBI office, Subject has guided one of his agents (WUFLY) into a close relationship with a Soviet Bloc intelligence officer and the FBI has expressed its appreciation for Subject's professional handling of this and other cases in which he has been involved on its behalf. Subject has an excellent CE mind and a healthy scepticism at all stages of any operational situation. His analysis and handling of the WUAPEX case is cited by way of demonstration of his willingness and ability to probe in painstaking fashion before committing the Agency; his careful debriefing and interrogation of WUAPEX were key factors in the ultimate decision not to plunge ahead on this controversial case. His poise and tact in the development of the sensitive WUTHAL operation has resulted in Agency acquisition of a well-placed agent within the Burmese Embassy at a time when contacts with official Burmese are extremely difficult. Subject is officially registered in the American University Graduate School and makes excellent use of the academic cover thus acquired to supplement his official cover when such is deemed advisable (as in the WUTHAL case).

DE 12

3. An examination of Subject's file shows that he has been recommended for promotion to GS-14 a total of seven times (four by FE Division and, with this request, three times by DO Division). Aside from the fact that he is definitely performing at the GS-14 level, we believe this to be an important factor to be considered in the present promotion request.

SUBJECT : Frederick C. RANDALL, Recommendation for Promotion to GS-14

1. It is recommended that Frederick C. Randall be promoted from GS-13 to GS-14. Subject is in Step 6 of his grade and has been a GS-13 since 1958. He entered on duty at the US Station in August 1965. A current Fitness Report is attached.

2. Subject's file indicates that he has been recommended for promotion five times: four times by his superiors in FE Division when he served in Japan, and once by the US Station in February 1966. While realizing that the 13 to 14 jump is traditionally difficult we feel that Subject's performance over the past year, when coupled with a consistently high calibre of work in previous years, deserves much-belated recognition in the form of a promotion. He continues to be responsible for the US Station's efforts to exploit the Far Eastern target, and his years of overseas experience against this target have been reflected in a realistic and imaginative approach to operations in the United States. His operational activity has required the handling of persons of varied nationality and stature, close contact with Headquarters representatives, liaison with the Washington Field Office of the FBI, and liaison with the US Air Force. His performance has been uniformly "Strong" and his handling of the HASHARK case has been outstanding. HASHARK, an Indonesian diplomat, has been a contact of the Agency for years, but it was not until his arrival in Washington and his handling by Subject that he began to produce solid intelligence on his own country. Subject's work on this case has received a well-deserved commendation from Headquarters.

SECRET

Subject's excellent relations with colleagues in FE Division have been of considerable value in helping the US Station to adjust its operational activity in the FE field to current and changing requirements. He has clearly been performing at the GS-14 level for some time and we urge that this promotion request be favorably considered at the earliest possible meeting of your panel.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chairman, Clandestine Services Career Service, Section A.

SUBJECT : Frederick C. RANDALL - Recommendation for Promotion to GS-14

1. It is recommended that Frederick C. Randall be promoted from GS-13 to GS-14. Subject is 39 years old and began his Agency career in 1951 as a GS-7. He has been a GS-13 since 1958. He entered on duty at the US Station in August 1965. A current Fitness Report is attached.

2. As the attached Fitness Report indicates, Subject is a real plus for the US Station's efforts to exploit the Far Eastern target locally. His years of experience in the handling of a variety of Oriental nationals abroad has already resulted in a much more realistic approach to local FE targets than was the case before his arrival. In addition to the professional competence and area knowledge which Subject brings to his present position, he has an imaginative approach to operational problems and a high enthusiasm for his work. His excellent relations with colleagues within FE Division have been of considerable value in helping the US Station adjust its operational activity in the FE field to current requirements. One final--and strong--factor arguing for his promotion to GS-14 at this time: he has been in grade eight years and has been recommended for promotion four times by previous supervisors when he was on FE Division rolls.

MEMORANDUM FOR: FE Career Management Committee

SUBJECT: Recommendation for Promotion of Mr. Frederick C. Randall from GS-13 to GS-14

1. Since Mr. Frederick C. Randall joined the Agency in September 1951, he has served in Headquarters and the Field, where he worked primarily on Indonesian and Japanese affairs. He is currently assigned to Tokyo Station. Mr. Randall has been in grade as a GS-13 since September 1958. He has been recommended three times for promotion to GS-14 since September 1963. Mr. Randall is 38 years old.

2. Mr. Randall's primary duty at the Tokyo Station is Station PBRAMPART responsibilities. These responsibilities are broad and highly important to all PBRAMPART relations throughout the Far East. Through Mr. Randall's intensive effort to strengthen and increase the Agency's role in the coordination of clandestine collection activities, he has been able to set a positive pattern of effective procedures for coordination of the military services' clandestine collection operations. These procedures are now emulated wherever possible throughout the Far East. Mr. Randall's tenacity and patience, based on solid operational Field and Headquarters' experience, have worked to a distinct advantage for the Agency in the PBRAMPART field. Chief of Station, Tokyo, has stated that the vast improvement in the local coordination business has been in large part due to Mr. Randall's good work. Further, as a supervisor and a manager Mr. Randall has quite successfully handled from ten to fifteen subordinates in such diverse functions as Central Registry, local [illegible] establishment, Agency participation in a multi-agency CI Repository, and the Agency-run multi-agency Central Carding facility.

3. During Mr. Randall's [illegible] service at the Tokyo Station, he has [illegible] and capability to carry on a variety of tasks [illegible] Chief of Station [illegible] Mr. [illegible] capable of assuming greater responsibilities. In the most recent recommendation, Chief of Station, Tokyo emphasized that Mr. Randall's performance was characterized by exceptional proficiency in all respects of his assigned duties, and, therefore, endorsed his previous recommendation and strongly recommended Mr. Randall's promotion to GS-14 at an early date.

4. In the most recent fitness report on Mr. Randall, he was rated over-all "Strong" and was given "Outstanding" for the Specific Duty Number One, "PBRAMPART Officer." In the narrative comment on Mr. Randall's performance the rating officer characterized Mr. Randall as capable, versatile, and as having a fine career potential. Further, the rating officer stated that "because of his sound operational background, presence of mind, forceful reasoning, and the consideration the military therefore holds for him, Mr. Randall has been able to play a prime part in our excellent PBRAMPART posture." The Chief of Station, in commenting on the rating officer's fitness report on Mr. Randall, heartily concurred with the rating officer's description of Mr. Randall's performance and described Mr. Randall's contribution to the Station as being of the highest caliber.

5. In endorsing the recommendation of Chief of Station, Tokyo, I wish to add that, from my personal knowledge of Mr. Randall's performance, he is a thoroughly reliable and competent case officer. In watching the PBRAMPART activities during the past year, I strongly commend Tokyo Station and Mr. Randall for effecting certain improvements of what was already a rather efficient coordination process. Mr. Randall's job is not always a happy one because he would rather be more active in clandestine operational activities; however, if Tokyo Station had a less experienced and less competent officer handling the PBRAMPART coordination activities, this particularly important area of our responsibilities would certainly suffer. For this and the reasons set forth above, Mr. Randall's performance deserves recognition by a promotion to GS-14 at this time.

1. Mr. Frederick C. Randall joined the Agency in September 1951 and has served in Headquarters and the Field on Indonesian and Japan affairs. He is currently assigned to Tokyo where he is chief of a section concerned with PBRAMPART and operational support activities. Mr. Randall has been in grade since September 1958 and was recently recommended for promotion to GS-14 by Tokyo Chief of Station.

2. In handling his primary duty, Station PBRAMPART responsibilities, Mr. Randall has set a pattern and established procedures which have been copied throughout FE Division. His work with his military colleague in Tokyo is excellent and his unassuming patience based on solid experience continues to be a distinct advantage for the Agency in the PBRAMPART field in Japan. The vast improvement in the local coordination business has been in large part due to his good work. In his recommendation, Tokyo Chief of Station said Mr. Randall has demonstrated that he is ready to assume greater responsibilities and that a commensurate increase in GS grade is in order.

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP in the CAREER STAFF of the CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

To the Director of Central Intelligence

Sir:

I submit herewith my application for membership in the Career Staff of the Central Intelligence Agency as defined below:

MEMORANDUM FOR: FE/Personnel

SUBJECT: Promotion of RANDALL, Frederick C.

1. Mr. Randall assumed his present duties as FI operations officer for Indonesia on 26 May 1954. Prior to that time he served as Chief, CE Unit, FE/5.

2. Mr. Randall has performed his duties as FI officer for Indonesia in an extremely satisfactory manner. The monthly letter of the Senior Representative to the Director has, without exception, stated that Headquarters' support of the Djakarta Station has been efficient. Mr. Randall's performance is characterized by a high degree of industry and thoroughness. He has been described as one of those individuals to whom a supervisor can assign a task, and then turn to other matters with sure confidence that the job will be completed, to the last detail, and on time.

3. Mr. Randall has demonstrated clearly his growing ability to handle larger responsibilities. His transition from a CE Unit Chief's job to that of FI operations officer for the Indonesian Unit has been smooth. Once he learns a new technique or procedural method, Mr. Randall can put it into operation without further supervision.

4. Mr. Randall is strongly recommended for promotion to GS-12.

I am aware of the fact that the Central Intelligence Agency, by reason of the sensitive nature of its work, must observe very strict security measures. I agree to honor the requests of CIA relative to my application whether it be accepted or rejected. I agree not to inform anyone that I am being considered for a position in CIA. If questioned directly, I will say that I have applied for positions in various government agencies, and if pressed for an answer will acknowledge that CIA is one of them but will attach no particular significance to such application. I agree not to disclose personnel procedures I have observed in CIA. I agree not to discuss by name or otherwise, any individuals with whom I have talked in the course of my application to CIA.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Frederick C. Randall

SUBJECT : Acknowledgment of Evaluation Board Functional Category

REFERENCE : Evaluation Board Precepts for Your Grade

1. Based upon an examination of your past assignments and duties, and after considering likely future assignments, you have been placed (subject to your signature below) in the functional category W for Evaluation Board purposes. Precise definitions of this category are contained in the Evaluation Board precepts for your grade. This placement is made in order that your performance, growth potential, and career planning may be judged against officers similarly placed professionally. YOU ARE URGED TO STUDY THE PRECEPTS AND CONSIDER YOUR OWN CASE CAREFULLY.

2. In general, you should consider the following;

a. Categories are sharply defined. Competition is within categories, not between them. Thus, a weak B/OG performance is not strengthened by reclassifying it as B/OS.

b. A change in category after sustained performance in a different category may cause a temporary loss of momentum in your career advancement until you have demonstrated proficiency in your new assignment.

c. A category change should not be initiated for the period of a temporary, training or rotational assignment unless a permanent change of career track will follow.

3. If you believe that this is not the correct category for you because the substantive nature of your job more closely approximates another category or because you have made a permanent change of career track, please take the matter up through your command channel to secure the concurrence of your component of assignment or of your home base component, as appropriate, to a change of your category. Previously assigned and acknowledged categories will remain in effect until a fully executed acknowledgment of change is received by the Career Management Staff.

4. Please sign and date this notification in the space provided and return it to your Personnel Evaluation and Management Officer or to your Personnel Officer.

ACKNOWLEDGED:

Frederick C. Randall

SECTION D NARRATIVE COMMENTS

Indicate significant strengths or weaknesses demonstrated in current position keeping in proper perspective their relationship to overall performance. State suggestions made for improvement of work performance. Give recommendations for training. Comment on foreign language competence, if required for current position. Amplify or explain ratings given in Section C to provide best basis for determining future personnel action. Manner of performance of managerial or supervisory duties and cost consciousness in the use of personnel, space, equipment and funds, must be commented on, if applicable. If extra space is needed to complete Section D, attach a separate sheet of paper.

I rate Mr. Randall "outstanding" for Duty Number 1 (his principal responsibility) for this period. He has done an exceptional job of supervising, motivating, training and guiding his group in a remorseless and pressure-laden atmosphere, requiring both close attention to detail and constant alertness to broad operational and policy implications. The workload is larger and more complicated than anything I know of handled by any line opera~~tional~~ officer with equivalent grade and responsibility. The preceding two fitness reports describe well the nature of the job. It remains only to be noted that Mr. Randall is the perfect man for the job, combining a remarkable match of leadership, operational savvy, legal and policy awareness and, perhaps most important, negotiating ability with both the Agency lawyers and legislative counsels, and the operating divisions in a bizarre situation that completely transcends the DO's need-to-know practices (Top Secret and compartmented, bigotted information must be reviewed) and yet requires the protection of our sources and methods. Dedicated, discreet, smart, and honest, Mr. Randall is very likely one of very few DO officers of his grade who could have handled this job from scratch, done so with virtually flawless output, and created a body of judgments and advice that is trusted, proven and amounts to de facto DO policy on how to protect our secrets.

Mr. Randall also has major planning obligations within IMS, serving as a voting member of the PMC and three times a week with Chief, IMS and other (continued)

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

I agree with the letter ratings and the narrative comments above, particularly those in paragraph 1 of the narrative.

Mr. Randall is a dedicated, forceful, purposeful, dependable, disciplined officer. Although his personal preference would have been to do something else, he effectively manages and leads the Freedom of Information and Privacy Group of IMS--demonstrating a self reliant style which has brought great credit to work in this area in the DO and to himself. Mr. Randall's past several fitness reports attested to his talents and growth in this assignment.

As was observed in Mr. Randall's last fitness report, a new assignment must be found

Randall, Frederick

Group chiefs in a broad review of disparate IMS operations: computers, information management planning for the DO and its current services. He is articulate and effective in presenting views from the IMS/FPG vantage, but at this level, I want to see more concern about the people and activities of companion IMS elements, more brainstorming of common problems. He is the least active of the four group chiefs in this area, although he has the inquisitiveness and intellect to contribute importantly in cross-discipline problems. I find no weakness here, but Mr. Randall's contributions here do not measure up comparatively to his exceptional performance in all other areas.

In these other areas, covering duties 3 and 4, Mr. Randall and his group stimulated, staffed out and justified three remarkably successful policy changes: a Presidential statement that sources and methods information need not be classified to be protected; a DCI policy that DO records ipso facto are not releasable (despite an OGC opinion to the contrary), and a policy allowing employees access to their files without going through the FOIA or Privacy Act folderol. While not individual accomplishments by Mr. Randall, they bespeak ~~from~~ the leadership and guidance he gave, and they are typical of the kind of case officer professionalism he has and we have needed to help protect agents, operations and officers from exposure. I do think it is sad to have to divert good DO talent to disclosure law problems; but if we must, then Mr. Randall's experience and abilities have counted a great deal in such successes we have had in keeping our secrets.

Mr. Randall's fitness reporting is accurate and fair. Per HR 20-20, it is noted for the record that Mr. Randall displays appropriate concern in equal employment opportunity areas: women comprise more than half of his group. He has three minority officers. Levels of responsibility here are above Agency norm.

for this experienced supervisor. He has demonstrated his versatility and commitment by doing a job for four years that probably few other DO ops officers/managers would or could do as well as he has. For the good of his morale, the interest of his further development and in the interest of the Directorate, he has earned a change.

Amplify or explain ratings given in Section C to provide best basis for determining future personnel action. The merger of units which created the Information Services Staff brought Mr. Randall and his staff under my supervision for the first time. Prior to that we had been colleagues in Services Staff, whose chief wrote Mr. Randall's Fitness Report. No change in function accompanied the change in organization, however, and the praise contained in those earlier reports could be ~~echoed here~~.

During 1977, Mr. Randall and his group have continued to render this Directorate outstanding service in an arena where there is little glory but the constant threat of disaster. In the preparation of materials for release under FOIA, the Privacy Act or E.O. 11652, the researcher treads a fine, barely visible line between protection of operational secrets and revelation of material properly releasable under the law. He is denied the easy choice of over-protection because each decision is subject to the scrutiny of the courts, and the Agency's credibility is on the line each time a judge challenges a deletion or the denial of a document. (That credibility is apparently quite high in the courts. We have yet to be reversed in appeals cases on information denied by PIAG on grounds of classification or sources/methods.) The research on which we rely is almost autonomous; reviews of finished cases are necessarily limited and (cont'd)

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

I think it is important first to echo the remarks in the last paragraph of the narrative above. Mr. Randall is an exceptionally proficient performer in a position that few other DO officers want to occupy. The DO is fortunate to have a person of his caliber handling FOIA and related matters.

As I see his performance, Mr. Randall has made a significant effort in advancing national intelligence objectives by doing everything possible to protect DO "sources and methods." He has represented us exceedingly well in this area and as a result, to his credit, little has gotten away through the FOIA channel. The way things are organized, cursory, and from the beginning there has been a high premium on both technical accuracy and sound substantive judgment. As Mr. Randall himself noted in a report on his deputy, we have an enviable record as far as "flaps" are concerned; in a situation fraught with danger of inappropriate release of information we have had only five cases where release has led to embarrassment -- out of 7,000 "possibles." Mr. Randall, with typical modesty, uses the statistic in praise of others; I choose to use it to praise him. The Group's record to date is nothing short of astonishing, and Mr. Randall can take great pride in his team's accomplishments.

He has built an extremely able and dedicated team, and he is as quick as anyone I know to ascribe to individual members of that team credit for actions, ideas or progress. They respond to his fairness with loyalty and affection, and their morale in the face of constant harrassment and frustration is testimony to his leadership.

New responsibilities for support to the Office of General Counsel were added to PIAG's burdens this year. Mr. Randall opposed the move and argues (and lobbied) intelligently to preclude it, to no avail. It is to his credit that, having urged a different course of action, he set about to ensure that the unpopular new function received the same careful attention which has been the hallmark of PIAG's other work. As a consequence, our OGC-related efforts, which are very demanding and time-consuming, have the PIAG stamp of excellence on them.

Mr. Randall created the system he manages, and continues to seek ways to improve upon it. Our move to an automated index of reviewed and released documents was urged and supported by Mr. Randall, and he has been equally supportive of a new branch chief's efforts to restructure our Initial Review process. He is also quick to see and to comment on the way our efforts affect larger Agency and government equities, and vice versa.

During this year his responsibilities were broadened by the addition of our Declassification Review Branch to his Group, a reflection of our recognition of the inevitable relationship between scheduled declassification and selective declassification and release under FOIA/PA/E.O. 11652. This Branch will shortly be absorbed by the new Records Review Branch of the DDA, but PIAG will continue to be the focal point for policy formulation on declassification of DO records.

NARRATIVE COMMENTS - cont'd

Mr. Randall has expressed to me his concern about what may be viewed as a drop in his rating from my predecessor's "O" to my "S." I have assured him, and assure the reader, that this change signals no diminution in his performance or effectiveness, but rather a personal inclination to use "Outstanding" very rarely. The narrative comments above should clearly attest to that fact that I view Mr. Randall's performance as very strong, bordering on Outstanding. The Agency and the DO have been fortunate to have a man of this caliber in charge of PIAG.

Mr. Randall is one of the key policy makers in this area. His policies have stood the test up to now as our excellent record in the courts attests.

Having said this, it should be noted that Mr. Randall's numerous accomplishments are partly because the job was there to be created. Within the DO he cut the path which is now followed when handling FOIA matters. He has corrected and improved upon that path several times over. Thus, the time is coming for him to be given a change in assignment; an opportunity to use his managerial and supervisory skills elsewhere. He will have been in his present assignment three years in March 1978. One grows stale reviewing, sanitizing and making judgment calls in the FOIA arena day after day. Mr. Randall isn't stale yet but we should not wait until he reaches that stage to give him a new area in which to work.

My qualitative assessment and comments in Fred's February 1976 Fitness Report apply equally today; in fact, they fall short, in view of the quantitative and administrative changes of the past year.

The news headlines, the new oversight demands, an increasingly sophisticated FOIA requester group and judiciary, plus a highly organized hostile element, epitomized by the Center for National Security Studies, has made the PICG function all the more significant. Cases in litigation involving DDO materials now number 58 and the appeal pattern is now running 1:2 (i.e., one appeal for two initial requests, with subsequent litigation--anticipating deep analysis and Deputy Director-level review) compared to 1:3 last year. Appeal-level analysis is much more time-consuming, hence the backlog reduction process suffers; hence, overtime and fire-fighting remain the norm. Double-encumbered personnel detailing has raised the on-board PICG total from the 18 stated in last year's FR to 25. The managerial task of motivating workers in this continuously grinding and frustrating environment was harder this year, yet was met by Fred with the same qualities as those which led his people to write me an unsolicited letter of appreciation for his efforts as their supervisor. We have all felt that one burns out in this kind of thing after about a year and a half; Fred and some of the first people to come aboard are a bit ground down, but, if anything, the quality has improved--witness the fact that we have yet to lose a case in court or to be forced to release a document we thought should be denied.

Adding to the complexity of Fred's life during this period, was increasing involvement in non-FOIA litigation support, (e.g., ITT/Chile, the Socialist Workers Party case, etc.) both to me and to SA/DDO/O. Additional administrative complexity results from my having changed staffs, while being asked to retain the DDO Information Review Officer function. Hence, split daily support to me as well as periodic support to SA/DDO/O, poses a potentially ticklish situation with Fred's organizational supervisor who is Chief, ISS. In fact, Fred walks this tightrope quite well.

Finally, Fred has persistently tried to convince others that there is a critical need for a centralized capability to assess the total Agency impact of decentralized information release, whether to FOIA, congressional, judicial, news media or other non-intelligence requesters. His efforts are about to bear fruit, since this will be an EAG agenda item next month.

Whether it's bringing his professional overseas background to bear on the analysis for release process; protecting sources and methods in the now "open sunshine" context; trying to save resources and ensure efficient procedures; deal effectively and impressively with senior officers in this Agency and others; or supervise a collection of dedicated and hardworking people, firmly but with good humor and understanding, Fred has done an Outstanding job. He will be very hard to replace, and yet, he should move on.

Mr. Randall supervises the unit responsible for developing the DDO answer to Freedom of Information Act and Privacy Act requests, both at the initial request level and, increasingly, at the appeal and litigation levels. His organization is still less than one year old but has gone through several growth surges as the public reacted to the past year's publicity about CIA, demanding great amounts of information. Last March, Randall and his secretary played the role, then the T/O went from 6 to 12 to its current level of 18. In this period, initial requests received by the Agency reached nearly 10,000; appeals number about 300, and there are currently 31 cases in litigation, the DDO being involved in 27. Much overtime is the norm, in a backlogged, firefighting environment.

This has been uncharted sailing. Years of conditioning in sources and methods protection made analysis of DDO materials for release agonizing. The Watergate and Congressional investigation experience produced over-reaction tendencies in the Agency. As the individual responsible for releasing or denying DDO materials in the first instance, and subsequently defending DDO decisions in affidavits and adversarial oral depositions, I not only attest to the excellence of Mr. Randall's analysis and recommendations, but gratefully thank those who brought him to the job in the first instance. Frustrating and often demoralizing as his job is, he does it with real professionalism and seems to have been made for it. As I said in a memo last October which resulted in a QSI for him, in spite of the ambiguity of the guidelines, constant pressure of short deadlines, very large volume of work and cultural trauma generated by the Acts, his performance has been Outstanding.

Earlier fitness reports, in a different context, stated or implied some reservation about his energy or initiative or independent action. I can't imagine that we're talking about the same man. Close to 95% of the mass of Agency FOIA receipts have involved the DDO. I know all of the persons involved in other directorates and said, only 6 months into this year, that Fred was head and shoulders above the others, combining professionalism, tact, persuasiveness, analytic skills, tough-mindedness and pragmatism in sources and methods protection. He suggested policy, strongly influenced implementation, and debated, usually successfully, with the lawyers, with DDO branch, division and staff chiefs, with other Agency contacts and others above his current grade level--all with a sustaining sense of humor.

As to management of his unit: he has consistently resisted empire-building opportunities, trying to keep his staff small. When growth was inevitable, he concentrated on quality in personnel selected for this atypical DDO work rather than accepting the short fix to the statistical backlog problem because routine or "passable" effort is not good enough in litigation. The best reflection of his managerial ability can be seen in an unsolicited testimony from his staff which I have attached to this report to make it a part of the official record; it is the first of its kind to come to my attention in my 23 plus years in the Agency. (If some jaded cynics in these days of non-credibility doubt the spontaneity and true feeling of Mr. Randall's staff in this action, and one or two of my staff have, I can only feel sad for them. This is a breath of fresh air to me.)

Randall has made a singularly impressive shift in direction, has changed career category and, in my judgment, has unqualifiedly demonstrated his command of the position he holds. I have recommended recognition of that fact.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Services Staff

SUBJECT: Fred Randall, C/DDO/PIC

1. This memorandum is intended to state what we, the staff of DDO/PIC, think of our Chief, Mr. Fred Randall. Mr. Randall is not aware of this memorandum.

2. We believe he is outstanding as a manager and fellow worker! His sensitive understanding of human relationships is balanced by a no-nonsense firmness to get the job done. Using extraordinary patience, brains, tact, and diplomacy, along with long hours and weekend time, he has set an example for his entire staff. Mr. Randall's deep knowledge of operations, his grasp of the implications of past operations on current activity, his determination to protect the Agency and the DDO from the devastating impact of unwarranted and unauthorized release of information, and his judgement of the fine line between what should and should not be released under appropriate law and policy, have formed a major line of protection for the USG and the Agency.

3. He has not hesitated to make decisions, nor to disagree when he felt disagreement warranted. A strong aversion to pyramid building has underlined his cost-consciousness to get the most done with the least amount of expenditures. Yet, his determination and firmness are based upon an open, objective mind, willing to listen to different views, and to change his position if he is convinced of the need for change.

4. His strong desire to aid employees in career development is re-inforced by concrete actions, positive suggestions, defined tasks, and frequent checks to assess the quality and quantity of work product.

5. The nature of the task assigned to DDO/PIC includes the word by word review of thousands of pages of documents. The impact on the Agency, and the USG, of unauthorized disclosure of secrets, adds to the weight of constant decision making, and to the strain and tension of defending a crucial perimeter. And this perimeter is under an almost daily attack of erupting crises. Mr. Randall's dedication and superior ability in handling an onerous, difficult, and complex job, filled with frustrations that would dismay and discourage others, has been truly outstanding.

6. Mr. Randall has had his finger in the dike for an incredibly long time. He has been operating in a hazardous, high pressure environment, fraught with penalties if he does not make the right decisions, and little recognized when he does. Yet, his common sense decisions have been accepted, and have become policy--policy that ordinarily is made by very senior super-grade officers of the Agency. An assignment in DDO/PIC can burn out rapidly many competent individuals. Fred Randall is still going strong, and continuing to do an outstanding job!

MEMORANDUM IN LIEU OF FITNESS REPORT

SUBJECT: Mr. Frederick C. Randall, GS-14/7

1. This report is submitted as part of a package suggesting that Mr. Randall be awarded a QSI for his performance since becoming the DDO Freedom of Information Officer in February of this year. In this context, it is not appropriate that he see and sign this memorandum, since I want this to be a surprise. Nor, it seems, is it necessary to have a Reviewing Official for this interim report; the DDO has suggested, in commenting on my out-of-cycle recommendation of 8 August 75 for Mr. Randall's promotion, that a memorandum be submitted recommending a QSI at this time.

2. I consider Mr. Randall's performance as DDO/FIO (now DDO/PIC, for Privacy Act and FOIA Coordinator) to be Outstanding. As I have said elsewhere, he is, in my view, the most impressive of all the Agency FIO's combining DDO professionalism, tact, persuasiveness, analytic skills and an informed, tough-minded approach toward sources and methods protection. I have received considerable laudatory comment about his work from OGC, OLC, O/DDA and within the DO.

3. From a one-man operation with secretary, the FOIA activity expanded in four months to an approved T/O of 7, with a pending request for 5 more, and the possibility of further increases depending on public reaction to the Privacy Act and the amount of litigation that develops. Fred has done an excellent job of selecting his staff for what is an often frantic, frustrating and long-houred environment; he also manages them well, with humor and compassion and with high analysis and output standards. He is conscious of cost, particularly in human effort, in this exercise and of the need for balance in the application of secrecy criteria in today's environment. I am, obviously, impressed and pleased with his assistance, and feel comfortably supported by his group's efforts in avoiding or preparing for litigation actions in FOIA and Privacy Act cases.

Mr. Randall has now functioned as a Branch Chief under my supervision for a period of about sixteen months and we have had ample time to observe him in action in this position. I rate him as an overall "Strong" and give him good marks for a steadily improved performance during the rating period. Whereas I had indicated in his last fitness report a need for him to be more demanding in challenging faulty proposals or resolving problems which come to him at his Branch Chief level, he now exerts a good degree of initiative in independent action and offers good completed staff work to the Division Chief level for scrutiny. Mr. Randall's branch encompasses four (4) busy Bases (Atlanta, Boston, Los Angeles and San Francisco). He keeps effectively abreast of the operational developments coming out of each Base and represents this Division very persuasively in obtaining good guidance messages going back out to the Bases. He has also kept himself well informed on the Management by Objectives targets assigned to each of his Bases where a total of about forty (40) personnel are assigned, and has been strong in supporting his Bases' efforts to achieve these objectives.

Mr. Randall has matured nicely as a manager these past months and is on top of the many administrative, personnel and operational support problems which are of a frequently recurring nature in our type operational activity. He is also a good team player, has the best interests of this Division at heart, and gives thoroughly of himself in his job. He has worked hard in bringing himself up to his present level of performance which I appraise as an unqualified "Strong".

REVIEWING OFFICIALS COMMENTS (Frederick C. Randall)

I concur generally with the comments of the rating officer. I believe Mr. Randall has shown improvement in his handling of his Branch Chief responsibilities. I agree that he has shown greater initiative in this reporting period than in the previous ones, however, I would still like to see a somewhat greater and quicker recognition on Mr. Randall's part of operational problem areas. Granted that this is a talent that is frequently hard to develop, it is nonetheless, essential for all Branch Chiefs in this Division to achieve a high degree of operational perspicacity. Mr. Randall has the ability and needs only additional experience to improve his focus on the operational targeting efforts of his respective Bases. He is a thoughtful and considerate supervisor, respected by his subordinates and he represents the Division very well indeed. Mr. Randall's career would be enhanced were he in a position to accept a field assignment which would get him into direct operational contact, i.e., recruiting and handling agents. Unfortunately, for family medical reasons he will apparently be confined to the Headquarters area for an indefinite period. On balance, I consider him to be a good Branch Chief who willingly works long hours and does his job well.

Mr. Randall has served under me for slightly more than three months and had just taken over his new position duties when I arrived for duty in this Division. During this brief period, however, he has displayed considerable dedication and interest in applying himself to his newly assigned tasks as Chief of one of our three operating branches. This branch which comprises Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston and Atlanta Bases, is shaping up nicely thus far under this supervision, and appears well organized to support the four bases in the months ahead. He could at times be a bit more demanding in challenging some aspects of proposals or problems at the Branch level instead of allowing them to pass on up to the Division Chief level for decision, but it is hoped that he will gradually develop his style in this direction as he becomes more accustomed to his expanded responsibilities as Branch Chief. The thorough test of his managerial skills, however, will occur in this upcoming period when all the Bases in his Branch become operationally active on a broad front and will require a continuing high quality of supervision, guidance and support from the Branch Chief's office. I would rate his performance to date as an overall "Strong".

3. Reviewing Official's Comments:

I concur generally with the above rating. I also observed in the early days of Mr. Randall's assignment as Branch Chief, that his performance could certainly have been stronger. It took him somewhat longer than I had anticipated to really take charge of his Branch. However, I feel that as he has continued in this assignment he has made very definite progress. He is now generally well informed on the operational activities taking place in his area and has begun to exercise a greater degree of initiative and aggressiveness in handling the operational matters that cross his desk. Had I been the rating officer I probably would have given Mr. Randall a somewhat lower, more qualified "Strong" rating. If he continues to improve in the months ahead as he has in the past several, I believe he can earn an unqualified "Strong" rating for this performance.

In the less than six months since my preparation of the previous report on Mr. Randall, his overall performance has continued strong. He has effectively continued to provide the day-to-day operational support for the FR Bases in Los Angeles and San Francisco and the two (soon to be three) singleton officers in the Northwest, Colorado and Arizona. The level and complexity of the operational support and guidance which he has provided with skill, sensitivity and humanness has continued uniformly high.

Mr. Randall has again effectively trained a new Intelligence Analyst with no loss of efficiency or responsiveness to the ever-increasing field requirements.

Mr. Randall has been under my supervision for 28 months as the San Francisco/Los Angeles Desk officer and has continued successfully to meet the challenges of increased responsibility. It is now planned to appoint him as Branch Chief to be responsible for the Bases in Boston and Atlanta as well as Los Angeles and San Francisco. The increase in complexity of this new assignment for him will be heightened by the assignment of additional operational personnel in three of his four Bases, which will materially add to the demanding workload of his Branch. We are confident he will be able to meet the challenge of these added responsibilities.

Mr. Randall continues to exercise the responsibility of providing the day-to-day operational support for the FR Bases in Los Angeles and San Francisco. The comments that were made in the previous fitness report bear repetition. In any other Division the backstopping of two Bases, which are Stations in all but name, would involve at least an entire branch and all the supervisory responsibility that such support entails rather than a single officer with an Intelligence Analyst. Mr. Randall does all of this and has continued to do it well. During the year both Bases have increased substantially in size and in degree and complexity of the operational activities there. He has supported both Bases exceptionally well.

In addition to carrying on the full-time responsibility for both Bases he has continued to demonstrate a willingness and a sensitivity to increase the effectiveness of his Intelligence Analyst, who has now gone on to a sensitive SB position with additional responsibility, by careful tutorial training and guidance. He has then been called upon to train a second Intelligence Analyst quickly and did so while maintaining a high degree of responsiveness to the continued demands of the two Bases.

Mr. Randall continued to turn in a "Strong" performance and is held in high

I fully concur in the overall "Strong" rating given to Mr. Randall. During this reporting period he has certainly performed in an extremely able manner. When Mr. Randall was first assigned to our Division Headquarters component, it was my distinct impression that he was very definitely lacking in energy. However, as time has progressed and he has become more experienced in our mode of operations, I am pleased to note that he pursues his operational objectives with very commendable energy and vigor. Mr. Randall writes well and quickly. I think his operational judgment is good. I also believe that his strengths lie in the Headquarters or Staff end of the Clandestine Service rather than in direct agent recruiting and

Mr. Randall has the responsibility of providing the day to day operational support to FR Bases in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Both bases have increased substantially in size during the past year to where there are presently six senior case officers and an intelligence assistant in Los Angeles and ten senior case officers and an intelligence analyst in San Francisco all generating significant operational activity requiring substantive guidance, management and organizational initiative of the highest order. In any other Division the backstopping of an element of this size and complexity would involve an entire branch and all the supervisory responsibility that goes with it rather than a single officer and an intelligence analyst. In the FR Division the decision was made to keep the Headquarters complement small and to do a job with carefully selected experienced and skilled senior operations officers who, based on their own field and personal experience, are able to press the right buttons to evoke appropriate responses from the various area divisions and staffs and to provide practical guidance on their own.

In exercising this function, Mr. Randall has continued to demonstrate those critical qualities of energy, loyalty and dedication. He cares. He is concerned with end results as well as the means by which the end is reached. He is

I think the narrative portion of the above rating is a thoughtful and accurate account of a conscientious officer's performance. However, I believe the letter grades are a little on the high side as I feel a precise letter description would be in the overall "S-" or "P+" category. Since I have great confidence in the rating officer, I am prepared to defer to his judgment as stated above. I think it might be noted that Mr. Randall has indeed come along very nicely in his present assignment. I believe he is eminently well qualified to perform his current job. I believe that his talents and experience are better utilized in his current assignment then they would be in a more direct operational, i.e., agent handling and intellectually honest and has developed his organizational imagination to where he is able to identify the potential operational advantages and disadvantages on which he bases his recommendations for appropriate action.

Mr. Randall is a humanist, careful and considerate in his dealings with others, firm when necessary, scrupulously fair, with a down-to-earth approach and a sensitiveness to the nuances of the interrelations of major headquarters components all of which contribute to his Strong performance.

Mr. Randall unfailingly demonstrates a wide ranging intellectual awareness and curiosity, and is able to refine and use these in his approach to problem solving.

recruiting situation. On balance, I have been pleased with Mr. Randall's performance and feel that he is doing a good job.

As a final statement, it is my opinion that Mr. Randall does not have the requisite GS-14 convertibility from his present desk assignment to that of an active field case officer charged with the recruitment of agents. This is not stated in denigration of Mr. Randall for there is clearly a need and a place for the type of talents he possesses. I think we have found that place in the job that he is now performing.

Mr. Randall continues to view his responsibilities with enthusiasm and serious concern. Given the complexities of dealing with every area division and staff within DDP on cover matters, academic approvals, targetting against foreign nationals, recruitment of support assets, secure operational approaches, etc.--I would characterize his overall performance as evincing exceptional proficiency. This was accomplished in a period which saw both Bases increase their striking power numerically rather significantly. In the ultimate, the real test of performance is in recruitment of foreign nationals. While recruitment is not part of Mr. Randall's duties there is no doubt that his support of the two Bases contributed to the highest record of recruitment that these Bases had as compared to any other year. At the same time, he consciously maintained an excellent balance in the outgo of funds for operational purposes. He is held in high regard by both Base Chiefs. Since much of the routine desk work is done by his Intel Assistant, it is a tribute to his supervisory capability that this service maintains a high rate of efficiency despite the significant increase in work, and the fact that during this period there were three different intel assistants. Since the supervisor began phasing out of his job for several months prior to 31 March, a rather conscious decision was made to have Mr. Randall in fact assume some of the responsibility of the Branch Chief. Not only has he taken these added tasks willingly and with the confidence of DO's management, but he has performed superbly.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

I concur, generally, with the narrative portion of this report. However, I feel that it is somewhat overstated. Specifically, I would not rate his performance of Duty No. 1 as "outstanding", rather I would rate it "strong". I consider Mr. Randall a capable officer, but feel his overall performance falls somewhere on the border of a "low strong" and a "high proficient". Let me hasten to add that I am fully satisfied with Mr. Randall's performance in his present assignment, and I have every confidence that he will continue to do a completely satisfactory job.

This is Mr. Randall's first fitness report for a Headquarters assignment following nearly 9 years in the field, of which over 4 years were at the Washington Base. Even with this field background of operational activity in the USA, Subject finds himself faced with a different kind of target situation than he had at the Washington Base. Since the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bases have little in terms of a large PCS diplomatic community (as compared with Washington), their targetting for the most part is aimed at those foreign nationals, designated as important targets by the area divisions, who are graduate students in US universities.

The reporting period (of 3 1/2 months) is too short a time to give a fair evaluation of Subject's performance. This much can be said. Subject has undertaken his responsibilities with enthusiasm and a willingness to learn. He has made mistakes but these were "par for the course" and none that were not retriyable and correctable. Given the way he has jumped into the fray, I would characterize his overall performance as evincing exceptional proficiency. He is conscious of and maintains a good balance in the outgo of funds for field operational purposes. He is a good supervisor. He has more to absorb and digest in terms of the myriad problems facing an officer giving total support to two Bases. He has to date made an auspicious beginning. As a desk officer, agent recruitment is not part of his duties.

This case officer is intelligent and articulate, and is capable of dealing with equanimity with intellectuals, particularly academicians. He has had sufficient experience in field assignments to have developed an area of expertise. His operational and intelligence reporting is organized, coherent and thorough.

He was one of the few officers within the Base who made agent recruitments during the period. One of these was essentially routine, through no fault of the rated officer, but in another case the officer skillfully used an imaginative cover, as he also did in a third recruitment case which had the additional complexity of WODISH involvement. In all these cases the officer illustrated his ability to plan, organize and carry through an operation to a successful conclusion.

If I were to fault this officer I would say that he is not essentially an activist, and that he lacks the force to be a notable recruiter. Conversely he does possess the sense of caution which slows down recruitment but also saves mistakes.

COMMENTS OF REVIEWING OFFICIAL

I am somewhat surprised that the rater gives an overall rating of "P" for Subject's performance when in the rater's own words "he was one of the few officers within the Base who made agent recruitments." In another recent fitness report on another officer who has since been transferred and whose activities for the year have been rather minimal, i.e., no recruitments and rather marginal agent handling, the rater gave him the overall rating of "S". Apparently the rater prefers a "social animal." The fact remains that Subject, while giving the outward impression of being low-key was indeed an active and thorough case officer and was given special assignments because of his dependability and capabilities. I would have given Subject a higher rating.

Subject is the FE referent for the Base and, as such, has the responsibility for coordinating all work against the FE targets as well as himself handling the bulk of operational activity in this category. In addition, as is true of all officers at the Base, he is responsible for contacting and developing American and foreign nationals in the Washington area with the capability of producing intelligence and operational information of interest to WOFIRM. His forte continues to be the exploitation of existing assets rather than the recruitment of new agents, particularly among foreign nationals. However, the lack of a good access cover has hampered his recruitment activity against foreign nationals to some extent. He performs his supervisory functions well. He has asked for transfer to WCROMP and the rating officer endorses this request, feeling that Subject's high degree of expertise in the FE area would well qualify him for work of a substantive nature in the WOROMP. Subject is cost conscious and his accounting for official funds is prompt and accurate. No training is contemplated or recommended at this time.

Subject has Washington Base responsibility for operations directed against FE Division targets. He continues to do an excellent job of exploiting his foreign and domestic contacts for operational and intelligence purposes. His patience, skill and sophistication in the handling of sensitive oriental agents and agent candidates has meant a continual increase in the calibre of Base operations against these targets. He has developed a Burmese official (WUTHAL) to the point of giving useful information on his Embassy and his Government's intentions at a time when it is difficult to have any contact with Burmese at all. The intelligence reporting from his other agents--particularly WUFLY and WUSHARK--has been impressive and he has talked WUSHARK into attempting to get a posting to Peking.

He has, on his own, developed a solid academic cover and has used it to advantage on occasions when his official cover was not appropriate. He is very cost conscious and his handling of confidential funds is characterized by good judgement and prompt accountings. He has excellent working relations with his colleagues at the Base and in Headquarters.

Subject has US Station responsibility for Far Eastern operations. He continues to do an excellent job of exploiting his foreign and American contacts for operational and intelligence objectives. His handling of a difficult penetration agent in the Indonesian Embassy (HASHARK) has received high praise in formal traffic from Headquarters. A previously unproductive Station agent (WUALLOY/1) has improved his reporting and his access since Subject has taken him over, and was the Station's only agent at the Havana Tri-Continent Conference. Subject's handling of a potential penetration operation against the Indonesian Embassy showed balanced judgment and a good appreciation of the CE and FI factors involved. His knowledge of Far Eastern politics, geography and contemporary history is encyclopedic, and his handling of orientals in the USA confirms the high marks given him by FE supervisors in earlier reports. He has begun to use his cover in initiating new contacts within the diplomatic community, as well as continuing to assess several WUENVOY candidates within the academic community. His handling of confidential funds is characterised by good judgment and prompt accountings. He has excellent working relations with his colleagues at the Station and in Headquarters.

MEMORANDUM IN LIEU OF FITNESS REPORT

NAME : Frederick Randall 012170
REPORTING PERIOD: 21 June 1965 - 31 December 1965
DATE OF BIRTH : 28 October 1926
SEX : Male
GRADE : GS-13
SD : D
OFFICIAL TITLE : Operations Officer
ASSIGNMENT : DDP/DOD/USS
CURRENT STATION : Washington, D. C.
APPOINTMENT : Career
TYPE OF REPORT : Annual

Subject returned to the U.S. in August 1965, but did not begin substantive work in the Non-Orbit Group at the Station until late September 1965. Much of the time since his arrival has been spent on becoming acquainted with the work of the Station and in casing the operational possibilities among the FE Division targets in Washington. We, accordingly, prefer to delay until April 1966 submission of a formal Fitness Report which, hopefully, will give a more precise and meaningful evaluation of his performance than is now possible.

Subject's predecessor left him with only one "agent" - and an unproductive one at that - plus one or two equally unproductive "contacts". Subject is thus starting essentially from scratch. He is making commendable inroads into the Indonesian student community and we hope that he will also soon get in some solid work on the Indonesian and Burmese diplomatic targets.

We note that Fitness Reports submitted on Subject just before his departure from Tokyo gave him high marks for his operational support work in Japan and regretted that the situation in Tokyo did not permit him to be given as much active operational work as he wished. He will certainly have the opportunity for aggressive agent operations in Washington, and is aware that this activity will not be limited to targets of interest to FE Division, but will give him the chance to participate actively in the planning and execution of operations directed at the recruitment and/or handling of other priority targets as well.

No training is recommended at this time beyond the Clandestine Service Review Course which Subject will take in March 1966.

Subject exercises good judgement in his handling of official funds and his accountings are prompt.

He gets along well with his colleagues at the Station and in Headquarters.

Subject performs his principal duty -- handling Agreed Activities -- in outstanding fashion. In this field he represents not only this Station but other FE Stations and KUBARK in general to the U.S. military. Because of his sound operational background, presence of mind, forceful reasoning, and the consideration the military therefore holds for him, Subject has been able to play a prime part in our excellent Agreed Activities posture out here. As a result much valuable time -- and therefore money -- that would otherwise have had to be spent in negotiations with the U.S. military has been saved both by this Station and other KUBARK elements. For this reason the Station is recommending by separate correspondence that Subject be awarded a Quality Step Increase.

Subject also performs his other duties in strong fashion. He is capable, versatile, and continues to show fine career potential.

This officer has brought to bear on his current assignment his varied organization experiences in a manner which brings credit to himself as well as to the organization. His unstinting giving of himself is an outstanding attribute. The trials and tribulations of PERAMPART in an area traditionally hostile to the whole concept have made his assignment particularly challenging, always difficult, and infrequently satisfying; but he sticks to it with firm determination. His supervisory role of our Central Registry frequently catches him in the cross currents of opposing interests and priorities but he successfully calms such troubled waters. While a part of his PERAMPART activities this officer's supervision of the CCFJ, an intelligence community pooled activity for agent checks, has been excellent. Finally, his task under SD 4 is largely a handholding one but one which requires large amounts of tact, patience, and goodwill. There is no other Station officer performing comparable duties with whom this officer can be compared.

In the three months subject has been in place he has demonstrated his capacity to adapt to new conditions and situations in the face of trying to settle difficult problems of establishing his household in a country new to him. He has pitched, with zeal and enthusiasm into fields of organization activity relatively new to him. Three months in such a situation is too short a time to judge actions with great validity, but it is my considered opinion that in subject we have found the right officer in the right place at the right time and the future looks bright.

This section is provided as an aid in describing the individual. Your description is not favorable or unfavorable in itself but acquires its meaning in relation to a particular job or assignment. The descriptive words are to be interpreted literally.

On the left hand side of the page below are a series of statements that apply in some degree to most people. On the right hand side of the page are four major categories of descriptions. T[illegible] category is divided into three small blocks; this is to allow you to make finer distinctions if you so desire. Look at the statement on the left - then check the category on the right which best tells how much the statement applies to the person you are rating. Placing an "X" in the "Not Observed" column means you have no opinion on whether a phrase applies to an individual. Placing an "X" in the "Does Not Apply" column means that you have the definite opinion that the description is not at all suited to the individual.

SECTION IV

This section is provided as an aid in describing the individual. Your description is not favorable or unfavorable in itself but acquires its meaning in relation to a particular job or assignment. The descriptive words are to be interpreted literally.

On the left hand side of the page below are a series of statements that apply in some degree to most people. On the right hand side of the page are four major categories of descriptions. The scale within each category is divided into three small blocks; this is to allow you to make finer distinctions if you so desire. Look at the statement on the left - then check the category on the right which best tells how much the statement applies to the person you are rating. Placing an "X" in the "Not Observed" column means you have no opinion on whether a phrase applies to an individual. Placing an "X" in the "Does Not Apply" column means that you have the definite opinion that the description is not at all suited to the individual.

11. BRIEFLY DESCRIBE THIS PERSON'S PERFORMANCE ON THE MAJOR DUTIES LISTED UNDER ITEM 7 ABOVE.

Subject has performed his duties as listed in Section (7) in a very creditable manner. The monthly letter of the Senior Representative to the Director has, without exception, stated that Headquarters support of the Djakarta Station has been more than adequate. Since Subject is a relative newcomer to his present position and has had no field experience, he occasionally is hesitant to initiate action. However, he is clearly willing to assume responsibility when he is sure of his footing, and it will be only a question of time before he is willing and able to act in full capacity in all situations.

12. IN WHAT RESPECT IS THIS PERSON'S PERFORMANCE ON PRESENT JOB MOST NOTICEABLY GOOD OR OUTSTANDING?

Subject's performance is characterized by a high degree of industriousness and thoroughness. He is one of those supremely useful individuals to whom a supervisor can assign a task, and then turn to other matters with sure confidence that the job will be completed, to the last detail and on time.

13. ON WHAT ASPECT OF PERFORMANCE SHOULD THIS PERSON CONCENTRATE EFFORT FOR SELF IMPROVEMENT?

Subject's command of written English can stand improvement. His writing is by no means deficient in basic requirements, but practice will be needed to insure consistent production of clear and well constructed prose.

14. COMMENT ON THIS PERSON'S ABILITY TO HANDLE GREATER RESPONSIBILITIES NOW OR IN THE FUTURE.

Subject demonstrates clearly his growing ability to handle larger responsibilities. His transistion from a CE Unit Chiefs' job, to that of the Indonesia Desk FI Chief, has been a markedly smooth one. Once a new technique or procedural method is learned, subject can put it into operation when required. He is definitely potential material for a COS slot in the field.

15. ARE THERE OTHER DUTIES WHICH BETTER SUIT THIS PERSON'S QUALIFICATIONS? (Recommend appropriate reassignment, if possible.)

No

16. WHAT TRAINING OR ROTATION DO YOU RECOMMEND FOR THIS PERSON?

Recommended training includes Communist Party Operations and Anti Communist Party Operations. Recommend rotation to an Indonesian field slot. Subject has now, and is increasing his knowledge of Headquarters tasks and procedures. In approximately a year, he should put such knowledge and training into effect in the field. There is every reason to believe that he will make an excellent field case officer.

17. IF PERFORMANCE DURING REPORT PERIOD HAS BEEN UNSATISFACTORY, THERE IS ATTACHED COPY OF MEMORANDUM NOTIFYING THIS PERSON OF UNSATISFACTORY PERFORMANCE.

18. THIS PERSONNEL EVALUATION REPORT HAS BEEN DISCUSSED WITH THE PERSON EVALUATED. ADDITIONAL COMMENTS INCLUDING COMMENT ON ITEMS 7, 8 AND 9, ARE SHOWN BELOW UNDER ITEM 20.

DEFINITION OF ADJECTIVAL RATINGS

SUPERIOR:	All primary and secondary objectives have been achieved with a degree of proficiency significantly above the level required for successful operation in this area or doing more advanced work in training.
EXCELLENT:	All primary objectives have been achieved and most of the secondary ones at a level which would permit the individual to perform satisfactorily in this field or to complete successfully more advanced training.
SATISFACTORY:	All of the primary objectives have been met but many of the secondary goals have not. This grade range represents the level of proficiency of the average student with medium potentiality, or less, for actual operations or future training at a higher level.
POOR:	A few of the major objectives have been achieved but the student's performance is so limited that he would have difficulty in performing satisfactory work in this area or successfully completing training at a more advanced level.
FAILURE:	The individual failed to meet either the primary or the secondary objectives and represents an extremely poor risk for performing work in this area or doing advanced training.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Frederick Randall

FROM: John N. McMahon
Deputy Director for Operations

SUBJECT: Letter of Commendation

I have been advised that in connection with the Westinghouse FOIA litigation case you were a member of a team of employees who worked the weekend of 21-22 April to meet a court-imposed deadline. Your devotion to duty as demonstrated by giving of your time to process material for this case is most praiseworthy. I know this is not the first time that you have worked overtime to keep our good record. Thanks.

Frederick C. Randall

Dear Frederick,

Please accept my appreciation for an assignment well done as a member of the FY 1979 GS-13 Personnel Evaluation Board.

Your full-time service with the Board represents a major contribution to the Directorate's program of personnel assessment and management. Your recommendations for promotion, career development, and other matters have been very helpful.

I believe you will find on return to your regular duties that this time spent with the Board has broadened and sharpened your own focus on the personnel aspects of Agency management. I think it will make you appreciate more than ever our needs for carefully and candidly written appraisals of employees.

First rate [illegible] — Thank you

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chiefs of DO Staffs and Divisions

FROM: William F. Donnelly
Chief, Information Services Staff

SUBJECT: Commendation

1. On 9 March 1978, the CIA Information Review Committee took note of the excellent work done by the Directorate of Operations in processing requests under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts. The Deputy Director for Operations was present, as were other Deputy Directors.

2. I would like to add my endorsement to that of the CIA/IRC and to commend all those who were/are involved in the processing of FOIA and PA requests. Although complex and time consuming, these tasks are obligatory by federal laws. In meeting the intent of the law, a difficult balance must be achieved. On the one hand, the rights of our citizens must be respected. On the other, the obligation of the Agency to protect its sources and methods must be honored. In meeting these rights and obligations, the Directorate of Operations has handled some 16,000 requests to date. In all instances where a requester has gone to the federal courts, the DO has never lost a case based upon our exemptions for sources and methods or classification.

3. This outstanding result stems directly from the very high quality of professionalism, dedication, excellent judgements by those involved, and close cooperation within the DO. These characteristics have contributed substantially to establishing legal and administrative foundations of considerable value to the U.S. Intelligence Community. As such, I request that this commendation be placed in the official files of the individuals involved for a job well done!

MEMORANDUM FOR: Acting Chief, EA/PEMS

SUBJECT: Change of Home Base and Functional Category
Frederick C. Randall

1. The Services Staff recently forwarded to your office a personnel action requesting a change of home-base and functional category for Mr. Frederick C. Randall. This memorandum is intended to provide additional information regarding this change as requested by EA Personnel.

2. Mr. Randall was assigned to the Services Staff in February 1975 to serve as the Freedom of Information Officer for the DDO. This assignment followed approximately ten years of service with FR Division. Mr. Randall's performance since reporting to this Staff has been outstanding. He is currently responsible for a staff of 12 employees and with the increasing responsibilities as a result of the enactment of the Privacy Act it is anticipated that additional personnel will be required in order to handle the workload.

3. Mr. Randall has been responsive in the handling of FOI requests and is noted for his professionalism, tact, persuasiveness, and analytic skills. He has done an excellent job of establishing realistic manpower requirements for the Privacy and Information Coordinator Staff, keeping up with a heavy workload while training new employees and making constant adjustments as further experience is gained in the administration of the FOI and Privacy Acts.

4. It is my opinion, and also CMG's, that Mr. Randall's strengths are in a staff assignment such as his current one. Therefore, following discussions with Mr. Randall, it was agreed that his home-base and functional category should be changed from DMC to DAC.

5. If there are any additional questions concerning this change, I will be glad to discuss it further.

SUBJECT : Frederick Randall, GS-14 - Rotational Assignment - DO Division

1. The Personnel Management Committee of DO Division reviewed the assignment of Mr. Frederick Randall to DO Division in view of his request for a two year extension of his tour in DO and FE Division's request that DO Division consider changing his Home Base to DO.

2. The Acting Chief, DO Division has approved the committee's recommendation that (a) Mr. Randall remain in DO Division for an additional two years until July 1973, (b) Subject's Home Base not be changed to DO Division since DO does not normally Home Base personnel assigned to us on a rotational assignment, and in view of Mr. Randall's expressed desire for an overseas assignment following his two year extension in DO. Mr. Randall feels that his personal circumstances would permit him to accept an overseas assignment at that time.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Personnel

THROUGH : Chairman, DDO QSI and Honor and Merit Awards Panel

SUBJECT : Request for a Quality Step Increase for Mr. Frederick C. Randall, GS-14

1. On the basis of the information presented below, it is recommended that a Quality Step Increase be approved for Mr. Frederick C. Randall.

2. Mr. Randall has been employed by the Agency since September 1951. He has spent his Agency career in the Operations Directorate serving with East Asia and Foreign Resources Divisions. He has had field assignments in Jakarta and Tokyo and spent four years at FR Base, Washington.

3. In early 1975, Mr. Randall was assigned to the Services Staff to serve as the Freedom of Information Officer for the DDO. In spite of the ambiguity of evolving guidelines, constant pressure of short deadlines, a very large volume of work and the cultural trauma the Act and its implementation generated, Mr. Randall's performance has been outstanding. He is noted for his professionalism, tact, persuasiveness, analytic skills, and realistic, while tough-minded, protection of DDO sources and methods. In addition to his FOI responsibilities, Mr. Randall was just designated the Privacy Act Coordinator for the DDO. It is still too early to predict the actual work requirements as a result of this Act, but it is anticipated that Mr. Randall will meet these added responsibilities in the same exceptional manner as he has fulfilled his FOI duties.

4. Consideration has been given to the granting of an Honor and Merit Award. However, it is felt that a Quality Step Increase will provide more appropriate recognition of Mr. Randall's outstanding performance during the past seven months in a very challenging and demanding assignment.

Now that your qualifications are a matter of computer record, they must be periodically updated. This is done automatically for much information; however, some must be obtained directly from you. This form is for that purpose.

Section I must be completed in all cases. You need provide other information only if there have been changes since you submitted your Form 444j, "Qualifications Supplement to the Personal History Statement," or a previous update form.

If you are in doubt whether information has been previously submitted, enter it in the appropriate section. The signed and dated form should be returned through administrative channels to the File Room, Office of Personnel, Room 5E-13 Headquarters, whether information is added or not.

Additionally, a qualifications update may take place at any time there is information to be added or changed simply by completing and returning an update form on your initiative.

IN TURN

1. (S) I wish to commend and make a matter of record the outstanding support rendered to this organization by Mr. Frederick Randall, Area Liaison Coordinating Detachment, Tokyo, Japan, from the period of July 1963 to date. Mr. Randall served as the focal point for 6499th Support Group coordination of various collection operations in consonance with national and service directives. He was at all times most tactful and helpful, and all who came in contact with him left with the feeling that they had met a true professional.

2. (S) Mr. Randall contributed greatly to the overall morale and esprit de corps of those persons charged with the responsibility of planning for and initiating new operations to gather data of priority national aerospace interest. He handled potentially embarrassing situations with humor, dignity and aplomb. He gave freely of himself and spent many hours in assisting us in coordinating various operations, discussing the strengths and weaknesses of proposed approaches to collecting information, and in serving as a most effective go-between this headquarters and various station chiefs in other areas when operations under way were multi-national in area. We liked, trusted, and respected him.

3. (S) Mr. Randall's outstanding effectiveness as a coordinator of intelligence collections was exemplary in nature and reflected great credit upon him and his parent organization.

1. I am pleased to send to you the attached official notification of the approval of the Quality Step Increase which you recommended for this employee.

2. The salary increase accomplished by the award of a Quality Step Increase is important and tangible evidence of the esteem in which the employee so recognized is held. MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Plans

ATTENTION: DDP/OP

SUBJECT: Request for Quality Step Increase - Frederick C. Randall

1. On the basis of the information presented below, it is recommended that a quality step increase be approved for Frederick C. Randall.

2. Mr. Randall has been affiliated with this Agency since September 1951, and has been assigned to the Operational Support Staff at Tokyo since 1961. Mr. Randall's duties are: liaison with the military clandestine intelligence community; commanding officer of a principal Agency military cover unit; supervisor of the Central Registry; supervisor of the local TSD establishment; and Agency participation in a multi-agency CI Repository and an Agency-run multi-agency Central Carding facility. Mr. Randall's primary duty at the Tokyo Station is Station PBRAMPART responsibilities. These responsibilities are broad and highly important to all RAMPART relations throughout the Far East. Through Mr. Randall's intensive effort to strengthern and increase the Agency's role in the coordination of clandestine-collection activities, he has been able to set a positive pattern of effective procedures for coordination of the military services' clandestine collection operations. These procedures are now being emulated wherever possible throughout the Far East. Mr. Randall's tenacity and patience, based on solid operational field and Headquarters experience, have worked to a distinct advantage for the Agency in the RAMPART field. The Chief of Station, Tokyo has stated that the vast improvement in the local coordination business has been in large part due to Mr. Randall's exceptional ability to do a good job. Further, as a supervisor and a manager, he has quite successfully handled from 10 to 15 subordinates in the diversified functions listed above.

3. During Mr. Randall's total service at the Tokyo Station, he has demonstrated his ability and capability to carry out a variety of tasks in an exemplary manner. Mr. Randall has been in grade as a GS-13 since September 1958. He has been recommended three times for promotion to GS-14 since 1963. Due to the limited number of promotions made in this grade category, he was not selected. The Chief of Station and Chief, Far East Division request that Mr. Randall be granted a quality step increase for a long tenure of strong performance and as recognition of an outstanding job well done in his present assignment.

CONFIDENTIAL

4. As stated above, Mr. Randall has continued to perform in an exceptionally strong manner and is expected to continue for the remainder of his present and future assignments. We have considered the presentation of an Honor or Merit Award; but the Division feels that a quality step increase appears to be more appropriate in this particular case due to his extended period of time in grade without promotion. Mr. Randall is scheduled for reassignment in June 1965 and we feel the granting of a quality step increase at this time will indicate our appreciation and recognition of his excellent performance.

INTEGREE AGREEMENT

27 October, 1955
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Frederick C. Randall:

This is a memorandum of agreement between you and the United States Government in regard to your employment by CIA. It is hereby mutually agreed and understood that:

1. As an employee of CIA, at the present grade and salary of GS-12 $ 7570 per annum, you will accept cover employment in the Foreign Service effective as of 27 Oct '55. You will, insofar as consistent with your basic responsibility to CIA, abide by all the rules, regulations, practices and policies of the Foreign Service in order to appear as a conventional member of that establishment. Your appointment to the Foreign Service is being effected at the class of FSR-5 and salary of $ 6300 per annum.

2. It is understood and agreed that the minimum period of your overseas tour of duty is governed by and coincident with the prescribed tour of duty of your cover organization. Currently, your prescribed tour consists of a period of Two (2) years from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty. Your assignment may be terminated earlier for the convenience of CIA, and the length of your tour of duty, as currently specified, may be unilaterally changed by CIA in order to conform with subsequent changes in the prescribed tour of the Foreign Service. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by the Agency to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause either by the Foreign Service or CIA before you have completed the minimum period of service prescribed above from the date of arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will not be entitled to return travel or transportation for yourself or your dependents to the United States at Government expense. If you request termination of your overseas assignment solely for your own convenience, unless it is for circumstances that are considered by the Agency to be beyond your control or if you are terminated for cause either by the Foreign Service or CIA before you have completed one (1) year of service from the date of your arrival at your overseas post of duty, you will be required to reimburse the Government for all its expenses for your travel and transportation, and that of your dependents, from the continental United States to such overseas post of duty.

3. Travel to your post of duty overseas and your return travel to the United States, as well as travel performed overseas which is consistent with your cover designation, will normally be at the direction of the Foreign Service. Such travel will be accomplished in conformance with applicable regulations of the Foreign Service except when you are directed for operational reasons to perform travel in accordance with CIA regulations.

4. You are entitled by this agreement to the payment of a post differential and allowances, based upon your CIA or Foreign Service salary rate, whichever is greater. Payment of your salary, post differential and allowances by the Foreign Service will be full compensation for your services when the total amount is equal to or greater than that payable by CIA. Otherwise, the balance will be paid directly to you by CIA in a manner designated by you in writing and acceptable to CIA. The schedule of allowances applicable to your grade (CIA and Foreign Service) and post of duty are subject to unilateral adjustment by the Government.

5. Your status as a CIA employee will continue in full force and effect during your period of duty with the Foreign Service, and you will continue to be entitled to all rights, benefits, and emoluments of such status. Certain variations in procedure will be required, however, to preserve the security of your cover position.

a. All annual and sick leave which will have accrued to your credit at the time of integration into the Foreign Service will be held by CIA pending your transfer from the Foreign Service to CIA. While assigned to the Foreign Service you will be permitted annual leave, sick leave, statutory leave, and leave without pay in accordance with the regulations of that organization. Upon completion of your integration in the Foreign Service your accrued leave will normally be transferred to your credit with CIA. If security conditions require that you be given a lump-sum payment for accrued annual leave, you will be required to pay the gross amount of any such lump-sum payment to the CIA at the time of your reinstatement including any withholding tax deducted by the Foreign Service.

b. Upon your integration in the Foreign Service, you will continue to be covered by the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, as amended, and you will be subject to payroll deductions for retirement purposes (now six percent).

6. If the CIA considers it undesirable for you to continue the use of your Foreign Service cover, your services will be utilized whenever possible in some other appropriate capacity as designated by CIA, unless the circumstances are such as to warrant your termination for cause.

7. Consistent with your cover activity, you will continue to be responsible for compliance with CIA rules and regulations.

8. Authorized instructions which you receive from CIA in briefing, training, or in any other way are a part of this memorandum of agreement and are incorporated herein to the extent that such instructions are not inconsistent with the terms hereof.

9. You are not assured upon the completion of your period of duty with the Foreign Service of any status with the Foreign Service based on your services performed with that organization at the request of CIA.

10. You will be required to keep forever secret this agreement and all other information which you may obtain by reason hereof, unless you are released in writing by CIA from this obligation. Violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the espionage law, dated 25 June 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations. The termination of your employment with CIA will not release you from the obligations of any security oath you may be required to take.

11. For your information, a schedule of the allowances currently applicable for an employee of your grade (CIA and Foreign Service) and post of duty is enclosed.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPOINTING OFFICER

The appointing officer before whom the foregoing certificate is made shall determine to his own satisfaction that this appointment would be in conformance with the Civil Service Act, applicable Civil Service Rules and Regulations and acts of Congress pertaining to appointment.

This form should be checked for holding of office, pension, suitability in connection with any record of recent discharge or arrest, and particularly for the following:

(1) Identity of appointee.—It is the duty of the appointing officer to guard against impersonation and to determine beyond reasonable doubt that the appointee is the same person whose appointment was authorized. The appointee's signature and handwriting are to be compared with the application and/or other pertinent papers. If the appointee qualified in a written examination, the signature on this form should be compared with the signature on the declaration sheet, which was signed in the examination room. His physical appearance may be checked against the medical certificate. The appointee may also be questioned on his personal history for agreement with his previous statements.

(2) Age.—If definite age limits have been established for the position, it should be determined that applicant is not outside the age range for appointment. Until such determination is made, the appointment may not be consummated.

(3) Citizenship. The appointing officer is responsible for observing the citizenship provisions of (1) the Civil Service Rules and (2) appropriation acts. Form 61 constitutes an affidavit for both purposes and is acceptable proof of citizenship status in the absence of conflicting evidence. In doubtful cases the appointment should not be consummated until clearance has been secured from the certifying office of the Civil Service Commission.

(4) Members of Family.—Section 9 of the Civil Service Act provides that whenever there are already two or more members of a family serving under probational or permanent appointment in the competitive service, no other member of such family is eligible for probational or permanent appointment in the competitive service. The appointments of persons entitled to veteran preference are not subject to this requirement. The members-of-family provision does not apply to temporary appointments. Doubtful cases may be referred to the appropriate office of the Civil Service Commission for decision.

MAY 21 5 17 PM '65

In the period April to December 1964, Subject was the Chief of JMWAVE's Paramilitary Branch. In this capacity he was charged with the responsibility of mounting successful paramilitary operations into a denied area. Subject met his responsibilities in an exemplary manner and his Branch did mount successful operations into PBRUMEN in which intelligence was collected, resistance nuclei were establised in the rural areas of PBRUMEN, and in- and exfiltration routes were developed whereby supplies and men could be moved in and out of PBRUMEN. In addition, his Branch maintained a UDT and a Commando unit in a high state of combat readiness. The UDT and Commando units were not used operationally in their specialties because of policy prohibitions against committing them against the PBRUMEN target; however, they were available to meet contingency situations. Subject's performance as a Branch Chief was characterized by drive, dedication, reliability, imagination, and the use of sound first-echelon management techniques. Subject is realistic and effective in delegating authority and responsibility to his subordinates. Subject has the ability to weld into a cohesive unit a diverse group of men who are Staff agents, Career Agents, Contract Employees, and military personnel on detail to KUBARK. This quality of leadership developed sound principles of team work in the PM Branch and made it easy for the Branch to coordinate its activities with the programs of the other Branches in a Station that has over 300 employees and is engaged in (continued)

FI, CI, PW, PM, Maritime, Air, and [redacted] operations. Subject is cost-conscious and effective in the use of space and equipment.

In the period January to March 1965, Subject filled the role of Special Assistant to the Chief of Station JMWAVE and, as such, was the operational supervisor for the establishment of a frame of reference in which a counter-insurgency program could be developed and implemented in Peru. In this phase of his activities, Subject's work had the hallmark of sound professionalism and reflected favorably on Subject's judgment, Spanish language fluency, area knowledge, and dedication to duty.

The totality of the information outlined above leads the Rating Officer to conclude that Subject's over-all performance warrants an evaluation of Strong.

Subject is a flexible, broad-gauged officer who has experience in depth in FI, CI, PW, PM and Maritime operations. In addition, he has a proven record of sustained performance whereby he has established that he can be counted on to do the job in less than allowable time limits. In view of these factors, it is believed that Subject is a valuable asset to his career service and, as such, can meet the long-term needs of his service in Latin America or other Spanish-speaking areas.

Continuation Sheet/FITNESS REPORT - Section C:

Subject is a dedicated officer who has proven by performance that he can be counted on to get the job done in less than allowable time limits. Subject is a sound first-echelon supervisor of a group doing a basic paramilitary job. Subject has the ability to develop a sense of teamwork in a diverse group of employees. It is believed that this leadership trait is particularly significant in that Subject has judiciously blended the talents of staff agents, career agents, contract employees, Army officers and Navy personnel into a cohesive, effective group which has been able to mount successful resistance, ratline, cache, UDT, and commando operations against an insular denied area target. Subject is cost conscious and effective in the use of space, equipment, and funds. Subject has been able to keep his agent assets in a high state of combat readiness despite shifts in policy which have placed the UDT, sabotage and commando raider operations in a high state of flux. This ability to manage agent assets under conditions of severe frustration is a tribute to Subject's area knowledge and an understanding of the psychology and mores of his agent material. Subject delegates authority and has control over the paper flow in his Branch. Subject has a fine appreciation for positive intelligence collection techniques and he has been able to relate those techniques to his PM operations so that an intelligence product of quality has been developed on the rural areas of the target country. As a result of the totality of Subject's performance during the period covered by this report, his over-all performance warrants an evaluation of Strong.

Subject has Spanish language fluency, operational experience, area knowledge and drive. Armed with those tools, Subject is capable of meeting the long-term needs of his career service in Spanish-speaking operational areas where there is a need for first-echelon supervisors. Subject is at his best in agent handling situations and in view of this in the future, it is believed that he should be used in Latin America under commercial cover to run and/or manage appropriate FI, CI, or PM projects.

At the completion of his current assignment, Subject should attend an advanced management course.

Amplify or explain ratings given in Section B to provide best basis for determining future personnel action. Manner of performance of managerial or supervisory duties must be described, if applicable.

Subject is a hard working, dedicated officer who has an unusual amount of drive. Subject is a distinct asset to the Station. In the period covered by this Fitness Report, Subject has worked in a persevering manner toward the goal of making the Station's PM operations responsive to the realities of a target area which moved in twelve months time from a soft free world operational climate to a classical hard Soviet Bloc-denied area climate. Subject has had to accomplish his PM mission under the adverse circumstances of having to do a current job in response to strong pressures for immediate production while simultaneously cleaning up an operational backlog which was inherited from predecessor projects. Additionally Subject had to project his PM plans into the future against a predictable operational climate in which only the most rigid application of sound PM techniques would enable the Station to continue operations against the target with either PM infiltration teams or commando raider units. Subject accomplished these multiple tasks despite the reluctance of the agent material from the target area to accept the rigid discipline and dedication which was required.

Subject was able to accomplish his PM mission by the use of sound operational concepts and principles, the delegation of authority, and the proper use of management techniques. Subject has an appreciation for intelligence and has harnessed his PM assets to provide valuable bread and butter type coverage on the rural areas of the target.

Subject is at his best in agent handling situations. He uses his Spanish language fluency, experience, and area knowledge to the maximum extent possible in order to develop assets for KUBARK operational exploitation. On balance, therefore, it is believed that Subject's overall performance over the period covered by this Fitness Report warrants an evaluation of "Strong".

At the completion of his current assignment Subject might benefit from participation in an advanced management course.

In the future Subject should be used in unofficial cover positions in Latin America. Subject is a natural for this type of an assignment due to his drive, self discipline, experience, language fluency, and skin color.

Although designated as Chief of Operations, WAVE, during the entire period that Mr [redacted] has been under my supervision he has been occupied with a highly sensitive special operation controlled by Hqs, and has not been able to execute his normal duties. I have been able to closely observe his work, and can more than attest to tremendous drive and energy and this all-around professional capability, attested to in previous fitness reports. Mr. [redacted] is a truly exceptional operations officer and is best utilized in that role, rather than in an administrative or supervisory capacity, although his own administrative responsibilities are always well handled. Perhaps his greatest contribution to the Station during the reporting period has been his vast background and knowledge of the complex PBRUMEN picture which he cheerfully and unstintingly makes available to all Station officers, many of whom are without previous WHD experience.

Subject is the finest all-around ops officer I have ever known. Primarily he is a man of action who knows what has to be done, and goes about doing it. He is a tireless, dedicated worker who puts duty before any personal considerations. He has imagination coupled with good common sense and sound operational judgment. He is steady and cool during emergency situations. He has worked under constant strain and pressure over periods of several months without cracking or losing his sense of humor. He has strong leadership qualities, inspires confidence and loyalty in those he works for and with. He is especially effective in getting the most out of indigenous agents. He has exhibited great personal courage. He was respected by the Embassy officers and representatives of other agencies with whom he was in contact. He speaks Spanish fluently and is thoroughly conversant with Latin psychology. His operational and intelligence reporting, though not always polished products, are complete and lucid. He has a great capacity for work. He has the potential for assuming greater responsibility and for advancement in the Agency.

During the period under review Subject was in charge of PM activities at the Havana Station, and his performance of duties during this critical, tense period was outstanding.

SECTION E — NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF MANNER OF JOB PERFORMANCE

Stress strengths and weaknesses demonstrated in current position. Indicate suggestions made to employee for improvement of his work. Give recommendations for his training. Describe, if appropriate, his potential for development and for assuming greater responsibilities. Amplify or explain, if appropriate, ratings given in SECTIONS B, C, and D to provide the best basis for determining future personnel actions.

Speaking operationally, Mr. Morales is a one-man gang. His work is of the highest order, quantitatively and qualitatively. The JMWAVE operation being what it is, all officers should be versatile. This Mr. Morales is. His titles -- first, Chief, CI, and more recently Chief of the combined CI-FI Section -- do not even suggest the breadth of his activities. They take in denied area intelligence collection operations, the organization, training and management of a counter-intelligence apparatus and allied groups totalling over 300 people, sabotage and resistance ops, maritime ops, political action, propaganda and a great number of miscellaneous activities that defy classification, e.g., taking over and running a fast-moving PM recruitment program without loss of tempo when politics caused the breakdown of the normal recruitment machinery, setting up a Red Cross type service for queries from the trainees in camp.

For sustained effort, Mr. Morales has few peers. With his drive, imagination and good judgment he sets a fine example for the people who work with him, whether they find themselves under, alongside or above him in the organizational hierarchy.

SUBJECT : [redacted] - Promotion

Morales, David S,

1. [redacted] has been in the vortex of Cuban field operations for the past four and one-half years and has developed into a senior operations officer with outstanding abilities, experience and professional stature.

2. During the past two major operational efforts against Cuba he has proven himself to be a superior agent handler with ready access to members of the exile community and ability to start and run operations which produced valuable intelligence. His background knowledge of the area has been invaluable to the JMWAVE Station operators and his tireless efforts and willingness to devote long hours to his work have set an example which others have been compelled to follow.

3. Regardless of [redacted]'s time in grade he is of that senior officer caliber fully deserving of and ready to assume the responsibilities of the next higher grade. [redacted] has displayed outstanding performance in FI, CI and PM operations and has the potential to fill a wide variety of senior operational assignments.

4. In view of the foregoing I strongly recommend the promotion of [redacted] from GS-14 to GS-15. I have discussed this action with the Chief of Station, JMWAVE, and he endorses my view that [redacted] fully merits advancement to the next higher grade at this time.

[redacted] Morales, David S.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

In view of your contemplated covert assignment you have been designated a Staff Agent. The purpose of this Supplement is to call your attention to certain of the items which are particularly pertinent to you while you are so designated and to set forth certain rights and obligations incident to your status as an appointed employee.

1. Payroll Administration. As indicated in your Staff Agent Personnel Action, your present salary and grade are $ 12,210.00 per annum and GS-14[1] respectively. As an appointed employee of the Government you are entitled to receive and retain only the salary, allowances and other benefits applicable to that status. However, certain procedural variations will be followed to preserve the security of your cover position:

(a) The gross emoluments that you receive from your cover activities will be retained by you as an offset against the gross emoluments due you from this organization. If cover emoluments ever exceed those due you from this organization, the overage is to be remitted to this organization on a monthly basis, unless a different period is specified.

(b) Your Federal income taxes will be withheld and reported in conformance with R 20-661 or any subsequent regulations or procedures promulgated by this organization. For your information, this organization shall withhold from the gross payments due you Federal income taxes in an amount which, when added to the income taxes withheld by your cover facility, will equal the tax withholdings normally made from your gross taxable compensation with this organization. Taxes will be withheld from the differential due you by this organization. If there is no differential or if it is insufficient, you will be required to make tax remittances in conformance with HB 20-661-1.

(c) This organization will deduct from the gross payments due you an amount equivalent to six and one-half per cent (6 1/2%) of your gross salary for contribution to the Civil Service Retirement Fund. This amount will be deducted from the differential due you by this organization. If there is no differential or if it is insufficient, you will be required to make direct remittances to this organization in satisfaction of the required contributions. The Agency will not reimburse you for mandatory social security deductions required by virtue of your cover employment.

2. Place of Assignment. This Supplement is predicated upon a current PCS assignment under non-Governmental cover. Any deviation therefrom will require a new Supplement or an amendment hereto.

3. Secrecy. You will be required to keep forever secret this Supplement and all information which you may obtain by reason hereof (unless released in writing by the U. S. Government from such obligation) with full knowledge that violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Laws, [illegible] 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations.

Attached is a draft of an amendment on TICHBORN. Note memo of request asks for an increase in basic fee from $12,000 to $17,000 based on TICHBORN's "overall performance and full time services". ~~This~~

Additional memoranda in file reflect the following:

(1) 19 May 1961 contract (still in effect) provided a basic fee of $8000 with no mention of amount of time subject worked to earn such.

(2) WH memo of 18 June 63 asked a pay increase from $8000 to $9,000 based upon, "manner of TICHBORN's performance and the increase amt. of time which he devotes to Agency requirements".

(3) WH dispatch of 9 Nov 64 said that, "Hqs agrees that present expiring contract called for about 2/3rds subject's time---TICHBORN pointed out.... he now engaged 90% of his time for Agency".

(4) WH memo of 24 Nov 64 requested an increase from $9000 to $12,000 based upon TICHBORN's increased value plus "using TICHBORN's service on substantially a full time basis".

(5) As cited above, current WH memo of 7 Oct 66 asks for an increase of [illegible] from $12,000 to $17,000 based on subject's "overall performance and full time services".

I pointed out the above chrono with respect to the ever increasing usage of subject's time to Henehan who apparently feels the last memo is OK unless CPD desires to make a formal objection and return it.

Mr. [redacted]

Dear Mr. [redacted]:

Reference is made to your current contract with the United States Government, as represented by the Contracting Officer.

Arrangements have been recently completed allowing certain independent contractors of this organization to obtain social security credits by covering such individuals under the social security tax provisions applicable to employees. These arrangements also include a provision for retroactive applicability to the beginning of the 1965 tax year. This can be done only for reasons of security since the procedure results in reducing the social security tax from the self-employed rate to the employee rate. For example, in January of 1965 the tax rates were 5.4% and 3-5/8% respectively.

As a consequence thereof, said contract is amended by deleting all reference to social security and by adding the following paragraph:

"Effective 1 December 1964, social security taxes will be covertly deducted by this organization from your compensation in the same manner and to the same extent as would be done if you were a Government employee. Security reasons make this procedure necessary. Its implementation does not imply in any manner the actual creation of an employee-employer relationship. Your legal status under this agreement continues to be that of an independent contractor."

If you receive or expect to receive full or partial social security credits from overt sources you will so notify this organization and an adjustment will be made or covert deductions discontinued, depending upon the circumstances. Further, if you should subsequently receive overt social security credits, evidence thereof will be submitted to this organization. In such event your covert credits will be erased and your covert deductions returned.

All other terms and conditions of said contract remain in full force and effect.

TICHBORN, Edward O.

WITHHOLDING EXEMPTIONS

INSTRUCTIONS

1. NUMBER OF EXEMPTIONS.--Do not claim more than the correct number of exemptions. However, if you expect to owe more income tax for the year than will be withheld if you claim every exemption to which you are entitled, you may increase the withholding by claiming a smaller number of exemptions.

2. CHANGES IN EXEMPTIONS.--You may file a new certificate at any time if the number of your exemptions INCREASES.

You must file a new certificate within 10 days if the number of exemptions previously claimed by you DECREASES for any of the following reasons:

(a) Your wife (or husband) for whom you have been claiming exemption is divorced or legally separated, or claims her (or his) own exemption on a separate certificate.

(b) The support of a dependent for whom you claimed exemption is taken over by someone else, so that you no longer expect to furnish more than half the support for the year.

(c) You find that a dependent for whom you claimed exemption will receive $600 or more of income of his own during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age).

OTHER DECREASES in exemption, such as the death of a wife or a dependent, do not affect your withholding until the next year, but require the filing of a new certificate by December 1 of the year in which they occur.

For further information about changes in exemption status resulting from marriage, divorce, legal separation, birth, death, new dependents, multiple-support agreements, old age, blindness, etc., consult your local District Director of Internal Revenue or your employer.

3. DEPENDENTS.--To qualify as your dependent (line 4 below), a person (a) must receive more than one-half of his or her support from you for the year, and (b) must have less than $600 gross income during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age), and (c) must not be claimed as an exemption by such person's husband or wife, and (d) must be a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, and (e) must (1) have your home as his principal residence and be a member of your household for the entire year, or (2) be related to you as follows:

Your son or daughter (including legally adopted children), grandchild, stepson, stepdaughter, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law;
Your father, mother, grandparent, stepfather, stepmother, father-in-law, or mother-in-law;
Your brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, half brother, half sister, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law;
Your uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece (but only if related by blood).

4. PENALTIES.--Penalties are imposed for willfully supplying false information or willful failure to supply information which would reduce the withholding exemption.

1. If SINGLE, and you claim an exemption, write the figure "1" . . . . ____

2. If MARRIED, one exemption each for husband and wife if not claimed on another certificate.
   (a) If you claim both of these exemptions, write the figure "2"
   (b) If you claim one of these exemptions, write the figure "1" 2
   (c) If you claim neither of these exemptions, write "0"

3. Exemptions for age and blindness (applicable only to you and your wife but not to dependents):
   (a) If you or your wife will be 65 years of age or older at the end of the year, and you claim this exemption, write the figure "1"; if both will be 65 or older, and you claim both of these exemptions, write the figure "2". ____

Dear Mr. Tichborn:

Reference is made to your contract with the United States Government, as represented by the Contracting Officer, effective 15 October 1959, as amended. Effective 18 May 1961, said contract is hereby terminated by mutual consent of the parties hereto and in lieu thereof the following is substituted.

The United States Government, as represented by the Contracting Officer, hereby contracts with you as an independent contractor for the submission of certain information and related services of a confidential nature under the following terms and conditions:

1. Compensation. In full consideration for the submission of such information and services, you will be paid an amount calculated at the rate of $8000 per annum. Payments will be made as directed by you in writing in a manner acceptable to the Government. Monies paid you by the Government under this paragraph constitute income for Federal tax purposes. You will be advised as to the method to be followed in reporting and paying such taxes. The method as well as the procedures used by this organization to implement its tax reporting responsibilities will be based primarily upon cover and security requirements. You herein authorize this organization to withhold taxes on said income if it determines such requirements so necessitate.

2. Travel and Operational Expenses. You will be advanced or reimbursed funds incurred in connection with such operational travel as may be directed or authorized by the Government. This may include per diem in lieu of subsistence in the course of such travel and while on temporary duty away from your permanent post of assignment. In addition, you will be advanced or reimbursed funds for necessary operational expenses as specifically approved by the Government. Payment and accounting for all expenses incurred hereunder will be in substantial conformance with applicable Government regulations.

3. Repayment. It is recognized that your failure to account for or refund any monies advanced you hereunder shall entitle the Government to withhold the total amount of such indebtedness or any portion thereof from any monies due you under the terms of this contract in such manner as it deems appropriate.

4. Funding. If necessary to protect the security of this arrangement, monies due you hereunder may be funded in other than a direct manner. It is understood and agreed that any monies so funded constitute payment by the Government in satisfaction of its obligations under this agreement.

5. Execution of Documents. If, in the performance of services under this contract, you assume the custody of Government funds or take title of record to property of any nature whatsoever and wherever situate, which property has in fact been purchased with monies of the U. S. Government, you hereby recognize and acknowledge the existence of a trust relationship, either express or constructive, and you agree to execute whatever documents may be required by the Government to evidence this relationship.

6. Status. You are not an employee of the United States Government under this agreement and are not entitled to any benefits normally incident to an employee status.

7. Instructions. Instructions received by you from the Government in briefing, training or otherwise are a part of this contract and are incorporated herein, provided that such instructions are not inconsistent with the terms hereof.

8. Unauthorized Commitments. No promises or commitments pertaining to rights, privileges or benefits other than those expressly stipulated in writing in this agreement or any amendment thereto shall be binding on the Government.

9. Secrecy. You will be required to keep forever secret this contract and all information which you may obtain by reason hereof (unless released in writing by the Government from such obligation), with full knowledge that violation of such secrecy may subject you to criminal prosecution under the Espionage Laws, dated 25 June 1948, as amended, and other applicable laws and regulations.

10. Term. This contract is effective as of 19 May 1961, and shall continue thereafter for a period of two (2) years unless sooner terminated either:

(a) By thirty (30) days' actual notice by either party hereto, or

(b) Without prior notice by the Government, in the event of a breach of this contract by your violation of the security provisions hereof or by your otherwise rendering yourself unavailable for acceptable service.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Edward G. Tichborn (P) - Hernia

1. On 1 February Edward G. Tichborn advised me that in lifting his bag out of a taxi on his return trip from Cuba, he suddenly felt a pain in the groin and was afraid that he had a hernia.

2. On the way to the airport he asked me if there would be any chance of the Government picking up his medical expenses in the event that he actually had a hernia which required any substantial treatment. I told him at that time that I did not know what the Government's position would be, but that I would check into the matter and let him know.

3. On 2 February, I contacted Mr. Vernon Turner, SIA/DDS, and explained the circumstances to him. At that time, I also pointed out that as far as the provisions of his contract were concerned, it was stated that he was not an employee of the U. S. Government and while it did not make specific reference to medical payments while he was working for us, it did not specifically preclude such payments. Mr. Turner opined that although the contract stated he was not an employee of the U. S. Government, in actual fact during the period he was doing our bidding, he was. I went on further to explain to Mr. Turner that in all probability we will call on Tichborn to do future services for us and that while he was being paid, it was doubtful that this reimbursement from us equaled what he would make in his regular law practice. Mr. Turner stated that there were a number of ways that we could alleviate his situation should it become necessary.

Misunderstanding. I said the facts of a case - not the words in a paper would probably be the basis for determination of employee status. If we wish to pay in this case a contractual payment - not necessarily related to medical problem - would probably be best solution. V.T.

4. The conclusion reached between me and Mr. Turner was that I should point out to Tichborn that we were under no obligation to recompense him for his injury; however, that upon the completion of treatment if he would submit a claim, we should be glad to review it sympathetically.

5. I passed the gist of the above on to Tichborn on 3 February.

SECTION E NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF MANNER OF JOB PERFORMANCE

Stress strengths and weaknesses demonstrated in current position. Indicate suggestions made to employee for improvement of his work. Give recommendations for his training. Describe, if appropriate, his potential for development and for assuming greater responsibilities. Amplify or explain, if appropriate, ratings given in SECTIONS B, C, and D to provide the best basis for determining future personnel actions.

This officer is willing, and has become much more effective and sure of himself during the past year. He is an excellent photographer and this with his increasing resourcefulness in support of operations, has resulted in some unusually good work of the ops support type.

This officer has a pleasant personality, is well liked, gets along well with his fellow employees, works overtime without question, and is well adjusted to overseas life in Mexico. The Station is very pleased to have him for another tour as he is most definitely a part of our operational capabilities.

[redacted] was commended by COS, Mexico in January 1961 and a review of this file should include a review of HMMT-1798 dated 12 January 1961.

SECTION E — NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF MANNER OF JOB PERFORMANCE

Stress strengths and weaknesses demonstrated in current position. Indicate suggestions made to employee for improvement of his work. Give recommendations for his training. Describe, if appropriate, his potential for development and for assuming greater responsibilities. Amplify or explain, if appropriate, ratings given in SECTIONS B, C, and D to provide the best basis for determining future personnel actions.

SUBJECT'S KNOWLEDGE OF PHOTOGRAPHY IS INCREASING AT A STEADY PACE. HE IS VERY ATTENTIVE TO HIS ON-THE-JOB TRAINING AND APPLIES IT VERY WELL. CONSIDERABLE INITIATIVE HAS BEEN SHOWN BY LEARNING NEW METHODS AND TECHNIQUES. THIS IS PARTLY DUE TO THE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE, IN PHOTOGRAPHY, IN WHICH HE IS CURRENTLY ENGAGED.

SUBJECT LACKS SOME CONFIDENCE IN HIS ABILITY TO PRODUCE PHOTOGRAPHIC PRINTS, HOWEVER, IT IS FELT BY THE RATER THAT THIS IS DUE TO HIS LIMITED EXPERIENCE IN DARKROOM TECHNIQUES AND PROCEDURES. THE RATER FEELS CONFIDENT THAT SUBJECT WILL OVERCOME THIS LACK OF CONFIDENCE SOON.
